SAINT LOUIS COW BELLS TO CRASH OUT WILD ACCLAIM TONIGHT "One Club, One Vote" For Tomorrow's Amateur Meeting Likely

Youthful Thevenow Also Shares Honors With Alexander

NEW YORK, Oct. 11-Ernest young athletes, whose vim, vigor and vitality gave the cowbells of St. Louis a chance to ring again, when many Missourians feared they were to be orever mute, are speeding to a glori-ous reception in St. Louis, each one the richer by $5,584.51. This goodly sum represents the real money to be paid ach member of the St. Louis as his part of the world series spoils. No tatistician is needed to deduce that his is the winners' share. At the same time, members of the

New York Yankees are calculating the New York Yankees are calculating the surchasing power of $3,417.75, and relecting that the difference in the size of the checks was determined by one $50,000 run. The big run decided the eventh game of the world series, 3 to with as much drama as any world series had produced packed into the vital game. The run was not the only $50,000 quantity involved.

There was a $50,000 strikeout en gineered by the venerable Alexander, two plays by Thevenow valued at thousnads each, and a hit by the same player worth more than its weight in gold. And too, there were a couple of miscues the Yanks would have bunded over for nothing and given something to boot.

In the final contest, played under leaden skies, threatening to weep with the Yanks at any moment, age and wouth showed the way. Grover Cleveland Alexander, old enough to have been named for a president of the United States who held office more than two score years ago, and Thomas Jo. eph Thevenow, who 23 years make bin a mere juvenile, claimed between them the place in the sun they would have had if there had been a sun. The baseball-scarred, but not scared Alex ander was content to play a defensive role, but the dashing Therenow now qualifying as a "money player" was a stone wall on the defence, and a battering ram offensively.

OLD AGE AND YOUTH

When he tucks away his check for $5,584.51 each Cardinal may reflect that he has to thank an old man, growing stronger on his way out of the base-ball picture, and a bold stripling, with the legs of agile youth enabling him to leap into the air to grab balls labelled hits, and young eyes sharp enough to pick out pitches and hit them "where they are aint" before the

The curse of the pop fly, making its deadly presence known in the fifth game at St. Louis, decided by the same score of the contest yesterday, but in favor of the Yanks, was again a factor in the seventh battle.

The disease held the Cardinals fast in its grip last Thursday, and helped the American Leaguers to victory.

PREPARE WELCOME

ST. LOUIS, Mo., Oct. 11-Hope springing into reality with the Car-dinals' triumphant 3 to 2 victory yesterday over the New York Yanks, sent mad St. Louisans into a hysterical frenzy of celebration and today set their eyes toward the first opportunity of welcoming home a world's champion

An Historic Sock

This is a picture of the home run wallop that nearly put St. Louis Cardinals out of the series and made the statisticians dizzy getting the real dope. Of course, it is Babe Ruth, the mighty Bambino, slashing out that third homer of his in last Wednesday's game at St. Louis.

Along The Sport Trail

AN HISTORIC WEEK.

THIS week should prove one of the most noteworthy in the history of amateur athletics in the Maritime Provinces with a meeting carded for Tuesday night here of all clubs favoring a New Brunswick branch at which officers will be elected provisionally and with another meeting of the M. P. B. called for Amherst on Thursday to consider allegations made by A. W. Covey. Eleven clubs in Halifax have signified their intention of not bothering with the Amherst meeting and few, if any, of the 17 or 18 clubs affiliated in Saint John will be represented. Halifax clubs have called a meeting for October 22 when the Nova Scotia situation is expected to clear itself. Here in New Brunswick it is claimed that a majority of the clubs have lined up for a new branch and if this is correct, the C. A. A. U. can do little else than grant a charter for the New Brunswick territory.

IN CONNECTION with the argument used to preserve the M. P. B., that in "union there is strength," the writer draws attention to this significant fact: that under the present scheme of things, New Brunswick has three delegates to the Canadian Amateur Union, whereas if a New Brunswick branch was formed, the province would have eleven, or ten if P. E. I. was joined with one of the provinces. The province of Ontario has 27 votes through three branches; the Canadian Hockey Association, centred at Toronto has eight delegates; the Canadian Wheelmen's Association in Toronto, has a few more. Where is the strength in the M. P. B. that gives New Brunswick three votes whereas under a branch she can have ten and possibly eleven. No wonder the clubs are demanding a bigger say in affairs.

APPARENTLY they must feel the same way about it in Nova Scotia. The ground is taken that too long the Maritime Provinces have been considered as one and that in future they must be considered as three strong units. If the secession movement is successful, just what will be done in the case of Prince Edward Island remains to be seen. If P. E. I. is attached to either New Brunswick or Nova Scotia, it means the officers and delegates will have to be split—a move not likely to prove satisfactory. What should be done is to give P. E. I. a branch of its own and carry out the principle at present in force or bese the representation on the number of affiliated clubs. This is likely to prove a difficult proposition to handle and what the C. A. A. U. should do is appoint its secretary-treasurer or some responsible party to take charge of the re-organization work and see that it is carried out properly and fairly to all concerned.

THE question is asked "What will happen to those clubs who favor the M. P. B. if new branches are formed?" There is only one thing
