GRANTS HAVE STRONG BID FOR RECORD

Ottawa Physician Eldest of Ten Whose Ages Total Seven Hundred and Ten Years

The New York Herald contains the following: Colonel John Peter Grant, a Canadian merchant and traveler, who has just returned from Europe and now is at the Hotel Somerset, this city, read a cable despatch in the Herald last Sunday that a family named Gardner, in Preston, England, has credit for the longevity record, because one generation of eleven members, six brothers and five sisters, total in their ages nearly 700 years. There is no nearly about it, and we are only ten.

Here is the list of the living Grants, furnished to the Herald by Colonel Grant: Sir James Grant, of Ottawa, who is eighty-one years old, and run down to Mrs. Van Koughnet, of London, who is our baby. She is only sixty-four years old. The Herald cable despatch says there are Gardens and that they boast a total age of nearly 700 years. There is no nearly about it, and we are only ten.

"We have had fifty-seven children, forty of whom are living. Fifty-seven grandchildren are also living. I have twenty-five nieces and nephews more than forty years of age. A son of Mrs. Schlatter, who died in Montreal last year, was the first death we had in twenty years."

"The Herald despatch says that when these Gardens were asked why they were able to live so long they said: 'Porridge.' Well, if you ask me now how we have been able to make such a record, I'll say 'Hard work.' We have all worked hard all our lives, and expect to keep on working. My seven widowed sisters work just as hard now as they did when they were young women."

Sir James Grant, the present head of the family, is a well known physician, and recently returned from England. Canada, after delivering five lectures on tuberculosis."

It might be added that Sir James Grant is honorary physician to the Governor-General.

E. A. TREADWELL DEAD, AGED 81

The death of Ephraim A. Treadwell, one of the best known residents of Ben Lomond, occurred this morning in the General Public Hospital. Mr. Treadwell, who was eighty-one years old, had been ill for some months. Surviving him are four sons, of whom Edward resides in Lynn, and Samuel and Frank at home; and one daughter, Miss Annie Treadwell, a trained nurse. Miss Treadwell returned home recently to care for her father. Mrs. Treadwell died some years ago.

Mr. Treadwell had been a resident of Ben Lomond for about fifty years and was proprietor of the Half Way House at Willow Grove and the Loyalist House, his late home, he was well and favorably known.

There were few in this city who did not know him, as his hospitality was liberally patronized. His memory was kept alive by his guests about him he was able to recall many important events of years gone by. He was an expert fisherman and had to his credit some very fine catches. The funeral will take place on Friday from his late home, Loyalist House, Ben Lomond, at 2:30.

LAST MINUTE WORDS FROM MANY PLACES

Toronto, Oct. 11.—It is said Col. Matheon, provincial treasurer, is to retire from politics.

San Francisco, Oct. 11.—Woman Suffrage previously conceded to have been beaten, is making a close run. Complete returns from 1,587 precincts out of 3,120 in the state give 6,002 in favor, 63,289 against.

Manchester, Eng., Oct. 11.—A serious fire along the banks of the ship canal early today sent burning oil into the canal and covered the water for a long distance, lighting everything combustible. Buildings and jetties. The fire was controlled after three hours.

Newmarket, Eng., Oct. 11.—The Cesarewitch stakes, a handicap of 25 sovereigns each with 250 sovereigns added for the 2-year-old and up, two miles and a quarter, was won by Wilbury. Maringale II was second and Papaverus third.

THEIR 33RD ANNIVERSARY

Waterbury & Rising Limited have chosen a practical way of celebrating the 33rd anniversary of their business here. Some time ago their buyers made a well known mark of high class footwear an offer for all the unpaired and made up stock of Men's $5 and 66 Laced and Button Boots. The goods are all this season's production, and they are exceptional in leading dealers throughout the Dominion, but through inability to ship on time, and the fact that they had accumulated about 700 pairs.

The offer was much below regular cost, and the goods were sold in a very short time. The entire lot has been placed on sale at the Union Street Store, and the goods are being sold at a substantial and satisfying way of celebrating the event.

A very sad event took place this morning at 4 o'clock when Mrs. Jennina Thompson, wife of James H. Thompson, succumbed to a lingering illness at her residence 33 Metcalf street. Mrs. Thompson was aged forty-seven years. Besides her husband she is survived by three sons, two daughters, five sisters and four brothers. The sons are James, Charles and Russell and the daughters are Isabel and Katherine. The sisters are Mrs. John McEwen, Mrs. Arthur Irvine and Mrs. Charles Holder of this city. Mrs. Thomas Meade of Kennebec Falls, Me., and Mrs. Hannah Hutchinson of Cambridge, Mass. The brothers are George Johnston and John Johnston of this city and Thomas and James Johnston of Cambridge, Mass. The funeral will take place on Thursday at 3 p. m. from 33 Metcalf street.

A man may pocket his pride, but a woman has to conceal hers elsewhere.

CITY DEPARTMENTS AGAIN UNDER PROBE

Another meeting of the special committee appointed by the common council to enquire into the affairs of the city engineers and public works departments is being held this afternoon at City Hall, with Ald. J. W. Kierstead in the chair. The meeting was called for 2 o'clock as it is expected to be a lengthy session. It is understood that several persons who have complaints against these departments will be given the opportunity to lay them before the committee this afternoon.

The engineer and his assistant have both been notified to be present. It has been pointed out that this method of doing business may not help towards maintaining discipline in the civic departments.

A RUDE AWAKENING!

It takes quite a jolt to enable some people to see the point. One lady saw it Sunday afternoon as her hostess showed her a pair of Boots she had on for which she had paid $2.75. They were the Patent Leather Button Boots with plain toes and a neat dressy heel, with a soft dull calf ankle. She had a pair of the same thing on but had paid $3.50 for them. Her hostess had made the fortunate purchase at 205 Union Street, at Steel's Closing Out Sale, while she had not seen any word of it. 75 cents was what it cost lady to overlook this opportunity. What will it cost you? If we could read it aloud to you we could, but this is the best we can do.
