An Old Song Ended.

By Alfred Noyes.
(Another Version.)
How should I your true love know,
From another one—
By his cockle-hat and staff,
And his sandal shoe—

Wherefore hath he roamed so far,
Lady, from your hand?
Love's a pilgrim, and he comes
Out of Holy Land—

Nay, but he is dead, lady,
He is dead and gone!
Seek his grave and lay your face
Down upon the stone—

Shall I find him if he sleep
In a nameless grave,
Where over many a many an one
The tall wet grasses wave?

Breathe my name whereas you go,
If you hear a sound
Struggling like a stifled cry
Underneath the ground.

Whisper but a word to him,
Tell him my despair,
Is he risen from the dead,
Then my love is there—

—From The Nation.

A Profitable Vacation.

The New York Evening Post tells at some length the story of how three women spent a pleasant and profitable vacation this summer among the grape vines and leafy fields of the children of a Massachusetts village not far from Salem.

Two of the women were school teachers, devoted to their profession, and it was purely as a pastime that they photographed and made studies of the objects of interest in the village.

The third woman, a well-known New England village, are noted for their picturesque surroundings, and a plenty of good subjects fell in the way of the three camera devotees.

During pleasant morning rambles many a snapshot was got of sights and scenes worth preservation.

Going into Salem to have her plates developed and printed, one of the women was offered a good price by a dealer for her photo collection, which he declared would make an artistic set of picture post cards.

The offer was promptly accepted, and the success of their amateur efforts set the women thinking. Why not make a trip thru spots of romantic and picturesque interest and make a really unique collection of photos? One woman had long been anxious to give the pupils of her history class a series of slides, and she was showing them the views of those places most important in their studies. This would be the very opportunity for such an expedition, and the question of expense would be solved by the fact that it could be made pay for itself.

Accordingly a provisional agreement was entered into with the dealer, and a trip taken by the three women thru the most romantic and picturesque spots of New England. Not only were its results eminently valuable to the antiquary, but it was a really profitable one. The historical pilgrimage covered Lexington, Concord and other similar scenes of interest, and the post cards were sold at six-for-a-quarter, which yielded an excellent profit.

Many things were discovered by the enterprising girls on their tour, and it was that there is a really splendid opening for women, particularly in the department of "home" photography.

All thru the richer parts of the States, wealthy residents were found only too anxious to pay for pictures artistically taken of their homes, pets and family groups round the fireside or on the piazzas of country houses. In the same way entertainments could be photographed with immediate profit, and the thing is not done more frequently and more successfully.

A Woman Lawyer.

Miss Geraldine B. Robinson of St. Thomas was yesterday sworn in by Justice Magee as a barrister. Miss Robinson, who is Ontario's third young lady barrister, is the daughter of the late Mr. J. A. Robinson of St. Thomas, the well-known lawyer. She is connected with a law firm in that city, and for the last five years has attended law school. The field of her labors will be St. Thomas.

Purple Hats.

Lady Duff Gordon, the titled modiste, is quoted by a contemporary as saying that the woman who wants to be tremendously smart must have at least one purple hat for fall wear. Moreover, trimmings, pins and buckles are essential. Brads are all put on in square patterns, in accordance with these ideas, and even hat pins are all Japanese or oriental in style.

The same authority is quoted for the statement that all evening and dress girdles must be in sash style, with long streamers at the back, falling almost to the hem of the skirt. Seed pearls form a fringe, and sashes are frequently sequined, or finished with gold tassels and fringe.

Altho this precious fur is dearer than ever this year, it is to be very widely worn by folks who can afford it. Perhaps it is the beautiful effect on velvet which is now so popular that has brought chinchilla so much in vogue. However that may be, it is the fur of the moment, and will be seen in trimmings as well as for muffs and wraps.

PERSONAL.

It is an absolute fact, according to statistics, that there are more Torontonians leaving Toronto every year and crossing to England and the continent, both for pleasure and business, than any other city of its size in America. Canadians as a rule, according to the books of several of the city agents, insist on the better class of boats, and are willing to pay big rates to get the best accommodation. On the Unadun Line's new big turbine steamer Lusitania, the largest and finest in the world, the following Torontonians are booked to sail, and it is not only a compliment to the line, but a credit to the city that such a large and representative crowd should be on the first trip of this steamer out of New York: Hon. Lyman Melvin-Jones, Mr. and Mrs. C. Eaton, Dr. A. A. and Mrs. Beatty, Wm. Doble and wife, John Harper, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Barker, J. J. Vaughan, John McGillivray, Master Timothy Eaton and nurse, A. E. Booth, Norman Bolton, C. F. Prudhomme, C. A. Lintrum, Mr. Porteous, E. A. McMurtry, C. N. Eccleston, H. W. Austin, F. Bethel, F. P. Kadlecik, H. Flower, E. J. Tilbury, James Cornish, Robert Gillett, R. McElwaine.

Mr. and Mrs. William Soper have returned from a twelve months' absence on the south coast of England, where they have been in the hope of benefiting Mr. Soper's health. He is not much improved, but they are staying with Mr. Soper's brother-in-law, A. J. Craig, 1357 West King-street.

The R.C.Y.C. Ladies' Bowling Club met at the clubhouse on Friday morning at 11 o'clock for the final and most important event of their season, when the prizes were distributed to the winners in the tournament. The following ladies were successful:

On Thursday evening a very pretty wedding took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Haworth, 13 Maple-avenue, Rosedale, when their daughter, Florence Elliot, was married to Mr. Henry Theodore Whittemore of Calgary. The Rev. H. Francis Perry, D.D., of Jarvis-street Baptist Church, officiated. The bride, who was given away by her brother, was dressed in a gown of lace with bell and orange blossoms and carried a shower bouquet of roses and lilies of the valley. Her bridesmaid, Miss Jennie Doane, was dressed in a gown of pink striped muslin and carried pink roses. Miss Hazel Hudson was flower girl, in a lace frock with pink ribbons and a basket of sweet peas. Master Ralph Hudson, in a page's suit of white, also attended the bride, while Mr. Frank Whittemore supported the groom. After the reception Mr. and Mrs. Whittemore left for a short journey and will be in Toronto before leaving finally for Calgary.

BABY'S DANGER.

More little lives are lost during the hot weather months than at any other time of the year. In the summer months little ones are the victims of diarrhoea, cholera infantum, dysentery and stomach troubles. These come suddenly and without warning, and give promptly the short delay may mean death. During the hot weather months Baby's Own Tablets should be kept in every home where there is a young child. An occasional use of the Tablets will prevent stomach and bowel troubles. Or if the trouble comes unawares a prompt use of this medicine will bring the child through safely. Mrs. J. Renard, New Glasgow, Que., says: "I cannot speak too highly of Baby's Own Tablets. One of my children had a severe attack of diarrhoea which the Tablets promptly cured." Sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

MR. GEORGE WILL NOT RUN.

W. R. George denies most emphatically the rumor that he had any intention of running for the mayoralty.

in that house during the entire season.

Miss Cahill added another feature to her production, which was a great element to her tremendous success; she has produced a musical play.

The biou circus, known as the Lo-wande Wilson Shows, is proving to be a good attraction at Scarborough. Instead of being presented under canvas, the many acts of the circus are given on an elevated stage in full view of all visitors to the park. The show embraces every feature usually found in a high-class circus. The well-educated ponies and the troupe of highly-trained dogs are proving the delight of the younger visitors this week. The serial act by Mlle. Lo-wande is excellent. The equestrian dogs, who jump thru hoops, over banners and from the floor to the back of a pony going at full speed around the ring, are especially noteworthy. Another popular act at the beach this week is that of the Marriott Twins, who do some marvelous juggling with bicycles and bicycle riders.

The committee in charge of the Toronto Conservatory Symphony Orchestra has issued a circular announcing the concert for the coming season.

It is proposed to give two concerts this season, one in December and the other in April. Subscriptions for the same are invited. The conductor, F. S. Weisman, has selected for performance, amongst other attractive works, Beethoven's Second Symphony, Schumann's "Ruritanne" overture, Mendelssohn's "Midsummer Night's Dream" overture, Schumann's second Entr'acte to Rosamunde, and possibly Nicolai's overture, "The Merry Wives of Windsor."

The executive committee are: Dr. Edward Fisher, chairman; George Edward Sears, Dr. A. S. Vogt, F. A. Moore, H. C. Cox, W. Murray Alexander, J. D. A. Tripp, F. E. Blackford, R. S. Pigott, T. Bilton, S. T. Church, hon. secretary; H. J. Bohme, hon. secretary.

The orchestra will have about 60 members, of whom 55 have already joined.

The initial performance of "Since Nellie Went Away," a rural drama by Owen Davis, will be given at the Maritime next week. A. H. Woods, who has this production in charge, has spared neither expense nor personal efforts to insure the accuracy of the eye-thru-the-12-scenes making up the four acts.

The reproduction of the life-saving station on the Connecticut coast and the thrilling incidents according to a rescue by the life-savers during a sea storm of fearful realism, are calculated to rouse and sustain the interest of the most blasé tragedist. Nellie, the beautiful, unsophisticated heroine, is, of course, of paramount interest, and it is in the delightfully natural delineation of this character that the playwright's art is made apparent. The spectator follows the course of her love story with unabated eagerness and hearty relish, while the last scene shows her secure in the safe haven of her husband's paternal home.

Gabriel Farley, Nellie's constant, if hopeless, lover, wins a sympathy second only to that felt for the heroine herself, and it is in a large measure due to his unselfish devotion that the drama reaches its happy climax.

Thruout even the serious scenes there runs a vein of clean, bright comedy that prevents the heart-breaking occurrences from assuming too sombre a hue.

"Patsy in Politics" comes to the Grand Opera next week, and of course Billy B. Van plays Patsy Bolivar. Who else could play it? As everyone knows, Patsy is Van and Van is the original and only Billy.

This comedian has a personality and a personal bunch of mannerisms that will set an audience laughing even if there isn't a funny line or funny situation to back them up. He is one of the finest types of the natural-born comedian now on the stage, and as long as public favour is in his favor, Billy B. Van is "always on the job." But there is more to the show than the red-shocked Patsy, altho the moral is shown in his act. A large, competent company presents the piece, an extensive production environment, and pretty girls, handsome costumes, and musical numbers introduce a bunch of that life and color which the followers of modern musical farce delight in.

"Patsy in Politics" is in no way to be confounded with the old play that Van presented here a season ago. Everything
