NOT YOURS BUT HIS.

"I seek not yours, but you."—2 Cor. xii. 11.

Men are usually quick to suspect others of the vices to which they themselves are prone. It is very hard for one to see in another a thing which he sees in himself, and he is quick to see in others what he sees in himself. It is very hard for one to see in another a thing which he sees in himself, and he is quick to see in others what he sees in himself.

I cannot imagine a man who, in any deep sense, has results of his obligations to his fellow-men, and in any real sense has made the great act of self-renunciation and crowned Christ as his Lord, living for the rest of his life as so many professing Christians do, dumb and idle in so far as work for the Master is concerned.

Let fertility waste from the earth, let the waters of the sea consume, let the heavens be drained of light, let the sun be extinguished, let the earth be of God vanish away. He can reproduce all. Had he divided the universe among the elder children of light and left himself without a world, yet with himself in more love, than the visible things of this world, he would return to the Father in his fullness, his love, himself, more glorious than the things he has made.

Endurance of burdens depends upon seeing the unseen. When wealth is swept away, seeing Him who is invisible makes the sufferer richer and treasure than gold. When earthly honors are lost, seeing the invisible means looking upon the higher throne of power. When grief rolls in its flood of agony, seeing the invisible makes the sufferer richer and treasure than gold.

People often speak of the solemnity of dying. It is a grave and serious matter, but it is a great blessing to be able to die. Dying is not the end of life, but the beginning of a new life. It is living that is the end of life.

What about Saturday? Remember the Sabbath day, to keep it holy. It is written not only in the decalogue, but also in man's nature. Sir Robert Peel once said he never forgot the Sabbath. He was a man of God, and he was a man of God.

First of all, nearly every person has it. Everyone knows just what it is. But everyone who does not know exactly what it does, when once started. It affects, pervades and constantly encroaches upon the mucous surfaces of the nose, throat, stomach, bowels and bladder.

And this can be done only by treating the Kidneys. The best and best done in many cases by D-d's Kidney Pills. This unprecedented kidney treatment has cured catarrh along with other obstinate diseases.

Timely Warning. The great success of the chocolate preparations of the house of Walter Baker & Co. (established in 1780) has led to the placing on the market many misleading and unscrupulous imitations of their name, labels, and wrappers.

III—Lastly, and only a word, Christ seeks us, and ours. Not you without yours, still less yours without you. The great place now is the big question of a sermon the time, to talk about so wide a subject as the ethics of christian dealing with money.

Again the law of self-surrender, in its application to our possessions, implies that there shall be an element of sacrifice in our use of these; whether they be possessions of intellect, or acquisitions of influence or position, or of material wealth.
