A FIREMAN'S PERIL

How Zam-Buk Delivered Him.

At 215 Fraser Ave., Edmonton, Alta., lives W. P. Mahy, a former member of the local fire brigade, who has wonderful cause to be thankful for the curative powers of Zam-Buk. He says: "A serious skin disease broke out on my face, and spread until I was in a terrible state. The spots and little ulcers were frightfully irritating, and yet when scratched or rubbed they bled and smarted. Shaving caused me agony, and sometimes I would have to go two weeks without a shave. I tried home-made remedies, herb salves, and various other preparations, but the sores got no better. When Zam-Buk was mentioned I had little faith that it would be able to do me any good. My case seemed such an obstinate one. I gave it a fair trial, however, and the first box made such a wonderful change for the better that it gave me encouragement to continue. I did so, and to cut a long story short, Zam-Buk, in the end, quite cured me. My face is now clear of all traces of the terrible disease, which troubled me for so long."

Thousands of sufferers from eczema, blood poison, ulcers, chronic sores, piles, ringworm, cold sores, cuts, burns and skin injuries, have been relieved and cured as was Mr. Mahy, by Zam-Buk. As a balm for all skin injuries and diseases it is without equal. All druggists and stores at 50c. box, or post free from Zam-Buk Co., Toronto, or post free from Zam-Buk Co. substitutes.

IS SWEET SIXTEEN BUT IS MARRIED

Spokane, March 13.—Love found a way for the youthful elopers from Pullman, who have passed through thrilling and unusual experiences since they left the college town Wednesday in a buggy.

The license was obtained early, Miss Klemgard's mother, wife of a Pullman banker, giving her consent, and Charles Parsons, a well-to-do real estate man of Spokane, father of the boy, readily acceding to the compact. The ceremony was performed at the home of the bridegroom's parents, the girl being taken there from the Young Women's Christian Association rooms, where she slept Friday night. Marcell Parsons met Bessie Klemgard two weeks ago for the first time. A week later the girl was buying garments in Pullman, unknown to parents intended for wedding trousseau. Wednesday morning they drove in a buggy to Moscow, bought more bridal refineries and slept that night in a Spokane hotel which housed a pursuing brother of the girl. Thursday the couple came to Spokane on a train, following the brother, eluding all the sleuths, and Thursday night stayed at a Spokane hotel. Friday afternoon a "Boy Scout" discovered the would-be bridegroom, and the bride-to-be was located and today the wedding completed the chain.

THE GERMAN COAL STRIKE

Over 240,000 Men Now Out and Situation Appears to be Growing Worse — Several Clashes.

Berlin, March 13.—The coal miners' strike in the great German coal fields of Westphalia continue to spread. There are over 240,000 men now on strike, and the situation is becoming more serious than in several districts in readiness for a general strike. The rigid repressive measures of the government have resulted already in a final conflict between the police and the striking miners in the district of Herne. The feeling among the men is increasing in intensity owing to the demands for a fifteen per cent. increase in their wages and for shorter hours.

THE MOSLEM MINARETS OF LONDON

Mohammendans Build Beautiful Mosque at Cost of $500,000 — Project Has Royal Patronage.

London, March 13.—A new feature is about to be added to cosmopolitan life in London in the shape of a Mohammedan mosque of typical Eastern beauty, right in the heart of Belgrave. London folk will thus, for the first time in the history of the ancient city, experience the musical tinkle of the tocsin calling the faithful to worship, and early risers may witness the strange sight of the white robed figures of devout Moslems hurrying to perform their matutinal devotions at the break of day.

EXPEDITION HAS RETURNED

Australian Ship Aurora Returns to Hobart—Found No Trace of Clarie Coast—Aeroplanes Valuable.

Hobart, Tasmania, March 12.—The ship Aurora, which sailed from this port on December 2nd last, with the Australian antarctic expedition under the leadership of Dr. Douglas Mawson aboard, returned to Hobart today. The Aurora is commanded by Captain J. K. Davis. She landed two separate parties at two points in the antarctic regions; one under Dr. Mawson on January 19th, and the other under Dr. Wilde, who is a veteran of the Shackleton and Scott marches on February 19th.

ANCIENT BOLOGNA FOUND IN A TRUNK

Lancaster, Ohio, March 16.—Henry Mayer, of this city has a curiosity in the shape of a piece of Bologna that is thirty-two years old. At the time it was made Mayer and Fred Bauman were in the butcher business and the day that this Bologna was made Bauman took sick, and upon staying outside of the door fell dead. Mayer took a piece of the Bologna, put it up in a piece of paper and took it home and placed it in his trunk, where it has remained ever since.

OBITUARY

HORACE W. MCKENNA. Parsboro, Mar. 13.—Horace W. McKenna, barrister, passed away today after a long and painful illness, aged 60 years. Mr. McKenna was the son of Joseph L. and Emma S. McKenna, of Tremont, Kings county, and was educated at the Normal School, Truro and Acadia College. He graduated from the latter in 1889. He read law at Halifax and with Messrs. Townsend, Dickie and Rogers, of Amherst, was admitted to be attorney in 1893 and barrister the year following. In 1896 he married A. Blanche, daughter of the late M. L. Tucker, who with two daughters survive him. He is also survived by four brothers, two in Kings county and two in the United States. During his 20 years' residence in Parsboro, he successfully combined the business of law and lumbering.

ATTEMPTS MURDER WHILST SHE DREAMS

Atlanta, Ga., March 13.—That his wife shot him unintentionally while dreaming was the unique theory said to have been advanced today by Eugene H. Grace, critically wounded by a bullet, while his wife is in jail in connection with the mysterious case. It came as a part of the maze of conflicting charges which have been baffling the local police. Mrs. Grace, who was re-arrested yesterday, and whose husband, who is in bed, had issued a writ to recover several insurance policies from her, is still held without bail. She persists in saying she is innocent. There was little change in the wounded man's condition this morning.

SCHOOL TEACHERS ARE ALL SINGLE

The Instructors of the Young Idea in Austria are Forbidden by the Law to Marry. Vienna, March 15.—The Diet of Lower Austria has refused to grant the petition of hundreds of school teachers to repeal the law prohibiting school teachers from marrying under penalty of losing their positions. Delegations of teachers appeared before the Diet committee and argued all churches except the Catholic recognized the right of their priests and ministers to marry and demanded to know under what justifiable law, human or divine, the school teachers of Austria were condemned to celibacy until too old to teach and too old to marry. The repeal of the law was defeated by the Clerical party, known as the "Christian Socialists." The Social Democrats voted for the repeal.

SPUNKY OLD JAILER HANDLES CRAZY MAN

Philadelphia, Pa., Mar. 13.—Handcuffed by a broken wrist, Peter Jones the 72 year old turnkey of the 11th district police station, grappled with and finally overcame a drunken prisoner. Lawrence Nash, 60 years old, of 837 Lawrence street, was arrested on Richmond street while he was intoxicated and was taken to the 11th district police station by Policeman McCaffrey. About a half hour afterwards, Nash rattled madly at the cell bars and demanded a drink of water, which the man again dashed the cup. Nash kicked him on the wrist with such force as to break the bones. When Jones rose and faced Nash the man again attacked him. Crippled as he was, Jones grappled bravely with Nash. Jones' wiry build, however, made him quicker and after a hard struggle he succeeded in overpowering him. This done he left the cell locking the door behind him, and went to St. Mary's hospital where his broken wrist was treated.

STEAMSHIP TO PORT OF MISSING SHIPS

London, March 16.—The deplorable number of missing ships which has so considerably increased during the past few months is receiving the earnest attention of the Imperial Merchant Service Guild. One of the saddest cases has been that of the London steamer Wingrove, commanded by A. R. Jages, M. S. G., who was one of the most enthusiastic and especially dutiful of the Guild's members. The Wingrove left Shields on the 9th of December last for Port Said, and when about 1,000 miles southwest of Ushant, the second engineer broke his leg in two places, and the vessel rolled and bore up for Plymouth, where he arrived on the 16th December, and sailed again on the 18th. From that date nothing whatever has been heard of the vessel, whose loss must now remain a mystery. Captains and officers maintain that since the raising of the lead line many of the old vessels have lost their reserve buoyancy especially during bad weather, when heavy seas flood the decks and counteract what little buoyancy has been reserved for keeping the vessel afloat. The archives of the Guild contain undeniable evidence of cases where vessels have just managed to reach port under the greatest difficulty.

MUSIC HATH CHARMS TO CURE TOOTHACHE

Pasadena, March 13.—Music hath charms to soothe the aching tooth, according to Gustav Laders, who for eleven years has been writing the music for some of the most tuneful light operas of the American stage and who is now hard at work in the little bungalow at the Hotel Maryland completing the score of "The Gypsy," which will be produced on Broadway this spring. No more will mlady seek the headache powders when throbbing temples hold sway, but she will turn on the phonograph and permit Beethoven's "Moonlight Sonata," or his Fifth Symphony in C minor to do the work of phenacetine. "Wagner is the great physician," said Mr. Laders. "Few are the illnesses which will withstand his notes, so full of his vitality." The "Traumerei" of Shumann is the sure cure for neuritis, according to evidence of cases where the greatest medium to cure ill.

PASSENGERS SIT ON INFERNAL MACHINE. The Taxi Riding Public of Gay Paree are Rapidly Becoming Scared of Ascending on a Bomb. Paris, Mar. 11.—A terrifying feature has been added to the strike of chauffeurs by the explosion of several bombs in auto taxis. Three persons have been hurt, but neither was seriously wounded. An officer of the bureau of combustibles was badly burned while examining one of the infernal machines that had been discovered in a public automobile. Bombs had been so placed in the cushions of the seats that passengers were unable to detect any unusual amiss. All this far discovered were of the same pattern. High explosives have not yet been used, the mechanics limiting themselves to bombs likely to cause a fire and destroy the vehicle. Police surveillance has been increased, but the discoveries have caused uneasiness among the public patronizing taxi cabs. For several weeks the companies affected by the strike have been waging war on the strikers, sending their vehicles through the streets escorted by police. It is a common sight now to see two men on the box, one a new chauffeur, the other a municipal guard protecting him.
