TRIPLE TRAGEDY IN AN ENGLISH FAMILY

Murdered Two That Suicided — Two Brothers Held for Complicity.

LONDON, Jan. 11. — A remarkable triple tragedy, all the victims being members of one family—occurred early on Saturday morning at the agricultural town of Mallow, in Essex, Councilor Frederick J. Cole and his son-in-law, Major Kitchen, were shot dead by the councilor's eldest son, Frederick, who, after a quarrel with his father, shot himself. Subsequent to the discovery of the crime two other sons of the dead councilor were arrested on a charge of complicity. They were brought before the magistrates yesterday and remanded until next Thursday. The tragedy seems to be the outcome of family estrangement. For some time Councilor Cole had differences with his sons, as a result of which he departed from them participating any longer in his business.

UPPER CANADIAN HOCKEY LEAGUE STARTED

MONTREAL, Jan. 11.—The first match in the interprovincial hockey league was played at the Arena on Saturday night, the Victorias, of Montreal, defeating the Ottawa team, of Ottawa by 15 to 12.

"CAN I GET WELL?"

If Your Trouble comes from the Kidneys, or from Kidney Poisons in the Blood, YES!

And if you have been ailing a long time don't lose your courage. It takes a little time—takes some constipation longer than others. But Doan's Kidney Pills will gradually drain the poisons out of your system; the pain in your back will stop; the sediment in the urine will cease; there will be no rheumatic pains; you will feel fresher and brighter, and when the last of the poisons have gone you will be well.

There is no way of getting the kidney poisons out of the system except through the kidneys, and no medicine so effective in taking them out as Doan's Kidney Pills. Mr. W. Perkins, South Maitland, N.S., writes: "I feel it my duty to let you know of the great cure I have obtained by using Doan's Kidney Pills. For six months I could not obtain a good night's rest, had to get up four or five times to urinate, and the urine was very thick and red. I commenced using Doan's Kidney Pills and in a very short time I was right, and fit again. I am very thankful to have found so speedy a cure."

TEN MILLION DOLLARS IN CHRISTMAS TIPS

Servants and Others in Paris Regard These Donations as Indubitable Rights

PARIS, Jan. 9.—The giving away of "tips" each Christmas and New Year in this city is directing attention to the enormous and ever-increasing sum in cash—exceeding ten million dollars—annually given away in Paris during the last week of the year. French customs (New Year gifts) are not looked upon by French servants or public employees in quite the same light as in America. In fact, they are considered as part and parcel of their salaries, and if employers and tenants did not give them, they would be regarded as depriving them of their wages. In England, French receivers of tips, with native shrewdness, invariably prefer hard cash.

In the central or business district Paris postmen's tips are liberal. Thus Messrs. Rothschild annually give 200,000 francs to their postmen. Many of the defendants are women of striking beauty, and they have likewise received many proposals from suitors who are in sympathy with their views.

The newspaper publishes eulogies of the 10,000 women and point out the utility of attempting to stifle public sentiment by public prosecution.

The liberal newspaper, which prepared the address for the girl Jesus, will open a fund on her behalf.

BERLIN, Jan. 9.—The German ministry of marine has decided to order four Zeppelin airships from the Zeppelin Airship Construction Company of Friedrichshafen.

Naval experts who recommended this innovation propose that the cruises shall be used for scouting rather than for destructive operations. Each of the four airships will have a capacity of from 10,000 to 14,000 cubic meters, so their size will be approximately equal to that of the latest Zeppelin vessels. They are to be built under Count Zeppelin's personal supervision, with all the latest improvements of the Zeppelin system included in them, and will cost $25,000 each. It is proposed to station two at Kiel.

Simultaneously with the construction of the aerial cruisers the supreme navy authorities propose to construct a new type of floating docks, which, when covered with a roof, will become a floating balloon ship. Hitherto the purchase of balloons has been obtained from the purchase of balloons.

PARIS, Jan. 9.—Sir Charles Lucas, official head of the new American Department of the Colonial office, is now engaged in what may prove to be a mission of considerable importance to Canada.

Negotiations of a highly important and interesting character are now proceeding between the Government of Canada and the West Indian Government the object of which is the establishment of reciprocal trade relations between the Dominion and the Islands.

The Canadian preference has already made a very striking difference to the trade between Canada and the West Indies, and there is no obvious reason why further adjustments should not be made. It will not surprise students of Canadian and West Indian affairs to learn before long that Sir Charles Lucas's visit to the Caribbean Sea has a practical connection with the negotiations now pending with Canada, the ultimate success of which is much to be desired.

DIED WHILE TRYING IN VAIN TO SAVE A LIFE

Police Officer Paid Into by Waters of Pond by Man Whom He Was Trying to Rescue.

BOSTON, Mass., Jan. 10.—A double tragedy was enacted in the waters of Foxknapp Pond in Canton late today, when William L. Meehan lost his life while fishing through the ice on the pond and Montreal Officer William Mater, of the Metropolitan Park police, was also drowned while attempting to rescue the fisherman. Meehan went to the pond early in the day with two companions to fish. While tending the line late in the afternoon he broke through the ice. His companions were unable to give much assistance. The mounted officer heard the cries for help and grabbing the reins from the horse which had brought the men to the pond, crawled out on the ice to rescue Meehan. Meehan caught the reins and pulled Meehan toward him, but the strain pulled Mater too far out on the thin ice and the officer also went into the icy water. Both men went down under the ice and did not again appear. Two hours later their bodies were recovered and each was holding tightly to the ends of the reins.

Meehan was 26 years old and lived at 18 Pierce street, Hyde Park, with his wife of less than a year. Officer Mater was 32 years old and leaves a widow and one child.

FLYING CRUISERS FOR GERMAN ARMY

Four Zeppelin Airships to be Built and Used as Scouts in Time of War.

MADRID, Jan. 9.—The trial of the 10,000 women who were prosecuted at Bilbao for approving the murderer of the girl Jesus, has resulted in their triumphant acquittal.

Last year a young milliner named Jesusa Pajana was sentenced to eight years imprisonment for having killed her betrothed for having been faithless. There were special circumstances connected with the crime, and 10,000 women in Bilbao signed an address of sympathy with the girl and extolling her act. This was prepared by the editor of the Liberal.

The address was conveyed to Jesusa by six beautiful girls, and was afterwards published. The public prosecutor decided that publication of the address was a punishable offense, and citations to answer the charge were served on its author and all the signatories. The girls, in whose behalf the address of sympathy was signed by the 10,000 women, has become a popular heroine. She is the most notable woman in that part of Spain, and when she is released from prison she will have many suitors.

Many of the defendants are women of striking beauty, and they have likewise received many proposals from suitors who are in sympathy with their views.

The newspaper publishes eulogies of the 10,000 women and point out the utility of attempting to stifle public sentiment by public prosecution.

CHURCH MURDER STILL BAFFLES THE POLICE

No Motive for Crime Discovered—Further
Evidence to Show Rev. Mr. Carmichael Was Insane.

PORT HURON, Mich., Jan. 9.—With the exhaustion here today of every known clue that might clear up the Rattle Run Methodist church murder mystery, interest tonight in the mysterious case is centred in the search being made for Rev. John H. Carmichael in Chicago. Three detectives who have been working on the case here in Chicago assisting the officers there in looking for the missing minister, for whose arrest on the charge of murdering Eldon Browning and burning his body in the church stove, a reward of $300 is offered. Exceeding that a man answering the minister's description took an early morning train for the tunnel station on Wednesday morning for Chicago, there were few developments in the case today.

The well in front of the little church was haled out today in the hope that it might contain some evidence that would help to solve the tangled case, but nothing was found.

Mrs. Carmichael was brought here again today for further examination by Prosecutor Brown. The fact of importance was learned, Mrs. Carmichael told the prosecutor that her husband had for some time suffered from an affection in his head, which caused him to form and discharge from his ears. This trouble in his head is taken by some investigators to support the belief that Rev. Carmichael must have been insane, if he were guilty of the slaughter of Browning.

The search for Carmichael in Chicago is based on the statement of the latest agent from the Grand Trunk tunnel depot that on Wednesday morning about five o'clock, about eight or ten hours after the probable hour the crime was committed, a bearded man wearing a fur coat and resembling Rev. Mr. Carmichael, came to the depot, bought a ticket for Chicago, and boarded the early train for the west. Land, however, could not positively identify a picture of Carmichael as his early morning visitor.

In support of the belief that it was Carmichael who took the train on Wednesday morning is the fact that the minister's horse was found a few miles from the tunnel depot, headed back toward the scene of the murder. It is reasoned that if Land's identification is correct, the minister drove from the church to the neighborhood of the depot and then started his horse back toward home.

In corroboration of the belief that the murder was committed by someone thoroughly familiar with the church, it is pointed out that one of the two stoves in the edifice did not draw well and that it was in the other stove, which was capable of a roaring fire that the body was cremated. Browning was evidently attacked and killed in the rear of the church, and then his corpse dragged down the aisle to the stove with the better drawn fire. The bodies of the minister and the girl Jesus were found in the church.

The authorities tonight are no nearer a solution of the baffling question of the motive for the murder, than when the crime was first discovered.

The feeling expressed by a number of farmers in the neighborhood leads to the belief that the Rattle Run church will be burned or torn down as a punishment for the crime.

Children and farmers' wives have expressed a determination never again to worship in the building, which, after used as a sanctuary for twenty years, was last Tuesday night profaned by a murder.

SWISS GUIDES ARE BADLY BATTERED

Miss Peck's Companions on Record-Breaking Ascent
Reach New York

GOING HOME

NEW YORK, Jan. 9.—In a battered condition, which bore eloquent testimony to the strenuous pace set for them by an American woman, R. Tangwald and G. Zaanstraen, the two hardened Swiss guides who accompanied Miss Annie E. Peck, the Providence, R. I. mountaineer in her recent perilous and record-breaking ascent of Mount Huascaran, the highest peak of the Peruvian Andes, arrived here today from Colon on board the steamship Advance.

After bidding goodnight to Miss Peck, who returned to New York a few weeks ago, they will sail for their Alpine home.

Zaanstraen was a pitiful figure as he hobbled painfully down the gang plank, his heavily bandaged hands grasping the crutch now needed to support him. In the ascent of Mount Huascaran, when Miss Peck's party reached a height of 24,000 feet, he was so badly frost-bitten that his left hand, part of his right hand and his right foot had to be amputated during a stay of six weeks in a hospital at Enxyl, Peru.

Tangwald, who stayed with his suffering comrades during the latter's weeks of pain, fared somewhat better, as he still has all of his limbs intact. He showed plainly, however, the effects of his arduous work.

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., Jan. 9.—The British steamer Gloriana arrived here today from Fowey, England, and reported having sighted a small dory adrift about fifty miles southwest of George's Shoal, off the coast of Newfoundland. By the name of the dory, "Theodore" could be distinguished on the little craft. The Gloriana had a tempestuous voyage.

A Word From the Advertising Man About Oak Hall's 20th Anniversary Sale

In over ten years of close connection with the Oak Hall store, I have never experienced such a strong desire to be sensational in my "copy" as I now feel in writing about the successful opening of this twentieth anniversary sale. And the salesmen have caught the spirit; they're as enthusiastic as boys.

Far-sighted, level-headed men and young men simply cannot resist such bargains as these, knowing the high merit and fame of Oak Hall clothing as all St. John people must.

Saturday I watched the enthusiastic buying, heard flattering comments of customers, enjoyed pleased looks as man after man was perfectly fitted in the suit or overcoat he wanted, noted the delighted surprise when they learned the extent of their saving.

TAXATION MAKES BREAD DEAR IN ITALY

Budget Speech of Minister of Finance
Provokes Much Discontent.

MILAN, Jan. 9.—The popular agitation in Italy against the iniquitous taxation of corn and flour, which, after Spain, is actually the highest in Europe, threatens to assume serious proportions, since Signor Carcano, minister of finance, has just definitely announced in his budget speech that the government has no intention either of abolishing or reducing the tax.

The abolition of the grain duties would, Signor Carcano declared, involve a reduction in the military expenditure of the country which the country certainly would not tolerate, above all at the present period of disquiet. A suspension policy, he argued, would render the reimposition of the tax impossible, besides preventing the completion of urgent public works, and would also place stock exchanges and the general public at the mercy of unscrupulous speculators.

The budget speech has produced a distinctly unfavorable impression on the country, as Italy's flourishing financial condition is more apparent than real.

Meanwhile the problem of unemployment is pressing to the fore, and is already acute in south Italy. Great demonstrations of 20,000 agricultural laborers in Palermo marched in procession with banners accompanied by the mayors and councilors of neighboring towns, protesting against the threatened rise in American wheat tariffs.

Serious riots have occurred in the Apulia province, where thousands are starving as an outcome of the vine which recently described. At Cerignola crowds of famishing unemployed demanding the dear price of bread have rushed harkens' shops emptying them of all their stock.

WOMEN MUST NOT VOTE

It is now definitely settled that the fair sex shall not vote. This burning question was decided on Saturday night within the classic hall of Kings College Law School, J. Edgar Tait, 99, with such eloquent supporters as Hazen, Teed and Main, vainly attempted to show his honor Judge H. O. McSherry, that women had as much right to needle with graft as the sterner sex. Honore A. Porter, 11, and Harry W. Lunn, 98, in able speeches showed conclusively that woman's place was in her home, taking care of the children.

Antonio di Matteo, chief of staff for Junio de Angella, leaves this evening on an extended visit to Italy. Tony's friends, and they are innumerable, will regret that for some time his health has been poor, and his physician has ordered a trip to a warmer climate than this. Naturally Tony's thoughts have turned homeward and he hopes to regain in Italy the strength which this northern climate prohibits. He will go first to Rome, and later to southern Italy, though not to the Calabrian country, and hopes to return here next autumn fully restored to health. He believes that Canada is the best land of all, and nothing short of physical incapacity will keep him away from St. John.

ANTONIO GOING TO ITALY

BERLIN, Jan. 11.—The Allgemeine Zeitung, publishes an official account of the Kaiser's New Year's Day talk with his generals. It says that the meeting was quite a private one and that the conversation was in nowise intended for publication. His majesty asked of the information gained at the last manoeuvres and also upon an academic military study recently published and which had largely to do with the effect upon modern warfare of a newly invented weapon. The Kaiser had no particular design whatever in mind.

BOSTON, Jan. 9.—Governor Eben S. Draper, in his first speech since his resignation as governor of the commonwealth, before the Middlesex Club late today, declared himself as in favor of a new charter for the city, but against the government of the city by commission at least at present.
