Re-Election of McKinley and Laurier Gives Hope That the Questions in Dispute May Be Settled.

MR. KASSON WANTS RECIPROCITY.

But Stupidly Suggests That the British Government Settle It, Ignoring Canada.

New York, Nov. 9.—A special to The Herald from Washington says:

As a result of the continuance in power of President McKinley and Sir Wilfrid Laurier, it is expected that another attempt will shortly be made to bring about a complete settlement of the questions in dispute with Canada.

Officials of the Administration say that the President and Secretary Hay would be glad to have the question disposed of, but it is felt here that Canada should make the preliminary move looking to their re-consideration.

The Alaska Boundary. The Alaska boundary line has only been temporarily settled. Special Reciprocity Commission is extremely anxious to negotiate a reciprocity treaty with Great Britain regarding the fisheries question.

Naval Force on the Lakes. Officials of the navy are especially desirous that the two countries shall determine the size of the naval force which will maintain on the great lakes.

THE IRON TRADE IS BOOMING

There is a Stronger Tone in Cotton and Wool and the General Outlook is Good.

SO SAY THE TRADE REVIEWERS.

Wheat Remains Practically Unchanged and Corn is a Fraction Higher.

New York, Nov. 9.—Bradstreet's to-morrow will say: There is a stronger tone in cotton and wool, the former largely because of reports of fears of crop damage, while the latter is firm at former quotations on a volume of business equal to last week.

The Iron Business. It is from that long time barometer of trade, the iron business, that relatively the best reports as to the demand and prices come. While a considerable volume of business was undoubtedly placed just previous to election, the quantity of sales reported since has been very satisfactory.

On October 25th, November 1st, 15th, 20th and 27th, the Chicago & Northwestern Railway will sell one-way round-trip tickets at very low rates.

THE NERVE EGGS

The movements, the functions and the very life of the heart, the lungs, the stomach, the liver, the kidneys, and the bowels are under the direct control of the great organism—the nervous system, and would, with the rest of the body, be a mere dead mass were it not for this harmonizing and controlling power.

With the brain, where the nerve force is developed, as its centre, and the nerve fibres as its means of transmitting this force, the nervous system extends in myriad ramifications to the utmost extremities of the human body, carrying everywhere new energy and vitality to withstand the waste of work and disease, and to rebuild and reconstruct the wasted cells.

Immediately the blood becomes thin and watery, or the digestive system fails to supply proper sustenance, the nerves are starved, and tell by means of headaches, neuralgic pains and bodily derangements of their exhausted condition. Under such conditions, or when depleted by overwork or disease, the nerve cells are destroyed by millions daily, and the wasting process leads quickly to nervous prostration, paralysis, locomotor ataxia, epilepsy or insanity. Unlike other ailments, nervous diseases may attack any part of the human body. In men the tendency is towards headaches, dyspepsia and loss of vital powers. In women the nervous trouble is most likely to show itself in connection with derangements and irregularities of the peculiarly feminine organs.

Dr. Chase's Nerve Food

Until recent times the usual treatment for nervous disorders was the deadening of the nerves by poisonous narcotics or stimulation to new and exhausting exertion by use of harmful stimulants. Both these methods were bad, since they only afforded temporary relief and were decidedly injurious in later effects.

The discovery of DR. CHASE'S NERVE FOOD by Dr. A. W. Chase, the author of the world-famous Recipe Book, revolutionized these old methods of treatment and supplanted them by the new idea of building up the system, revitalizing the wasted nerve cells, creating new red corpuscles in the blood, and permanently curing diseases of the blood and nerves.

DR. CHASE'S NERVE FOOD is prepared in condensed pill form, and is composed of the elements of Nature has provided for enriching the blood, restoring the nerves and filling the body with new vigor and vitality. It is the circulation of the blood and the nervous system DR. CHASE'S NERVE FOOD reaches every organ of the body, and positively cures the most serious nervous diseases. The best people use it and the most eminent physicians endorse it as a blood builder and nerve restorative of unusual merit. 50 cents a box, at all dealers, or at Edmondson, Bates & Co., Toronto.
