PUT THEM OFF.
A street car conductor last evening proved to two rowdies who got on his car going to North End that he was capable of taking charge of it without any assistance from their part, and they probably regret the fact that they interfered with him in his duties, for they heard screaming and the event in their consciences. The two young men, who hail from Carleton, began to make some nasty remarks which were audible to female passengers and the conductor promptly stopped the car and, ejecting them, the car was crowded and the affair caused some excitement.

WOE FOR WILLIE.
During the morning school the children had been examined and their eyes tested according to the education authorities' latest decree.

Those who were suffering with any defect had notes given them to take to their parents. Among the note-bearers was one William Thomson, and the note bore the following:

"Dear Sir,—I beg to inform you your son William shows signs of astigmatism, which ought to be attended to at once. Yours truly, John Wise, headmaster."

In the afternoon Willie brought this reply:

"Dear Sir,—I don't know just what it is that Willie's been doing, but I wallpapered him well this dinner time, and you can have another go at him if he's not better."

NOTHING LIKE SYSTEM.
"Don't tell me you can't remember things!" murmured Jobba to Dobba. "Memory is all a matter of system. Now, in what year was the Battle of Agincourt fought?"

Dobba pleaded that his memory failed him on that interesting historical fact.

"Exactly!" replied Jobba. "Now, how many days are there in a week?"

"Seven," came the answer.

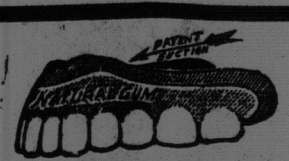

"Very well, twice seven are fourteen. Multiply by a hundred—fourteen hundred. Number of days in June, thirty. Half of thirty, fifteen. Fifteen and fourteen hundred?"

"Fourteen hundred and fifteen," hazarded Dobba.

"Right! That's the year of the battle. System, my boy. That's what does it system!"

Father (to his daughter's suitor)—I have and news for you. I am ruined! I have lost everything!

Suitor—Consoled yourself, dear sir, with the thought that you are now in no danger of losing your daughter.

FISHERY INQUIRY

Fishery Inspector Calder of Charlotte county, is the city conducting an investigation into charges that have been made against Fishery Inspector Byles of Carleton Place. It is believed that the inquiry is the outcome of some trouble that Mr. Byles and A. O. H. Wilson had some time back.

The investigation is being conducted in the Customs House. At this morning's session evidence was given by Edward Woodworth, Alexander Logan, and Charles Masten all fishermen. Both Mr. Wilson and Mr. Byles will give evidence.

At the conclusion of the inquiry Mr. Calder will submit his report to the minister of marine and fisheries.

Insulting Ladies in Streets — A Vigorous Complaint and a Call to the Police

A vigorous complaint against the activity of young men who loiter around the principal streets during the evening and insult unprotected ladies by their attention has been made to the editor of The Times by a young woman who has been annoyed in this manner. From her own experience and that of friends she knows of the frequency of this annoyance and asks if nothing can be done to put an end to it.

The matter is one which deserves the attention of the police. St. John has always prided itself on the safety of people in its streets and those who endanger this reputation by their conduct will receive little sympathy if they are given the treatment they deserve.

FREDERICTON NEWS

(Special to Times)
Fredericton, N. B., June 12.—Charles H. Allen and bride, who was Miss Alice Fortune, of Winnipeg, arrived here today to spend a few weeks with relatives.

The marriage of H. W. Stevenson of Woodstock to Miss Lizzie Allen, daughter of Robert Allen, took place yesterday. Rev. Canon Cowie performed the ceremony.

Miss Annie May Gunter, daughter of J. L. Gunter, of the city, and Herbert C. Allen and bride, who was Miss Alice Fortune, of Winnipeg, arrived here today to spend a few weeks with relatives.

The full bench of the supreme court was present this morning. The King vs. Kay, police magistrate of Moncton, came on for trial, the first case on the crown docket, was, by consent, stood over until next term.

Ex parte Maxime Desrosiers in re license commissioners of Madawaska County, Connell, K. C., for the license commissioners, showed cause against a rule nisi granted by Judge Barry in April, 1912, for a writ of prohibition. J. D. Phinney, K. C., was in support of the order nisi.

The cases of Leblanc vs. Lutz et al., Meagher vs. C. P. R., and West vs. Carr et al. are by consent of counsel, stood over until next term. The conclusion that the company has judgment with a written statement of the grounds on which the judge proceeded. The case stands till next sitting.

Kings Bench division of the appeal paper was taken up.

Gunn, Ltd., vs. Dugay—Judge Barry taking no part. Phinney, K. C., for the defendant supported an appeal from an order of Mr. Justice Barry; Mr. Hanson, for the plaintiff, contra. The court considers.

Watson vs. Ferguson et al.—on request of those concerned the case stands till next term.

A special sitting of the chancery court was held on Tuesday afternoon, Judge Melmed presiding when the matter of appointment of a master to inquire into the Catherine E. Coy estate was brought up for further consideration. Phinney, K. C., on behalf of the plaintiff and speaking for several counsel in the case, said that they had come to the conclusion that the order made by His Honor appointing Havelock Coy as master was not legal, as a section of the judicature act prohibited a solicitor in the case acting as master. He requested that the former order be set aside.

His Honor acceded and made an order, similar in all cases, that the registrar of the court, Dr. T. C. Allen, make the appointment. Mr. Fenety is the only other master who can be appointed.

NEW FIRM OF LAWYERS.

The organization of a new law firm has been announced. It will be conducted under the name of Tait, McLean & Rive and will be composed of J. Starr Tait, B. A., B. C. L., Herbert C. McLean, B. C. L., and Rupert M. Rive, M. A., B. C. L. They will have offices on the ground floor of the new Dearborn office building in Prince William street. The statement which appeared in the Standard this morning to the effect that Messrs McLean and Tait are to engage in the real estate business is declared an error.

The dead—Fireman Holcomb and unidentified section employee. The injured are being brought here. The cause of the wreck is not known.

GAY MUSICIAN TO PLAY HERE SATURDAY

Another capacity audience witnessed the Gay Musician last night. Owing to the demand for tickets being larger than the capacity of the theatre, arrangements have been made to keep the company here Saturday. Saturday's matinee prices are fifty cents for adults and twenty-five for children.

CHAIN MISSING.
Too much faith in the honesty of others is a reason for regret with S. W. Scammell today for he is the loser of a new fifteen foot three-eighths chain. Mr. Scammell took the chain to the foot of King street yesterday and left it near the car track for a few brief moments while he went into a nearby store. He came almost immediately, but it had disappeared.

FUNERAL.
The funeral of Mrs. Anna Beverly Kingston took place this afternoon at four o'clock from the Mission church in Paradise row. Funeral services were conducted by Rev. Father Conners and Rev. Father Collins, after which the body was taken to Fredericton for burial.
