WHAT IS THE PRACTICAL VALUE AND ADVANTAGE OF THE VOTE TO THE WOMEN OF CANADA?

Perhaps you are one of the many Canadian women who have always been vitally interested in the franchise and vote. Or perhaps you are one of those who frankly have not thought or cared about it. Whichever you may be, the time is here now when all of us, young and old, rich and poor, country women and city women, home-makers and wage-earners, must decide how we are going to shoulder our new responsibilities—whether we are going to vote, or whether we are going to shrink.

No one knowing Canadian women and their record of government service during the war would imagine any shrinking when the call for women's help sounded. It is what, in all respects, to this vote in our power—a clarion call to Canadian women to help decide what Government and what laws are best for Canada and to assist in securing that Government and these laws.

Making History.

On December 6, for the first time in history, every Canadian woman of 21 and over, will have a vote at the general elections.

There is a thrill in the thought that the women of today are making history. Generations to come will point back to the Federal elections of 1921 when, for the first time, all Canadian women had the right to vote. Probably history will tell, too, why the vote came to us at this time—that it was in its way, an awakening to our noble Arthur Meighen says, given voluntarily by the Government of Canada, backed by the party that supported it, as an act of justice, in recognition of Canadian women's splendid patriotic service and untiring devotion during the war.

Canada Needs Its Women.

Canadian women's share in war work was, in its way, an awakening to our possibilities. Canada needed us and we responded eagerly. After we had once tasted the joy of being a necessary part of the country we love we could never again be satisfied with purely personal affairs. Women's chief interest always will be the home, but our outlook had broadened and we could never again be indifferent to the national welfare.

Thus it seems providential that on the heels of women's war service there came the franchise, which makes women equally responsible with men for the Government, the laws and the whole development of the country.

And now with this new responsibility, as enfranchised citizens, and the vote in our hand—of what actual, practical value and advantage will it prove to Canadian women?

There are advantages that are general, and there are vital, immediate, advantages that apply to the coming election, and that will make every woman grateful that she can cast her vote to prevent national disaster.

Here are some of the general advantages gained by the power of the vote—all providing that women use their vote:

1. It gives women full citizenship in Canada, and gives them the same political status that men enjoy.
2. Representing over half of the population, it makes women the deciding influence in an election—and so gives an opportunity to keep undesirable political candidates or parties out of office.
3. It puts women on the same level of national importance and usefulness as men.
4. It is a recognition of the value of women's opinion.
5. It makes it possible for men and women to co-operate on an equal basis, in all matters of national importance.
6. It gives women a fair share in governing Canada.
7. It broadens women's point of view; because women are naturally conscientious, and, using the vote, they will first want to fully understand all the issues at stake.
8. It removes the former conditions where an intelligent Canadian woman had less political power than an ignorant foreigner man.
9. It gives an opportunity to force a revision of antiquated laws respecting women's legal status.
10. Women have always taken a vital interest in laws relating to the home; to the school; to women; to children; to education; to public health; to child welfare; to regulation of hours of work and minimum wage for women and girls; to conditions of work for women in factories; to various forms of social service work. Frequently they have endeavored to secure improved legislation on these matters. But petitions of those who "lack vote and influence" are not as effective as voters' petitions. Such petitions presented by women now, will get more consideration than formerly—that is simply human nature applied to politics.

So much for the advantage and value of the vote in a general way. It is an even more vital advantage at the present crisis, and as briefly as possible let us consider the reasons.

1. In the coming general election the issue is the tariff. Canada has a protective tariff. That is to say, Canada imposes duty on imported goods. This serves two purposes.

1st. It provides a substantial revenue for national expenses—a revenue that would have to be replaced by increased taxes were the tariff removed. 2nd. It protects our industries. Without protection these industries, which are absolutely vital to the country's welfare, could not possibly compete with similar industries in the United States. Were the tariff removed, American goods would swamp the Canadian market. Many of our industries would be ruined, or at best greatly reduced in output, others would be absorbed by the United States, and thousands of Canadians would be thrown permanently out of work.

Canada would cease to develop industrially. The country we are so proud of, would be at a standstill. And everyone would suffer from the inevitable hard times.

The United States is the most successful and progressively industrial country in the world.

Why? Because the States have such a high protective tariff on imported goods that it keeps imports out, and so retains the bulk of the business for American manufacturers. And note this: In the last few months the United States has so increased their tariff on wheat, fruit, etc., that $160,000,000 worth of our usual exports to that country are cut off. Moreover, they are now advocating an increased protective tariff on manufactured goods as well. Why are they doing this? So as to provide through greater home production, more labor for their unemployed.

And yet, actually with unemployment Canada's biggest problem today two parties—the Liberals, and the Farmers'—so-called "Progressive" party, are demanding and are pledged to give, reduced tariff and eventually free trade. If, at the elections they win the majority that would put them in power.

It is not common sense, and women who are very practical will quickly grasp this fact—low tariff would be the most disastrous thing that could happen to Canada at this time when we must develop industrially, must have more and ever growing industries to provide permanent employment for all our Canadian workers.

Then let us bear this in mind: The immeasurable value of women's vote in this election is that it can prove Canada's salvation. It can guarantee Canada's continued industrial development. All that is needed to achieve this is that women use their vote for the candidate of the National Liberal Conservative Party who is running in their riding. Remember that a vote against that candidate is a vote against the real welfare of the country.

There are other reasons which can make the women's vote at this time of the greatest value, indeed a blessing if used wisely—not only to women themselves, but to the whole nation.

By electing the candidates of the National Liberal Conservative Party, and returning that party to power, women—

Calcutta Makes Ready To Receive Prince of Wales

H. R. H. Will Be There for the Festivities of Christmas Week.

London, Nov. 18.—(By Canadian Press)—Christmas week in always the big week of the year in Calcutta, with the race for the Viceroy's Cup and other festivities, and the climate is at its best then. The Prince will arrive at Calcutta on the morning of Christmas eve, and will remain there until the afternoon of December 30th. The outstanding ceremonial there will be the opening by His Royal Highness of the Victoria Memorial Hall—some twenty years after its conception by Lord Curzon. One cause of the delay has been the development of the Makram quarries in order that only Indian marble, instead of imported marble, might be used in the construction of the memorial, and another cause has been the development of the war. Calcutta has long been known as the City of Palaces, but it has no building which can compare in magnificence with this wonderful memorial to the great grandmother of the Prince of Wales, which is to be, in its contents, a mirror of Indian history under British rule.

"More Men Than Women Have Nervous Troubles"

This is the statement of a specialist on Nervous Diseases who comes in contact with many thousands of cases. The increase in diseases of the nerves during the last five years has been enormous.

Overwork

Mr. D. F. Armstrong, R. R. No. 3, Mallorytown, Ont., writes:—"Through overwork and an extra amount of mental strain, I became very nervous and rundown. I began using Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, and it certainly 'cured' the right spot. It almost seemed for a time as though I fairly lived on it, and I can recommend this treatment to anyone requiring a medicine of this kind." (Sworn before me at Mallorytown, this 7th day of March, 1921.—D. S. Clow, J.P.)

Sleeplessness

Mr. W. J. Van Dusen, Centre St., Napawan, Ont., writes:—"For some time I suffered from sleeplessness and all the weakness and tired feelings that follow continual loss of sleep. Gas would accumulate in my stomach, and this also caused a great deal of trouble. Upon the advice of a friend I began a treatment of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, and soon found it to be just what I required. By the time I had completed the treatment my system was in splendid condition and I felt much stronger." (Endorsed by C. Casey Denison, Mayor.)

Rheumatism

Mr. Charles R. Tait, Newtown, Kings Co., N.B., writes:—"I suffered with rheumatism and my stomach was in a very weak state. I could eat no fruit of any kind and suffered nearly all the time. I tried several doctors, but got no relief from any of them. I was at a drug store one day and overheard two men talking, one was telling the other about Dr. Chase's Nerve Food completely relieving him of rheumatism. I bought a box, thinking it would be like all the rest of them, but, after taking this one box, I felt so much better that I continued the treatment, and now I can eat anything and do not suffer any more with the rheumatism." (This is to certify that I am personally acquainted with Mr. Charles R. Tait, and believe his statement is true and, to my knowledge, correct.—Signed, A. S. Mack, J.P.)
