Col. Kirkpatrick Needs 400 More Men and Needs Them Quickly

ALL COMING SOON FOR 64TH

Officers of 55th Have Done More Than Their Share in Filling Ranks - Kings County's Brilliant Sons Continue Campaign Meetings.

It is incorrect to speak of the 55th attalion being recruited to its full strength yet. Progress has been steady on the whole as satisfied the commanding officer, Lieutenant-Colonel J. R. Kirkpatrick, considers that the bulk of the work has fallen on his own officers. He and they have, in that every case, to feel proud of the results they have attained. Especially is it satisfactory when it is realized that as the numbers under canvas at Sussex grew the greater were the obligations of the officers to take up the actual work of training the men and the greater the demand upon their time for that first purpose for which officers themselves volunteered their services. No battalion in Canada has been got together so exclusively by the persistence of its own officers as the 55th.

By round numbers the total of the battalion may be said to be between 800 and 1,000. The exact number cannot be estimated as there are always medical rejections to be considered which cannot be foreseen by the best of medical men. In fact, many cases of latent illness only develop after the men have been put to the actual test of military work. Some of the men who are of mature age cannot stand up to the work, though in the words of Captain Gardner, medical officer, the younger men grow up with it and strengthen.

But that is only the apparent number of the battalion. There has to be deducted the number of the overseas draft of 280 officers and men. Thus the total required for the 55th in the form that it will train with the first recruits, 1,400 officers and men, there remains still something like 400 men or nearly one-third of the battalion. No good can be done in letting this fact be overlooked. What is wanted is the optimism to recognize that much of the work is still ahead even in recruiting, not to speak of the technical side of making soldiers out of the material.

That it will be done in the case of the 55th battalion need not be doubted. With the project of recruiting for the 64th already announced the task becomes more imperative.

The announcement that the new battalion is to be formed almost at once is satisfactory, but if it begins forming it would be hard to see how the complement of the 55th would come from. It only emphasizes the fact that a steady recruiting policy, of the New Brunswick type, is needed now if it is to take up its allotted share fully among the sister provinces of the Empire.

Beyond the statement that no time is to be lost in getting the 64th under way, as soon as practicable, there is no news of the new recruits, or of the New Brunswick contributions to the war.

Minister-Private Speaks. Private and Rev. H. Creed, formerly of Hampton, who early in the recruiting for the 55th battalion gave up his church to join his ranks, preached in the Methodist church, Petrie, Sunday evening. He wore the khaki uniform of the king's service. His remarks were chiefly confined to a many statement which made a deep impression on the audience. The reasons why he had enlisted, incidentally he made a strong appeal for more men for the ranks of the battalion. His first reason, he said, was that he had been several times asked to speak on public platforms in favor of recruiting and disliked asking others to do what he himself would do. He said that he felt that this was a war in which the principles of righteousness and truth were at stake and he thought every able-bodied man should speak in its own cause; and, thirdly, he believed that his position in the ranks of a Canadian battalion would give him an opportunity for ministerial work of more importance than any other in the respect he regarded his call as more definite and insistent than preaching to civilian congregations.

Kings County Meeting. Four former Kings county men spoke at Hatfield's Point on Tuesday night for the purpose of recruiting for the purpose of making plain the issues of the war. G. W. Ganong acted as chairman. He remarked that New Brunswick seemed to feel the effects of the war less than any of the Canadian provinces in its general trade prosperity. That was due to the largely increased exports of war supplies that had gone through St. John which had had the result of improving the trade of the whole province. Then MacBride said in this city, on the 16th inst., the large number of her sons who had joined the expeditionary forces had relieved unemployment.

Dr. Hartley, the next speaker, said that he thought the present war so far as Great Britain was concerned, was even a more holy war than any of the Crusades had been.

Dr. E. M. Keirstead stated that in previous wars of this nature the freedom that the people of the dominion had been won and they now owed it as much to the past as to the future to take up arms in the cause of freedom for liberty had its duties to the past as well as to the future.

Sir George E. Foster gave many statistics of the war and showed how Canada had contributed the patriotic and Belgian funds. Referring to the causes of the war he declared that the righteousness of the cause for which the country fought would bring its inevitable reward and victory. He appealed to all to make a more organized effort to support the patriotic efforts as it was only the conviction that the best results would be obtained. He closed by pointing out that it was the duty of every young man who was physically fit to join one of the Canadian units for overseas service.

Rev. W. J. Wilkinson and Rev. Mr. Barlow were on the platform. Mrs. Newburn sang Hail Britannia and Hatfield Wetmore and others sang selections.

CONDENSED NEWS LOCAL AND GENERAL

Mayor Frink has received contributions from the Belgians as follows: Lucille Bridges, Gagetown, $1.85; G. T. McC, $1.60.

Twenty-six marriages were recorded last week with Registrar J. B. Jones. He also reports twenty-three births, thirteen boys and ten girls.

Mayor Frink acknowledges receipt of contributions for the Belgian relief fund as follows: J. B. Gough, Jacksonville, Carleton county, $2; Mrs. J. F. Harper, Jacksonville, $2.

The rapidly with which Fair Vale is being developed is indicated by the fact that C. B. D'Arvy reports sales of lots in Fair Vale Heights this week to three prospective builders, Walter Hart, Ernest Gregory and William D. Henderson.

Reid MacManus, of Memramook (N. B.), has been awarded the contract for the construction of a spur line connecting the main line of the International with the new pulp mill just erected by the Bathurst Lumber Company. The contract price is $61,000.

At the board of health offices last week seventeen deaths were registered, the causes being two each from uraemia, meningitis, and hepatitis, and one each from scellity, bronchitis, pneumonia, peritonitis, premature birth, heart disease, Bright's disease, tubercular meningitis, puerperal septicaemia, infantile, and malignant disease of stomach.

The body cast up on the shore near Oak Point and discovered there on Friday, is still unidentified. Coroner Belyea of Westfield still has charge of the body and no one has communicated with him during Saturday or yesterday to even suggest that some person had been missing. If identification is not made today the body will probably be interred.

Messrs. McLaggan, McBean and Bell have started work on the concrete culvert at Victoria Mills, Frederickton (N. B.), where the railway is being connected. The C. P. R. tracks are being connected. The firm has been awarded the contract for the erection of the I. C. R. stations at Derby Junction, Camp Hill and Woodville. The new stations are to be wooden buildings with concrete foundations.

The following additional subscriptions have been received by Daniel Mullin, C. C., Belgian Consul, for the Belgian Relief Fund, and deposited toward the credit of fund in the Union Bank of Canada here: Previously acknowledged $490.70 W. S. Allison, $1.00 G. Guy Merritt, $1.00 Thos. and Robt. Scarborough, $1.00 Mrs. F. B. Schofield, $2.00 P. Chipman Schofield, $2.00

Fire, the cause of which is unknown, completely destroyed a large barn, harness and the property of the Fenwick Cemetery Company, at Fenhill, Thursday afternoon, and threatened the destruction of the valuable residence occupied by Superintendent John Himm, which will amount to more than $2,000 and is partly covered by insurance, carried in the North British Mercantile Company. The fire started in the upper story where half a ton of gunpowder was stored.

The nationality of Lieutenant Warford, V. C., who was killed recently in a flight, has been established. The late Lieutenant Warford was a cousin of Dr. Warford, of Hampton (N. B.), and was born in India. Dr. Warford said last week that the deceased aviator, who won undying fame in destroying a Zeppelin after a battle in the air with the monster machine, was born in India and lived there with his parents during his boyhood. He later attended school in England, where he was employed at the outbreak of war.

It is not hard to stop the hair from falling out by promoting its growth if the right means are used. There is no hope for the scalp where the hair roots are dead and the scalp is shiny. However, to those who have not reached this condition, immediate steps should be taken to stop it before it is too late. Here is a simple recipe which you can make at home. It promotes the growth of hair from falling out, promotes its growth, and eradicates scalp eruptions and scalp humors. To a half-pint of water add one ounce of bay rum, a small box of Orelx Compound, and a quarter of an ounce of glycerine and apply to the hair, rubbing with the finger-tips two or three times a week. These ingredients can be obtained at any chemist's at very little cost, and mixed at home. This recipe not only promotes the growth of hair, but deters the scalp from becoming greasy and makes it soft and glossy.-Weekly Scotsman.

A recruiting meeting will be held here on the 24th in Court's Hall. A number of well-known speakers will make the evening the most interesting yet. McKie, H. A. Powell and the Rev. Gordon Dickie, Rev. Thomas Harrison and Dr. Taylor are making the arrangements. Senator Green is organizing the boys in the service and R. J. Austin who has a son at the front will be on the stage.

Elizabeth Scovill returned to Meadowlands on Saturday, after a short trip to Harrison. Rev. H. Farrington has been in St. John attending the Methodist conference in St. Edmund Sharp, of St. Andrews, came up on Saturday to spend a few days here.

Miss Anna B. Boyd returned on Saturday from Fredericton, where she has been attending the Provincial Normal School during the past year. Mr. and Mrs. Havel Wall arrived on Monday from Madison, Wisconsin, where Mr. Wall, who is well known in the maritime provinces as an organizer, is one of the physical culture directors.

Mr. and Mrs. Gabriel DeVeber returned on Monday from spending a few days in St. Stephen and Calais (Me.). Brools, B. A., lately inspector of schools, has been appointed justice of the peace for Queens-Sunbury. Mr. Brools is a lieutenant of the 55th Battalion, is a native of Gagetown, where he has many friends who will be glad to hear of his continued success.

David Moore returned to Gagetown on Tuesday after attending the Methodist conference in St. John as a lay representative of the Gagetown Methodist church. The funeral took place on Tuesday afternoon under the auspices of the Carpenters and Joiners' Union, and music was rendered by the Fredericton Band, and E. S. Brodie and the surviving veterans were present.

S. L. Peters, judge of probates for Queens, returned to Queens town on Tuesday after a trip to St. John. Miss Polly Scovill and Miss Molly Oby returned on Tuesday from Model Farm, where they spent the week-end as guests of the Rev. R. J. Austin.

Mrs. Charles Gaunce, and Miss Gilchrist, of Upper Hampstead, came home on Tuesday after spending a few days in St. John.

Colonel H. Montgomery Campbell was yesterday officially notified of his appointment as commander of the 64th overseas battalion, to be recruited at once as part of the third contingent. Colonel Rutherford is expected at Sussex today to consult with Colonel Campbell on the plan of organization. Previous announcement was to the effect that this would be a kiltie regiment. It is evidently one of the two regiments of the fourth contingent to be raised in the maritime provinces as announced by Major-General Hughes some time ago.

There are still no signs of a heavy artillery brigade being organized here. In the main portion of the contingent the unit was to be procured, recruits are falling in line rapidly, and local officers who were aspiring to positions in the contingent are disappointed. The opportunity will not be presented them. The Germans captured one of our sergeants, and we saw where they crushed him on a barn door. So wrote C. Blair, Q. M. S. 16th battalion, from France, to his sister, Mrs. John Howell St. Mary's (N. B.), this week. "If I am worried about my life, I am living so that I don't mind dying."

FROM ALL OVER THE MARITIME PROVINCES

The terrible effects of the obnoxious gases used by the Germans were emphasized in a letter received this week from Corporal A. W. Starrs, formerly of Hopewell (N. B.), in which he said he had visited a trench where he saw six Canadians standing with their rifles over a parapet apparently about to take aim. When he reached them he was horrified to find they were dead, with not even a scratch upon their bodies, having succumbed to the murderous gas fumes.

Writing to his former employer, Hugh Ingraham, of 27 Barker Street, St. John, Clement Jeffrey, a driver with the first contingent in France, gives an interesting account of his experiences. Jeffrey is one of the youngest Canadians at the front, only passing his seventeenth birthday when crossing the ocean with his unit.

Moncton Man Injured. News received from Edwin P. Lutes, son of A. V. H. Lutes, of Moncton, says that he is in hospital at Havre, having been injured in a fall from his horse, dislocating one of his shoulders. General War Notes.

Miss Anna Graham, of Sussex, expects to sail from Boston next week for England, as nurse. She will probably be in France as volunteer first aid nurse and general nursing service. She is a recent graduate of the New England Deaconess Hospital.

Private George Ball, of the Princess Patricia's, wounded and in hospital, wrote this week to his mother, Mrs. William Allen, of Peniac, that he had been severely injured in fighting, and had managed to shoot seven Germans himself.

Recent recruits for the 55th battalion from Fredericton are: Hurlbut Stairs, aged 44 years, and his son, Hacen Stairs, aged 19 years, of Temperance Vale. Others to sign the roll from Temperance Vale this week were: Phillip Jeffrey, Charles Tapley, James Devie, Harold McElwaine and Roy Bragdon.

Dr. W. A. Dakin, formerly of Fugwash (N. S.), in military service in England, at Eastbourne. Captain Chipman, formerly editor of the Spectator, Annapolis (N. S.), is wounded and in Alexandra Hospital, England. Send-off At Sackville.

Sackville, N. B., June 17-Party-three recruits in command of Lieut. Smith left today at noon for Sussex to join the 55th Battalion mobilized at that town. Before their departure each member was presented with home made candy packed in neatly made patriotic boxes bearing the name of recipient and donors. Daughters of the Empire, and a small sized union jack accompanied each gift.

The Sackville Citizens Band marched to the station ahead of the recruits as did also about fifty boys scouts and two hundred and fifty children from High School.

It was a most pleasing spectacle and as the boys were given a few minutes to say farewell to relatives and friends, the band played several patriotic airs. Rousing cheers greeted them as they boarded the train and pulled out on the first part of their journey to the battlefields of Europe.
