FOURTH ANNUAL EXHIBITION

Magnificent Showing of Products of Kootenay Mines and Orchards—Today's Program of Attractions Will Ensure Record Attendance—Judging Finished in all Departments

(From Thursday's Daily)
The formal opening of Nelson's fourth annual exhibition took place yesterday afternoon shortly after 1 o'clock under most favorable conditions. The weather was absolutely perfect, a large and enthusiastic crowd was in attendance and the handsomely decorated main building contained easily the best and largest number of exhibits ever shown at an interior fair in this province.

About 1.30 R. M. Palmer, secretary of the provincial bureau of information, accompanied by J. J. Malone, president of the Agricultural and Industrial Association, and Fred Starkey, managing director, formally declared Nelson's fourth annual exhibition duly opened.

Mr. Palmer congratulated the directors on the excellent display of the resources of the district he saw before and around him. He pointed out that notwithstanding the great advance made over the first fair held three years ago, the time was coming when exhibits would be made of fruits picked in crates ready for shipping, and when the present excellent accommodation would have to be greatly extended and enlarged to meet pressing requirements for space.

Mr. Palmer thought the evident good understanding existing between the transportation companies and the ranchers was a subject for hearty congratulation, as the fine display made could not have been accomplished if such an understanding did not exist.

One of the most interesting features of the fair was the striking mineral display befitting the endless hidden wealth of the several districts comprised.

That, together with the upspringing of manufactures, was bound to make Nelson one of the most populous and prosperous centers in the interior of the province. He had great pleasure in formally declaring Nelson's fourth annual exhibition duly opened.

So far as the main building was concerned yesterday the arrangements left little to be desired, and the large crowd in attendance was interested and delighted with the splendid display made.

The dogs shown were trotted out for the afternoon and the awards were made in the afternoon and the specials were disposed of in the evening.

The sports program for the afternoon, one of the most popular features of the fair, practically collapsed and only the balloon ascension took place about 4 o'clock.

should be stopped tonight during the performance of the drill, at any cost.

Today's program is a splendid one. The exhibition buildings will be open from 9 a.m. and visitors will have an opportunity of seeing the exhibits with the prize cards annexed.

At 1.30 the balloon ascension will take place and at 1.45 the Phoenix and Rosebud teams will meet at baseball. At 2 o'clock the famous Smt-Letta troupe of six performers will give their full performance before the grand stand in five new acts.

At 2.45 Nelson will cross sticks with Revelstoke at lacrosse. The following will compose the Nelson team: W. Davidson, Alf Jeffs, J. Thompson, H. Bell, Charles Jeffs, Ernest Davidson, A. Bishop, W. Stood, A. Perrier, H. Manhart, B. Wallace, W. Greyerhelli, L. Steel, R. Ball, and R. Bell.

The horse races will take place during the lacrosse match and in the evening the Smt-Letta troupe's performance and the Japanese parol and fan drill will be given before the grand stand.

At 7.15 the prize list, which appears elsewhere, will be read and the awards made. It will be noted that no mention is made of the "President's Cup," the district prize, for which there is very keen competition.

Up to the hour of closing last night, no award had been made public.

THE MINERAL EXHIBIT.
The mineral exhibit yesterday attracted no little attention and there was never a moment of the afternoon when the tables were deserted by the fair.

The minerals were represented clearly and so as to be understood by the people, all more or less interested in mining, after all the base of all mineral industries.

Beginning with, not in point of prominence, but rather of order, the exhibit of gold mining ore grouped on the right hand side of the entrance, these were fairly comprehensive of the various ores of these districts which can be varied mechanically, although the variety of ores, or, in another direction, the mineral specimens, could be increased indefinitely.

The prize was awarded to E. W. Widdowson's collection of ores, which, however, would be more accurately if accompanied with a few facts relative to each.

Next came a remarkable block of coal sent forward by the International Coal & Coke company, of Coleman, Alaska; one broken specimen, weighing in the neighborhood of half a ton. The coal was frequently mistaken for a metamorphosed lignite but as a matter of fact its bituminous quality was exemplified by some coals made from it.

This exhibit was highly commended by the judges of the mineral display. With it came small specimens of an allied coal from Lillooet.

Next along is the exhibit from the Hall Mines smelter comprehending some of the ore which is mined, some specimens of the intermediate products of the smelter, including an exhibit of water produced by the Heberlein roasters, and a pyramid of pig lead.

On the opposite side of the entrance is the highly interesting exhibit of the Trail smelter, showing the crude ore of the copper and lead mines both of which it treats, the intermediate products, the electrolytic lead refinery, the final pig, pig lead and lead bullion. This was also highly commended by the judges.

The high end of the long table heaped against its sides were two magnificent exhibits of ores the one representing the varied ores of the Boundary district and the other those of the Alsworth mines. The Boundary covered the varieties of ore occurring, that of Alsworth did so, including a far greater number of mines or prospects. The competition between the two was close the prize going to the Alsworth exhibit, that of the Boundary being highly commended.

Nelson's cabinet display is to be regarded as representative of all exhaustively of the districts attempted to be covered and in this direction a better effort may be made in years to come, the point being covered not every mine but rather every mineral occurring in the various ores of any one or more districts.

The silver lead ores came next, the fine collection brought on by Messrs. H. M. Stevenson and J. W. Cockle easily securing the cup presented by the Hall Mines.

This collection was mounted on stands every bit as much attention being paid to small as to large specimens.

The cup for copper ores given by Trail was captured by E. W. Widdowson, the prize for the best display going to the Boundary ores G. W. Cornish captured the Granby cup with the Strathmore mine. The dry ore exhibit of the Hewitson looked very well and was awarded the prize. Perhaps, however, the prize that gave the most satisfaction was that given for the best display of any individual prospect, captured by Owen McElroy, an old prospector, now lying sick in hospital. His friends, who are many, declare that the win will put life into the prospector once again. The display is from Hooker creek, Crawford Bay.

(From Friday's Daily)
A record attendance of 7000, an ample and excellent program capably carried out without a hitch of any kind, and magnificent summer weather, tells the story of the second day of Nelson's fourth annual fair.

No such crowd as passed through the doors of the main entrance and filled the buildings, the grand stand and all available points of vantage on the terrace ever assembled in Nelson before. The mistakes and misadventures of the first day were amply redeemed, and it is hoped, forgiven. The building was thronged all morning and from 10 o'clock till after 6, every department was crowded, while the onlookers at the sports and special attractions numbered many hundreds of persons.

Until the close of the lacrosse match there was not an idle moment for the spectators and a really very creditable program was promptly and efficiently carried out.

In the evening there was another immense attendance and every thing worked smoothly and satisfactorily. Appended will be found in detail the award of the judge in the special prizes not heretofore given, and in case of the district competition, the blue ribbon of the fair.

A detailed account of the races, baseball match and the lacrosse game will also be found heretofore.

The exhibition given before the grand stand, after the lacrosse match, was a display of the Smt-Letta troupe, three of either sex, evoked the warmest applause here. It is a fairly to witness an exhibition of the kind given, acrobatic, slack wire, aerial trapeze, swings, balancing and the bars, of so universally high a degree of excellence throughout.

Children under 12 years, will be one of the best times to visit the fair. The program printed above will give a good general idea of what can be seen and doubtless the attendance will be very large. Special attention is directed to the grand carnival tonight. Any number of fun and games can be seen and doubtless the attendance will be very large.

all else was forgotten for the moment and even the baseball players stopped their game in progress to watch the finish. There were two events, the second one growing out of the first.

The first race was a quarter mile open dash, once around the course, for horses owned in the Nelson district. For this there were four entries, as follows: Scotty, Macdonald's, Buckskin, O. Harrie, Jerry; George Ferguson of the Nelson Transfer company's Minnie and Chestnut; Scotty rode his own horse; Harrie, Ferguson, Chestnut, Jim Davidson, Mince, and E. Carroll, Jerry.

In the first heat George P. Wells, the starter, had some difficulty in getting the horses on line, but after a number of false starts, the four got beautifully in line and started off on equal terms. Buckskin jumped to the front, closely followed by Minnie, with Chestnut and Jerry bringing up the rear. The whole race was easily between the first two horses. Young Jim Davidson rode his mount well, but he could not pass Buckskin at any point on the course, and the two did not part the judges' stand with just a little daylight between them, followed closely by Chestnut and Jerry.

In the second heat, Buckskin led all the way and at about three-quarters of the way round, Minnie bolted over the top, despite every effort of the starter. Buckskin won with some ease, Chestnut getting second and Jerry third money. Minnie being disqualified.

While the crowd was shouting its approval of Scotty's victory, George Ferguson came out with a challenge for another race for $50 a side, the three-quarter mile race, and the Indian arranged the race and accepted and the owner of Minnie proceeded to impress Indian Tom into his service as jockey. When Marshall Waterman arranged the race, the Indian arranged the race and accepted and the owner of Minnie proceeded to impress Indian Tom into his service as jockey.
