My dear Lou:

Am very pleased indeed to receive yours of 28th and am glad you got the articles which appeared in Canadian Historical Review and Queen's Quarterly.

By the way I am sending you reprint of an article from the June issue of Canadian Historical Review. It is the first instalment of the book by Ferns and Ostry on "The rise of Mackenzie King" or some such name. They are producing stuff that will give all kinds of trouble to his Rockefeller-endowed biographers. Am told they have had a lot of discouragement already, but that funds are quite ample.

Miss Edmondson has received with pleasure your message, but Max is away on holidays at Tadoussac. I am keeping your letter for him when he returns.

Was glad to hear of your mother and felt proud of her, the same as you did.

Moley's article was interesting but did not err on the side of meticulous accuracy.

It is always a pleasure to hear from you and especially to get renewed evidence that you are making a place for yourself in the great Republic. There aren't many can go from even a country like Canada and succeed in doing so.

With sincere regards,

Yours very truly,

AM/E.
