AN WOMEN IS ARRESTED

Peter Anderson will Face Serious Charge in Police Court this Morning — Is Believed Insane.

Arrested in the North End late yesterday afternoon by Police Officer Briggs, Peter Anderson, age 34, a resident of the city, will be arraigned before the court this morning on a serious charge of assault. On the police report book, the charge laid against the prisoner is that of "using insulting language to Mrs. Walter Coffin and Mrs. William K. Munford," but it is understood that the prisoner appears in court this morning to be obliged to answer a charge of a far more serious nature, that of attempted assault on the above two mentioned women of the North End.

It is alleged that Anderson was a short time ago released from the Provincial Hospital and is subject to fits of insanity. Complaints from various localities of the North End of the notorious actions of a young man, apparently slightly demented, were received at the North End and central police stations, and Chief Clark gave orders for the man's immediate arrest. Shortly before five o'clock Officer Briggs encountered Anderson on Main street and keeping in touch with the man took him in custody when about to enter a Harrison street house where he had before been guilty of attempt assault.

According to the story told the police by a victim, Anderson entered the home of Mrs. William Munford, Harrison street, about noon yesterday, and seizing her violently threw her to the floor, exercising considerable force that she was able to escape.

Other residents and pedestrians along Adelaide road complained of the actions of the man who was annoying women in the vicinity. Anderson was confined in the Provincial Hospital, but was dismissed some months ago and was recently detained in the General Public Hospital under the care of a local physician.

COMPARISON OF SALARIES School Teachers in Halifax to Receive a Substantial Increase—Big Difference in St. John.

The teachers of Halifax are to receive a substantial increase in their salaries if the new schedule as approved by the committee, which had the matter in charge, is adopted by the trustees. The scale in Halifax will be: For class A teachers, $500 for initial salary with an increase in four years to $650. For class B the salaries will range from $470 to $570 and for class C the salaries will be from $440 to $520. This scale is for teachers in the common schools below grade eight.

Vice-principals receive $50 extra and a teacher with a record of five years' successful teaching is regarded as equal to a college degree and $60 is added for this. Practically all the teachers in the St. John schools are first class teachers which is equal to the class of Nova Scotia.

In St. John the scale for teachers, who have had long experience ranges from $375 to $550. A prominent citizen said yesterday that it hardly seemed fair to the children of St. John that teachers should be underpaid. For, said he, with the great demand in the market for teachers it will soon be that all the good ones have left St. John and only the poorer ones will be left. We should, said he, think more of our children than to expect them to get along in this world without proper education and the best teachers are none too good when the teaching of the young is considered.

The competition in all lines of endeavor is very keen and the people of St. John should be satisfied that their children are obtaining the best mental training available. It is becoming recognized in all parts of New Brunswick that good teachers can only be obtained by paying fair salaries but citizens in general seem convinced that the teachers of St. John should be the best in the province and that salaries should be sufficient to keep them here when once secured.
