

LOCAL AND PROVINCIAL

News of the Day Selected from Monday's Evening Times.

Mayor Beaven and Police Magistrate Macrae, sitting as a board of licensing commissioners, yesterday refused to grant a license for the board of trade building association. The application for a license for the Osborne House was adjourned.

Law Intelligence. The Registrar appointed this afternoon for the settlement of the decree in Adams vs. McBeath.

The Constable Received a Shock. Constable O'Connor knows more about the power of electricity than he did several days ago. On Sunday night, when on duty on Ottawa street, he was told that a loose electric light wire was making walking dangerous in that vicinity, so he went to investigate.

Scotland's Sword of State. On Monday afternoon the Belt of the Sword of State of Scotland, which has been presented by the Rev. S. Ogilvy Baker, was restored to its place among the regalia of Scotland by the Lord High Commissioner.

AGRICULTURAL ASSOCIATION. Directors Meet and Dispose of General Business. At a meeting of the directors of the B. C. Agricultural Society held last evening the secretary presented a statement showing that liabilities amounting to $4,500 were due. The accounts were referred to the finance committee.

Nicola's Prospects. Mr. John Gilmore, the well-known pioneer rancher in Nicola, was in the city yesterday on his way to the capital with stock. He brought out 60 head more than he could get transportation for, and was compelled to send them all back to his ranges at a considerable cost.

POSTAL SERVICE AND CABLE. Between British Columbia and the Australian Colonies. ERRONEOUS STATISTICS OF EXPORTS. Representative Warde of the Australian Steamship Line Has Another Conference With the Board of Trade—He Gives Valuable Information and Returns Several "Pointers."

Postal service between Australia and Canada was the first subject touched upon by F. W. Warde, representative of the new Canadian-Australian steamship line, at the meeting of the Board of Trade council this morning. Mr. Warde believed the Canadian route could be made the fastest of all between Australia and Great Britain. He gave the time of transit from the different Australian colonies, and though he stated that the time taken on the trial mail trip over the Canadian route was not quite what he expected, still he thought much better than the fastest of all between Australia and Great Britain.

The Australians were in favor of a Pacific cable. The project had been approved of at a meeting of the postmaster-general of the Australian colonies, held at Brisbane. Already a Parisian company had advanced a project for this cable. They were building part of the line now. It was between the Australian coast and the Islands of New Caledonia. But there existed a feeling in Australia that the cable should be built by British capital and go through British territory. The idea of foreigners owning the lines was not approved. The Australian colonies would feel more secure with a Canadian cable. They would not then be dependent on the rest of the world as they now often were. When the Eastern cable broke the Australians were thrown into a state of panic. They imagined earthquakes and volcanoes and perhaps war through many foreign, and not over-friendly countries. When the cable was down they were completely cut off from the rest of the world. And they feared the Russian fleet in Siberian waters. The fleet could descend upon the coast of Australia and do great damage. The Australian towns were not fortified and were at their mercy.

The Australians had a very erroneous idea of the climate of Canada. They thought it was very cold in British Columbia and that the Canadian continent could be traversed in safety only three months in the year. He had been somewhat under the same delusion, but his British Columbia friends had exploded his ideas, and he would tell the Australians of the beautiful climate of British Columbia and of the ease and safety of winter travel. To the sportsmen of Australia he would speak of the fine line fishing in British Columbia and the bear hunting. These sports were unknown in Australia. Australia was very different kind of country from what many supposed. The winter season was the fine season there. The Australians bragged of it. In the summer it was hot, in the winter delightful. He had never seen snow fall there, but he saw it in Fleet street, London, two years ago.

He pointed to the fact that provision had been made at the last meeting of the Dominion House for the appointment of commercial agents. A gentleman with a knowledge of Canada, particularly the Pacific coast, would do good work by being sent over to Australia.

Mr. Warde said that according to the Australian statistics the Canadian trade amounts to nothing. He stated that no fish was shipped to Australia and very little lumber.

The gentlemen present convinced him that a very large percentage of the salmon and lumber were from British Columbia, but they were credited to the United States.

Mr. Warde said that Australia would take all the hops Canada could send and plenty of lager beer, and that she would send them in the Canadian winter butter free on board at Sydney for 10 cents a pound.

The information given was noted by the secretary with a view of extending the intercolonial trade between Australia and Canada.

VISITING AMERICAN OFFICIALS. Four Prominent Servants of Uncle Sam are at the Driard. Leslie Cullom, recently appointed special agent of the treasury department to succeed C. J. Mulkey, dismissed; Judge W. H. Brinker, named as United States district attorney for Washington to succeed Patrick Henry Winston, removed; Edward Wood of Detroit, special agent of the treasury department, and Charles E. Lewis, of Niagara, N. Y., special inspector of customs, constitute a party of American officials who arrived upon the City of Kingston last evening and will be at the Driard until this evening. The trip is largely one of pleasure. The first two gentlemen are just assuming their offices and have been taking a look over the district, while Messrs. Wood and Lewis, who were mentioned in a dispatch from Washington in the Victoria Times, have almost completed their work in the west. Mr. Lewis will probably leave for the east over the C. P. R. to-morrow. Mr. Cullom, the last official of the party who was appointed, had quite an experience in getting his office. One of the last acts of the Republican administration was to require all special agents of the treasury department and one other branch of the service to take a severe examination before they could be appointed. Mr. Cullom was on the rack for several days but came out with 93 per cent. His average was high and he was very highly complimented by the chiefs of the bureau. Mr. Cullom has been in Washington for a number of years as a mine owner, and was at one time collector at Port Townsend. Judge Brinker has lived in Washington for several years.

Contracts Awarded. The sewerage committee met this afternoon and awarded the contract for the brick drains to Frederick Adams, contract price $23,574.27. Harrison & Walkley secured the contract for the pipe drains; their figure was $3,586.75. The contract for repairs to the Old Men's Home has not yet been awarded.

An Old Time Friend. Hon. John Collins of Seattle arrived on the City of Kingston last evening and will be a guest at the Driard until this evening. Mr. Collins is nearly as well known here to the old timers as he is at home. He has lived on the Sound since there has been any and has been foremost in its development. He owns some of the best business property in Seattle. He has always taken a lead in Democratic politics in Washington and is one of the leaders of the party. This is his first visit here in four years, and he has been renewing many old acquaintances.

Return of the Maude. The steamer Maude, Capt. Gosse, returned from the West Coast early this morning. She brought 15 passengers and a small quantity of freight. When the Maude passed Barclay Sound the bark Old Kensington was in a very dangerous position inside Village Island. A southeast wind was blowing at the time. Capt. Gosse ordered the assistance of the Indian schooner Mountain Chief was at San Juan with 25 skins on board that she had taken in one day off Carmanah Point. The United States steamer Gedney was also at San Juan.

Law Intelligence. Mr. Justice Drake in Chambers made an order that security for costs in the sum of $150 be given within 14 days in the case of McLachlan vs. Brandon Adams. The plaintiff is a resident of Guelph, Ont., and therefore out of the jurisdiction of the court, and in the meantime all proceedings in the action have been stayed.

The case of Gilmore vs. Tiernan was to be tried to-day before a judge without a jury, but an order was made in Chambers that the trial be postponed and that the defendant pay within three days the amount of the claim ($150) into court.

At noon to-morrow a motion will be made before the Chief Justice to extend the injunction granted in the case of De Cosmos vs. the Telephone Company.

Eight Were Deported. Among the Japanese passengers brought by the last Empress was a party of 16 who sought admission to the United States by way of Port Townsend. They were refused admission and were kept by the officials of the United States, and the individual case of nearly every immigrant is carefully scrutinized. The investigation conducted by Collector Wilson at Port Townsend into the cases of the eight Japanese brought out the fact that eight of them were going in under contracts, and on that ground they were refused admission and deported. They came over on the City of Kingston last evening and are now being sent on to Japan, but will either locate in Canada, or seek admission in another way to the United States. The Canadian officials raised no objections to their landing here, as they were not paupers and none of them were sick or diseased.

Garden Party and Reception. Bishop Perrin and Miss Perrin received an address at St. John's church garden party yesterday afternoon. The lawn of the rectory was decorated with flags and bunting and shaded with large Japanese parasols. A band discoursed music and the hostess, the people's warden, presented the address of welcome. It was handsomely illuminated, and read:

Victoria, June 21, 1893. To the Right Reverend the Bishop of Columbia: We, the Rector and Churchwardens, on behalf of the parish, extend a cordial welcome to your Lordship a cordial welcome to St. John's Church, the first church consecrated in Vancouver Island, which in the thirty-three years that have passed since that consecration, many and great have been the changes, but through all the church has grown and prospered. We are glad to have you here, and we are glad that a new era of earnest work and broad achievement has come to the church in this district.

We believe that the time has come when the church should unite in a grand effort to reach the souls of the people, and we look forward with pleasure to the work which you will do here. We are glad to have you here, and we are glad that a new era of earnest work and broad achievement has come to the church in this district.

We assure you of our earnest desire to loyally support your lordship in all your efforts, and we are glad to have you here, and we are glad that a new era of earnest work and broad achievement has come to the church in this district.

Churchwardens. Bishop Perrin thanked the congregation for the honor and complimented them upon their work.

Johnson's Dictionary. April 15th was the anniversary of the publication of Dr. Samuel Johnson's "Dictionary of the English Language." On April 15th, 1755, the long-expected work, which had taken seven years to prepare, was given to the world. Andrew Millar, the publisher, acknowledged the receipt of the last page from the doctor by the brusque note:—"Andrew Millar sends his compliments to Mr. Samuel Johnson, with the money for the last sheet of the copy of the 'Dictionary,' and thanks God he has done with him." To this the doctor replied:—"Samuel Johnson returns his compliments to Mr. Andrew Millar, and is very glad to find that he has done with the 'Dictionary.' Millar has the grace to thank God for anything." No doubt Johnson had made a severe demand on the publisher's patience, in spending seven years on a work which he had promised to complete in three, thus keeping Millar out of four years' interest on the £15,000 copyright money which he had paid the doctor for the dictionary. Very little of this really went into Johnson's pocket, nearly the whole of it being swallowed up in the expenses of amanuenses.

CROWN OF ORANGE BLOSSOMS. Miss Maude Higgins and Mr. Thomas Corsan joined in wedlock.

IT WAS A VERY PRETTY WEDDING. Hon. D. W. Higgins gave the Bride Away and Rt. Rev. Bishop Griggs officiated at the ceremony. Reception after the Marriage.

The Reformed Episcopal church was beautifully decorated for the marriage of Mr. Thomas Corsan and Miss Maude Higgins, which took place this afternoon at 3 o'clock. The bride is the youngest daughter of Hon. D. W. Higgins, speaker of the Legislative Assembly, and the bridegroom is the youngest son of the late Dr. Corsan, of Woodstock, Ontario. Long before the time set for the wedding the church was crowded by the many friends of the bride and groom, both of whom are very popular in social circles. The ceremony was performed by the Rt. Rev. Bishop Griggs. The bride was given away by her father. She was attended by Miss Loewen as maid of honor, and Miss Annie Powell, Miss Macnaughton-Jones, Miss Nest Clayton and Miss Jessie Galletly as bridesmaids. Master Arnold Raymond, the bride's nephew, made a very pretty page. Mr. Allan Cameron supported the bridegroom. The ushers were Messrs. Chas. Loewen, H. Rogers, Geo. Powell, G. H. Barnard, E. E. Weston, J. Wilson, and F. Higgins.

The wedding was a very pretty one. There was a full choral service, the anthem being, "Behold, how great and good a thing it is for brethren to dwell together in unity." The bride's dress was of white brocade, trimmed with lace and orange blossoms. She carried a beautiful shower bouquet, the gift of Mrs. P. T. Johnston. The bridesmaids wore dresses of pink chiffon, fash trimmed with pink roses. They carried large shower bouquets of pink and white roses, which, with gold and pearl brooches, were presented to the bride.

The reception was held this afternoon from 4 until 6 at the home of the bride's parents, Regent's Park, a large number of friends calling to congratulate the happy couple. This evening there will be a wedding dinner.

Mr. Murray and company of Toronto. The wedding present was a handsome and handsome, showing the esteem in which Mr. and Mrs. Corsan are held by their many friends in Victoria and elsewhere.
