

ber of the Club, however, entertaining strangers in the private dining-room shall have the privilege of inviting persons residing within the said twenty-five miles to meet them at dinner or luncheon; but such residents shall, before either of such meals, have the privilege of the reception room only, but after dining may have the privileges of the Club generally while they remain in the building.

XXVII.—Any member wishing to introduce a friend temporarily visiting St. John, and not residing within twenty-five miles of the City, as an honorary member of the Club, must send in a written application for permission to do so to the Secretary-Treasurer; or he must obtain the signature of two members of the committee to his application as approving it. The application thus signed must be handed to the Secretary-Treasurer, who shall notify the person named therein that he has been admitted to the Club for fourteen days; and this privilege may be extended with the consent of the committee for the further period of one month. Every member to whom this permission may be accorded will be held responsible for the eligibility of his nominee, as well as for his observance of all rules of the Club. No stranger once introduced shall again be introduced unless in the meantime he has been absent from the city for three months, and no stranger can
