NO AGENTS! NO COMMISSIONS!!

THE system of employing Agents or Canvassers at a high commission has been strictly abandoned by us, it having proved very unsatisfactory both to ourselves and customers. In future we will sell our

PIANOFORTES & ORGANS

At Net Wholesale Prices,

direct to purchasers. In this way buyers of Pianos and Organs will save from twenty to forty per cent. by dealing directly with us, and, moreover, far better satisfaction can be guaranteed.

We claim to sell the best Instruments to be had, and at the lowest prices consistent with first-class articles.

The cash system enables us to sell at a very small advance on cost of manufacture, although to honest and reliable parties we do not object to allow a reasonable time for payments.

Parties ordering by mail can rely upon getting as fine an instrument as if personally selected by themselves. Any Organ or Piano not found exactly as represented can be returned to us at our expense. We refer with pleasure to over Fifteen Hundred Pianos and Organs sold by us the last ten years.

Thankful for the very liberal patronage accorded us hitherto, we can only say that we will continue our endeavors to thoroughly satisfy our customers in all their dealings with us.

CHATHAM, THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 19, 1878.

Concert.

On Thursday evening the 5th inst., the concert announced to be given under the auspices of the Dutcher Reformers' Temperance Choir, took place in the Masonic Hall. Long before the curtain rose a crowded house was prepared to greet the amateurs, who in the short period of a week had undertaken to prepare the programme of the evening. One of the attractive features of the entertainment was the use, for the first time, of the new scenery with which the stage has been lately fitted at large expense — consisting of twelve scenes and wings, comprising landscape, garden scenes, and interiors, executed by Mr. Davis of Boston. The curtain is handsome and picturesque in design, divided into three arched pannels, separated by pillars, the centre panel containing a beautiful view of Isola Bella on lake Maggiore, in the north of Italy, with a smaller marine and inland landscape on each side, the ornamental portions being in very good taste. With such adjuncts it is needless to say the performers were enabled to improve upon the rigidity of an orthodox concert in a very pleasant manner.

Below the stage, to the left, was placed a piano at which Mrs. D. Paterson presided with her accustomed ability, ably accompanied by Messrs. Ph. Anslow and F. Brown on the violin, the trio playing at intervals during the evening.

After the overture, the curtain rose on a brilliant parlour scene, in which the fair performers seated in groups round a centre table plied their fans and quizzed the audience with great animation, but finally condescended to favor them with the following pieces—

Solo and Chorus—"To thy heart O take me back," by Miss A. Shirreff and Choir.

Instrumental music—"Immier Heiter" Galop, Miss Annie Shirreff, piano, and Mr. Cunningham of St. John, flute.

Solo—"Speak, O speak to me Again," by Miss Maggie Johnston, accompaniment by Miss A. Shirreff.

Solo—"The White Squall," by Mr. Cunningham, accompaniment by Miss A. Shirreff.

Solo—"The days of my youth," by Miss Sarah Gillies, accompaniment by Miss A. Shirreff.

Quartette—"Moonlight on the Lake," by Misses A. Shirreff and Jessie Johnston, and Messrs. Cunningham and H. Patterson, accompaniment by Miss Jessie Johnston.

The next part of the programme was performed with a street scene displayed. A real theatrical street in which "distance lent enchantment to the view," and whose solitary occupant at first, was only an apple woman, "whose name and lineage were unknown" by reason of her large hood but she was presumed to be Miss Mary Johnson. During the first solo it was needless to say charity was liberally bestowed.

Solo—"Please give me a penny," by Miss. A. Shirreff.

Solo—"Maid of Athens," by Mr. A. Riddling.

Solo.—"Driven from Home," by Miss. S. Gillies.

Solo.—"The Man in the Moon," by Miss Jessie Johnston.

The above were all sung in character costumes and the amateurs acquitted themselves very creditably.

A kitchen scene was now presented, the apartment being somewhat slenderly furnished. A short dialogue was given by Miss Emma Burns and Mr. H. Patterson, entitled "Dick Bustles' Courtship," in which a damsel busy ironing is called upon to decide on the relative attractions of a butcher and a baker.

A parlor scene came next, in which an instrumental duet was given by Misses Annie Shirreff and Burns.

The Park scene which followed, had a terrace, fountain, and shrubbery, and a flight of steps which might lead to the celestial regions, especially if trod by lovers. In this scene the following pieces were given:—

Solo—"The Blind Girl to her Harp," by Miss A. Shirreff, accompaniment by Mrs. D. Paterson.

Solo—"Alice where art Thou," by Mr. Cunningham, accompaniment by Miss A. Shirreff.

Solo—"Nancy Lee," by Miss Jessie Johnston, (in costume.) Accompaniment by Miss A. Shirreff.

The woodland scene which brought the entertainment to a close was very much admired. The performers reclining on the grass (we presume) assisted at the real pic-nic, at which the refreshments were bountiful—rain and umbrellas and the aroma of sour beer being only wanting to make it true to nature. The curtain fell as the old song, "In the days when we went Gipsying," was being sung by the whole force of the company, who afterwards sung the National Anthem.

It is unnecessary to say that the entertainment, both musically, and otherwise, was a very successul one, and will bear repetition. The amount realized was between $50 and $60, half of which goes towards the new scenery and half to the Dutcher Temperance Choir.

DENTISTRY.—Dr. M. C. Clark, of Chatham, N. Alnwick.

[FROM OUR EXTRA EDDITION.

One of the Bark Factory men, who was sent from Derby for the purpose, visited Alnwick and circulated a lot of slanders printed in bad French and attributed to Mr. Snowball. The document professed to emanate from Frenchmen at Derby and charged Mr. Snowball with belittling Frenchmen, and particularly those of Alnwick.

On Saturday, a few hours after the fellow sent to do Messrs. Adams and Mitchell's dirty work in Alnwick had got there, Mr. Snowball reached Neguac and addressed the electors in the school house. In the course of his speech he read the slanders and so utterly confuted them that their bearer sneaked away amid the jeers of those whom he had been sent to deceive. The Neguac electors are for Snowball.

Mr. Snowball proceeded to Tabusintac and held a meeting in the evening, many of the Neguac electors going with him. He spoke over two hours and received a perfect ovation. The Derby Missionary fled back to the Bark Factory to burn his French "tracts," but was met by Adams and turned back to continue his work if possible.

Surveyor General Adams arrived soon after Mr. Snowball began so speak, accompanied by some men hired for the purpose in Chatham. He lingered outside of the School House where the meeting was held until Mr. Snowball had finished speaking, when he entered with his usual swagger. saying, "Now you'll hear what Mike Adams has to say." But the electors rose to a man and left and, after Adams had tried to get them back, the lights were taken out and he was told to leave.

Adams tried to get a hearing in front of the School House outside, but he was jeered at and reminded of his "neutrality" until he had to slink away in characteristic style.

Adams has now neither the respect or sympathy of those who so recently elected him. His discomfiture in other places, followed by his Alnwick collapse, show that his brass-kettle noise and swagger will no longer go down with sensible Northumberland electors. He gave out after his own election that his vote was the test of Mitchell's strength. We will accept Mitchell's vote to-morrow as the test of the Surveyor-General's strength in this County.

Correspondence.

That River des Caches Meeting.

NEGUAC, N. B. 9th, Sept. 1878.

To the Editor of the Miramichi Advance.

MR. EDITOR:—In the last issue of the Advocate I notice, among other specimens of absurdity and falsehood, correspondence from Neguac signed "Voter," in answer to my letter of the 26th ultimo. As "Voter" says that my statements, in reference to the meeting held by Mr. Mitchell at the River des Caches School House are inaccurate I am obliged to have again recourse to your widely circulated paper for a few remarks on his communication, in order that he may have another opportunity of displaying his epistolary abilities.

"Voter" denies that Mr. Mitchell told Mr. Amateur Savoie to take the chair. This denial leads me to believe that "Voter" was either asleep or not present at the meeting, for all who were there, with the exception of two or three who are always in the opposition in every matter, whatever, agree with me, that Mr. Mitchell asked Mr. Ameteur Savoie to take the chair, but as that gentleman had not his coat on he declined, but being called several times, he reluctantly complied with Mr. Mitchell's request. He says, "I presume the writer, who has had the impertinence to furnish such stuff, did not know better". I tender him my most sincere thanks for this flattering compliment and will add that had I been so warm a supporter of Mr. Mitchell as "Voter" is I would not have let such a great speaker talk during two long hours, without trying to give him some encouragement, either by applause or cheers. It is true that one attempt only was made to cheer our honorable, lecturer by one of his friends, but the result was that the speaker asked the gentleman who had muttered unintelligible words, what he said and the answer was a hearty laugh from every one present. "Voter" will, of course, deny this assertion but we cannot blame him, for it is not his fault if he is deaf and narrow-minded; we only pity him because he is a good soul, after all, and it is not the heart that is missing in him but only the brain. The following part of my letter is quoted by "Voter": "those present listened patiently and at "the close were going away quietly." To this he answers in this way." This is absolutely false, as not a single man who came to the meeting to listen to the Hon. Peter Mitchell went away" Well I am exceedingly sorry to have again to differ from my friend "Voter's" opinion and it might be because I do not understand the meaning he intends to convey by his ambiguous sentence.

If, according to his statement no one went away but three or four stage passengers, the rest of us must have enjoyed the night's rest in the school house. I am very sure, for my part, that I did not sleep there that night, and I am told that none did it either. He does not know perhaps, what is the meaning of the word close, and I will refer him to his pocket dictionary in which he will find that, close is a substantive means—conclusion or end. When I read Voter's letter—and others of the same kind published in Mr. Mitchell's organs—The Advocate, New Dominion, Daily Sun, and the other poor little sickly local organ, it recalls to my memory what Voltaire used to say, "Mentons, mentons il en restera, toujour quelque chose."—Let us lie, let us lie, something of it will always remain!" The opposition writers are evidently imitating the famous Voltaire in their endeavors to lead people astray by falsehood and slanders. The Parish of Alnwick, notwithstanding the sayings of those scribblers, will vote, almost in a body, for Mr. Snowball, and the 17th inst. will prove my assertion.

I have the honor to be, Mr. Editor,
Yours truly,
YEAZER.
