POLICE BEGIN CRUSADE AGAINST TRAMP TRIBE

Four Suspected Vags Are Locked Up as a Beginning—Epidemic of Measles.

HAMILTON, Nov. 21.—(Special.)—The police have started a crusade against the tramps who are in the habit of wintering in this city. Four alleged vags were corralled yesterday and today. Ruben Williams and William Tomlinson, hotel lodgers, were taken in and charged with vagrancy but the police are trying to connect them with the theft of some brass knuckles. James Summersman, 171 Elgin-street; John Brown, North Caroline-street, were also locked up on the charge of vagrancy.

William Johnston, Crown Point, was arrested, charged with the theft of some harness from Henry W. Field, Alfred Larner, 389 North Bay-street, got into trouble thru the complaint of his family that he was drunk and disorderly at the Terminal Station. The cells were jammed with some thirteen drunks.

A Buffalo despatch says that Shirley Murphy, a Hamilton girl, fell from a fire escape at the Hotel Victoria, breaking both legs.

George Travers, the traveler who tried to cash a forged cheque at the Hotel Royal, was sent down to Kingston Penitentiary for five years by the magistrate Saturday. Travers said that another man had sent him into the hotel with the cheque, and the magistrate characterized his statement as deliberate lies.

There is an epidemic of measles amongst the children of the public schools.

Andrew Bain of Bain and Adams, received word to-day of the death of his father, Alexander Bain, of Cookville.

The Catawac wing of the Conservative party has been folded at several of the ward organizations' meetings in its scheme to elect Catawac chairman and officers.

James H. son of J. Orr Callaghan, has undergone an operation for appendicitis.

Mr. Semple is survived by his widow, three sons, Robert W. Semple of New York, George P. Semple of Seattle and James R. Semple of Chicago; and three daughters, Miss Jessie P. Semple, supervisor of drawing in Toronto Public Schools; Mrs. Arthur J. Curzon, and Mrs. Sidney G. Wharfin of Toronto.

J. S. Deschamps. CHICAGO, Nov. 21.—The death occurred early this morning of J. S. Deschamps, editor and owner of The American Lumberman, and one of the best known men in the lumber industry in America. Death was due to malignant cancer. Born in Pennsylvania in 1854, he went to Chicago in 1877 and established a lumber journal, which merged with The Lumberman in 1899. Three years later he acquired full control of the paper. He had attended several meetings of lumbermen in Ontario and was well-known in the province. A widow and son survive.

TUBES AND VIADUCT BEFORE CITY COUNCIL

Prospects Are That Both Will Go to the People in January.

The city council has several important matters to deal with at this afternoon's session, including the following: Report of the special committee recommending a referendum on the principle of a municipal underground railway.

Report of the works committee, recommending the submitting of a bylaw for $100 to extend Bloor-street east to Danforth-avenue by means of a viaduct.

Report of the special "good roads" committee, proposing that the city cooperate with surrounding municipalities in seeking legislation to create a metropolitan area for good roads for a radius of 20 miles around Toronto.

Viaduct Should Carry. There seems little reason to doubt that the tube railway referendum and Bloor-street viaduct scheme will be fully approved, as the great majority of members of council have expressed themselves entirely in favor. The viaduct undertaking was unanimously endorsed by the works committee and passed on by the board of control.

It is generally recognized that the main roads leading into Toronto are in need of improvement, and that the townships cannot bear the whole burden of expense, that the suggested scheme of co-operation is very likely to go thru.

Ald. Church on Warpath. The cavalier style in which the board of control dealt with Ald. Church's proposal to relieve overcrowding of street cars by bringing them under the existing bylaw, has aroused the resentment of Ald. Church and he will try to get council to override the board.

It may be necessary to rescind an existing bylaw granting Assistant Architect Price $250 for extra work and to divide up $500 among officials of the treasurer's department, also for special services. Ald. E. H. Graham, who introduced the bylaw 12 years ago, says he is satisfied that the officials should be paid. The object of the bylaw was to check frequent raids on the treasury, and it succeeded.

SUPREME COURT JUDGE ON WOMAN'S SUFFRAGE

Hon. David Brewer of Washington Favors Principle, But Objects to the "Militants."

NEW YORK, Nov. 21.—Hon. David J. Brewer, justice of the supreme court, declares in favor of equal rights for women in the matter of the ballot. As one of the most distinguished members of the highest court of the land, his word is regarded as of signal importance in the equal-suffrage movement.

Justice Brewer gives his opinion in an interesting article in the December number of The Ladies' World. The title of the article is "Woman's Suffrage—Its Progress and Its Prospects," and the following are paragraphs taken from it:

"The question of female suffrage, like the great question of the day, is now living, practical question. It has passed beyond the days of ridicule, and now has no more of its advocates and no more of its opponents. It is now being considered by thoughtful men and women animated by the desire of doing that which shall be for the best interests of all."

"The consent of the governed, affirmed in the declaration of independence, is not always of immediate application. By the late amendments to the national constitution, the emancipated slaves were made citizens and given the right of suffrage, yet it has always been a question whether the latter grant was then the part of wisdom for them or not."

Want No Militant Suffragettes. "Many of our English sisters are striving to secure the ballot, but the means which, according to the papers, they take toward this end are, and, to say the least, are offensive. We want no 'fighting Amazons.'"

"The woman's suffrage in Colorado has not been hurtful. It has helped a little, perhaps more than can easily be particularized."

"Female suffrage will come. It is a matter of time, and the increasing familiarity with business and public affairs will lead to it. And why not? The chief ally is the home. God forbid that it should be jeopardized for upon it in all its fulness depends the best social life. But female suffrage will not debase the home or lessen its power and influence. On the other hand, it will introduce a refining and uplifting power into our political life. It will not stop marriage."

"Woman, conscious of her independence and capacity to support herself, will demand true manhood in her husband. Children will come. However, the glory of the home will not be in the number, but in the quality of the offspring. Race suicide is not the worst offence. To load a home with so many children that the mother cannot give them the full benefits of a mother's care and attention is far worse than race suicide."

"The woman's suffrage in Colorado has not been hurtful. It has helped a little, perhaps more than can easily be particularized."

BUDGET WITH THE LORDS DEBATE TO BEGIN TO-DAY

Lord Rosebery and Earl of Halsbury Expected to Make the Sensational Addresses.

LONDON, Nov. 21.—The United Kingdom is more absorbed in politics now than for many years, and the coming week will see the culmination of the fierce warfare which has been carried on over the budget.

The house of lords is expected to vote on Lord Lansdowne's resolution, calling for the rejection of the budget, on Thursday. Before then most of the big guns in the upper house will speak on the question. Lord Rosebery's effort for the Conservatives, and that of the Earl of Halsbury for the Liberals, are awaited with the most interest.

Probably the largest number of lords will be mustered for the vote since the rejection of home rule. About 450, many of whom practically are strangers to parliament, are likely to be assembled, and not more than one-quarter of these will support the budget. Most of the politicians predict that when the question goes before the people at the general elections in January, it will be impossible to wipe out the Conservative majority, and that the great Liberal majority, and that the Liberal government will be re-elected on the common by forcing resort to a referendum. Conservative gains will be proclaimed as victories for protection.

The uncertainty of the country's financial policy is paralyzing the stock exchange, and the possibility that the government will have to raise a large loan to meet current expenses makes the money market too uncertain for extensive private enterprises.

Report of Provincial Analyst to Attorney-General Startled Department.

Provincial Inspector Green reported personally on Saturday morning to Deputy Attorney General J. R. Cartwright the parliamentary case regarding the McLachlan poisoning case at Uxbridge. The detective and deputy minister had a lengthy conference. Prof. Ellis and Hon. J. J. Foy were consulted from time to time by phone for the purpose of an analysis of contents of their stomachs, with a view to ascertaining if they contained traces of strychnine poisoning.

Prof. Ellis expected to have his written report on the analysis of the stomach of the mother in the hands of the department not later than this morning. The oral report on Friday resulting in Archie McLachlan's arrest astonished the attorney-general's department by the seriousness of its nature, and the quantity of poison indicated being much in excess of the amount expected. He is likely to tend to one or both of their bodies being ordered exhumed.

Mr. Cartwright said after his conference with Detective Greer that a decision on the question of exhuming one or both bodies might not be made until after Monday night's sitting of the coroner's jury.

It is not unlikely that Crown Attorney Farewell will be heard this morning to confer with Hon. J. J. Foy and Mr. Cartwright regarding the line to be taken at to-day's inquest.

Detective Greer said that the World has been told that the accused husband had made no admissions. His physique was peculiar. He had a weak appearance, but gave instances of an iron will power. The consultation of the authorities at the parliament buildings to-day would be in an order for the immediate exhumation of the children's bodies to that effect sent to Uxbridge. McLachlan simply declares his innocence, said N. J. Phelan of the legal firm of Robinson, Godfrey & Phelan, who interviewed the prisoner at Whitby on Saturday.

The inquest on the body of Mrs. McLachlan will be held to-night, and Mr. Phelan will appear for trial before Police Magistrate Hamilton on Tuesday. Mr. Phelan will attend both the inquest and the preliminary hearing in the interest of the prisoner.

The Duke of Abruzzi has been promoted to real admiral in the Italian navy. John Newstead, Guelp, was seized with a severe attack of apoplexy at 11:30 Thursday night, which rendered him almost speechless and left him unable to move.
