THE CASE OF CUBA,

Municipal elections were held in Cuba on Saturday and they resulted in the triumph of the National party not only in ought to serve as a warning to the government of the United States that the time has come when Cuba will demand that the pledges made in respect to it should be carried out, and its people allowed to work out their own destiny in their own way. There has always been a shrewd suspicion cans got a firm footing in the island they would never give it up. Yet not only did President McKinley declare that the United States had no designs on Cuba, but a resolution to that effect was passed by congress, so that the people of the United States are under the most solemn pledges to grant the people of Ouba their independence. More than two years have passed since then and the people of Cuba are naturally becoming impatient at the long delay in the carrying out of those pledges. that they were to be kept in their present they would rebel as they did against Spain. and that a war, of which the end would be difficult to forsee, would begin for the purpose, of achieving their independence. It is to be hoped for the sake of the good name of the United States that the pledges given to the Cubans will be car-

MR. BIRMINGHAM.

We have not heard very much of late about Mr. Birmingham who threatened Sir Charles Tupper recently with a disclosure of the Tory election frauds committed at the general elections of 1882 and 1887. Mr. Birmingham, as is well known, is the chief organizer of the Tory party in the province of Ontario and has been relied on very much to do election work for that party. As he has been through all the elections for many years past, he is competent to speak on the subject of the election frauds committed by his own party and his statement that there were frauds in 1882 and 1887 will be generally accepted as a conclusive evidence on that subject. It is a sort of confession which will be taken to settle the point, so far as the individual himself and his immediate friends are concerned. Mr. Birmingham evidently says that the elections of 1882 and 1887

THE BUSINESS VIEW.

Sir Hibbert Tupper, on motion to go into supply, brought up questions of royal-ties collected in the Yukon, and said that Alexander MacDonald, the Klondike King, was especially favored in the case of ex-emptions. There was no statement by Mr. MacDonald of what he had mined from his claims. The whole case was on the circumstance that an extension of time had been granted to MacDonald for the had been granted to MacDonald for the had been granted to MacDonald for the payment of his royalty. There was the best of evidence that Major Walsh and all the officials had acted honestly in the public interest which there was not a title of evidence that MacDonald's royalties had not been paid. Mr. Sutherland reminded the house that Sir Hibbert Tupper prophesied in the house that not one dollar of royalty would be collected but as a matter of fact over $300,000 had been collected in the first year. Sir Hibbert, he said, was fond of condemning men unheard on ex parte statements, newspaper trash and declarations of irresponsible people instead of arguing the question on the work done by officials He (Sutherland) could appeal to the common sense of the country as to whether there was the slightest suspicion to be attached to Major Walsh or any other officials.
