SEA BREEZES FROM HALIFAX

Sunday, Feb. 3rd. — Correctly started in full military order. The boys are here within a few feet of the place where I am sitting, and they are all as happy as can be. They embarked at St. John, N.S., and arrived here this morning.

When my orderly brought word that the boat had docked and that the boys of the E. T. D. were on the first boat I commenced to think that our luck was coming back and that some power would see that we, the ones that should have gone over, and were entitled to it, would be on the boat before it left.

As I came around the end of the pier I heard my name called and there were the boys waiting for a look of any one or thing that came from the E. T. D., even a lone dog looked good to them, and I was called upon to answer a thousand and one questions. No, I am not referring to myself.

Their message to St. John was "we are sorry to leave St. John, Not. God——— bless it."

Mr. Young was grinning all over, and was as happy as could be now that he was going. Mr. Blackadder was seemingly very busy, and Mr. Corbett was as happy as a clam.

By the by, some have greatness thrust upon them. Damn the luck. This 27th Draft I think will put the fear of the Lord in Willie's heart.

Smith, A 1 was happy as could be and damned glad to get away from St. John. Fletcher in good humor too. Strang sends sympathy, try it on your piano.

Sapper Moore seemed a rather pale and forlorn lover, he did not seem quite as happy. Is the ferry running to Iberville yet?

Sammy Hill! Well Sammy was running around the deck! Just as we have seen the little dog chasing around, and I understand that Sammy misses the dog so much that this is the only way he can console himself. Sammy was just as happy as though he had his right mind. He had a lot on his mind. Did you ever notice how thick his hair is?
