

CANADA'S FIFTIETH BIRTHDAY CELEBRATED IN ALL CHURCHES

Congregations Thrilled by Past History of the Dominion and Urged to Consecrate Themselves Anew for the Great Tasks of the War and the Brilliant Future of a Great Self-Governed Nation.

The jubilee of Confederation was observed in Toronto churches yesterday, in accordance with the royal proclamations thru the federal and provincial governments of the country, as a day of prayer and intercession on behalf of the allied cause and for those engaged in the utimate struggle.

The peace and amity in which our young Dominion has lived with the great democracy to the south was brought to mind in the presence of some 250 officers-in-training from Fort Niagara at the special service at St. Paul's Church.

ST. PAUL'S. Rev. Archdeacon Cody at St. Paul's last night dwelt on the future of Canada which, he said, in many respects occupied a unique position.

By history it was linked to Great Britain; by geography it was linked to the United States; the mighty kindred nation. It was the largest self-governing British commonwealth and the largest overseas Anglo-Saxon unit of the empire, he said.

Politically, the Canadian Confederation had been the most interesting experiment in the history of autonomy. In Canada it had practically solved the seemingly impossible problem of combining local self-government and loyalty to the empire.

ST. ALBAN'S CATHEDRAL. The special service held at St. Alban's Cathedral partly partook of the nature of a memorial to members of the congregation who had fallen at the front.

TIMOTHY EATON MEMORIAL CHURCH. Review of Canada's past, beginning with the explorations of Jacques Cartier, discoverer of the Dominion, to show that Canadians can proudly point to a history of noble traditions.

between English and French or Catholic Protestants. Judge Denton said that confederation had been an experiment in the science of government.

He also spoke of the moral fibre, character and spirit of the people. He declared that the Canadian character he declared was intelligent.

CARLTON STREET METHODIST. In dealing with the present national crisis which, he said, fully resembled the "mad" days of 1867.

THE ONLY WOMAN PREACHER. Western Congregational Church was the only church in Toronto yesterday that had a woman in the pulpit at the special Dominion Day service.

HOLY TRINITY. At the Church of the Holy Trinity yesterday morning a solemn litany was sung before the celebration.

CENTRAL METHODIST CHURCH. A patriotic meeting was substituted for the regular evening service at Central Methodist Church, East Bloor street, last night.

COOKE'S CHURCH. Rev. William Patterson, in his sermon last night, made a plea for the setting aside of political partisanship.

with which Great Britain is allied at the present time. At the morning service he spoke of "Canada: Past and Present," relating the historical events which led up to and followed confederation.

WASH-OUT IN NIAGARA GORGE. A man was swimming in an effort to get out of the rapids. He disappeared.
