Demand That Campaign Corruption Shall Be Exposed In Open Court

CALL ON PREMIER BORDEN

Urge Him to Fulfill Promises and Put Civic Service Under Commission—Even "Tory Toronto" Is Becoming Impatient Over the Business

(Montreal, Mail.)

Ottawa, Nov. 16.—If the government listens to the counsel of the better elements in its own party, there will be legislation at the approaching session, not only to compel the publication of all contributions to election funds, but also to appoint special officers to see that election scandals and corruption are fully exposed in the courts rather than covered up and to end the wretched patronage system by placing the whole of the civil service outside as well as inside, under the Civil Service Commission.

Staunch supporters of the government, who are, however, not absolute slaves to party, are rapidly confessing their disgust with present conditions in regard to these matters, and are openly calling on Premier Borden and his government to carry out the programme for ensuring, as far as possible, clean government and honest elections.

Toronto Getting Impatient

Even from "Tory Toronto" comes a strong expression of impatience on the part of some who are in sympathy with the government at the smothering-up of the election crookedness in Macdonald by-election which probably involved both sides.

"The whole system is unsatisfactory," we are told, "The courts are too ready to acquiesce in agreements between rival politicians. We need to enforce publicity for electoral subscriptions. We should stop legislating for the sources from which the heaviest contributions proceed. We require public officers to ensure that when wholesale corruption is practiced it will be exposed."

Another voice from eastern Ontario, largely in sympathy with the government, refers to the voiding of the Macdonald by-election and adds: "Until the country demands publicity of campaign funds there is little to be gained by protesting against corrupt elections."

Say Patronage System Vicious

A short time ago, when the evidence regarding past management of Kingston penitentiary was published there was also a demand from an important section of the Conservative party that Mr. Borden should carry out that part of his Halifax platform calling for placing the whole civil service under the Civil Service Commission and thus abolishing the manifest evils of the patronage system which was such a serious handicap to efficient government.

And now, in connection with the dismissal of the Bedford postmaster, this confusion is heard from a Conservative source: "Without pausing on the merits of this particular case, it is not believed public officials should be dismissed for party reasons. No doubt there have been unjust dismissals. We agree that the whole patronage system is vicious. Let us unite by continuous appeal and argument to secure a permanent, non-partisan service."

It rests with the government to say whether this "continuous appeal" should be kept up indefinitely or whether party expediency shall give place to principle and the fulfillment of honorable pledges to the people of Canada.
