NEWS FROM IRELAND.

DUBLIN.

Patrick Early, 22 Prebend street, Dublin, died in the Richmond Hospital on Nov. 24th, in consequence of injuries received by being crushed between the buffers of two railway carriages at Spencer

A young man named Loughlan was in charge of a horse and car when passing through Bullingate, near Carnew, when Mr. Carroll's dog ran out and bit the horse. The animal reared furiously, throwing the young man heavily on the ground. He rallied for a few days, but afterwards succumbed, and died.

KILDARE.

KILDARE. On Nov. 21st, a sad accident occurred on the Great Southern and Western Railway, by which an engine driver, named Michael Higgins, lost his life. It appears that Higgins, who drove the pilot engine stationed at Kildare, was on duty in Athlone, and left that place with the 2 p. m. train, when returning to Kildare. Near that station the piston-rod of the engine broke, and on looking out to see what was the matter, the revolving bar struck Higgins on the head, and killed him instantly.

QUEEN'S COUNTY.

The tenants on the estate of the Rev. Mr. Ayr, at Ballykealy, in the Queen's County, having been allowed an abatement of 25 per cent. on the last May rents, and a promise of a similar reduction on the last November half-year's rent, when such will be suited on . Mr. Owen has given to will be called on. Mr. Owen has given to the tenants on this estate six months' time for the payment of the rents.

MEATH.

The post-office of Kels is watched night The post-office of Kels is watched night and day by the police, and a detective is placed inside, and screened from observa-lion, while a constable remains outside in view of the letter-box. Every post-ing a letter is closely scrutinized. The thratening letters received some time ago by the Marquis of Headford and his agents, Mr. Mathew O'Connor, were posted at Kels. In consequence of this special work, both night and day duty devolves upon eight out of the sixteen devolves upon eight out of the sixteen police of the station.

On Nov. 24th, at a place called Bally-togher, within five miles of Oldcastle, a farmer named James Monahan fired two shots at a man named Branes Monanan fired two shots at a man named Bryan Brady, one of the bullets passing through Brady's trous-ers, but fortunately without inflicting any injury. Monahan was arrested on the following day, and essented by a bady injury. Monahan was arrested by a body of following day, and escorted by a body and police to Trim jail. Monahan holds land under a Mr. Tatlow, for whom, it seems, Brady is agent, and the cause of the shoot ing is attributed to a dispute about his holding.

LONGFORD.

A man named James Skelly, of Carri-geen, parish of Rathcline, on leaving at a late hour the town of Ballymahon, on Nov. 21st, was attacked by a party of men, and severely maltreated. His life is in imminent peril. The following men have been arrested and holdred in Lorottoria isil. been arrested, and lodged in Longford jail: —Thomas Forde, Dan. Melia, Jas. Ach-muty, and Michael Fox. The serious aspect of the case has created quite a sensa-tion. Skelly is a respectable farmer, in comfortable circumstances. No cause has been assigned for the outrage.

CORK.

The guards at Cork barracks have been increased at night. On Noy. 23d about ing as the unions mentioned in the Govent circular. The Rev. D. McMahon, P. P., Boherbuoy, who attended the meeting for the purpose of making representa-tions on the subject, stated that the laborers of his district would certainly suffer through want if some employment were not provided immediately for them, and that any attempt to meet the emergency by the ordinary channels of relief would only result in pauperising the already hard-pressed ratepayers. There was an unusual number of applications for relief made, a large proportion of applicants being ablebodied laborers, who, failing to get any employment outside, had no re-course left but the workhouse. A memorial was read from a large number of the respectable inhabitants of the town, asking that a scheme for giving the town an adequate supply of fresh water should be immediately taken into consideration, with the view of providing some employ-ment for the laborers of the town. At the suggestion of the Chairman, the matter was referred to a public meeting of the townspeople, to be called for the purpose of considering the matter.

At a full meeting of the Ennis Town Commissioners on Dec. 1st, Thomas Greene, Esq., presiding, the Board of Works' general circular, offering to poor law guardians and sanitary boards for carrying out reproductive works, in

On Nov. 28th, a farmer's son, named Patrick Barlow, living near Galbally, was found dead on the road, near Moore Abbey, and within half-a-mile from his father's house. The deceased went to the fair of Killorrery the previous day to sell a horse, and when coming home he met with the fatal accident. He was found on the side of the road and the horse and on the side of the road, and the horse and car he was driving was capsized in the dyke. There was no mark of voilence on his body.

The Freeman of the 28th says:-"It would appear from some information which reaches us from the county of Tipperary that a very great change for the better had come over the demeanor of some landlords and agents who had been noted for anything but suavity of demeanor when dealing with their tenantry. They have not only given remissions of rent, or time to pay it, but have actually learned to be kindly and affable. All the tenants throughout the South Riding, we are informed— though we taket he statement subject to though we take he statement subject to correction—have had the greatest satisfac-tion in dealing with their landlords or the agents. There is one solitary case, we are told, in which this rule does not prevail; but it is the uncertained prevail; but in this the exceptional party is neither landlord nor agent, but a middleman. Here the last ponny is screwed, or threatens to be screwed, out of the tenants. Fortudately his property is a small one, and those who are to suffer are very few in number. It is with sincere gratification that we learn of the changed mood of landlords, agents, and people. There is nothing which can so effectually tend to settle satisfactorily the vexed question which is now occupying all men's thoughts as mutual forbearance and consideration." as mutual forbearance and consideration.

WATERFORD.

On Nov. 26th, at Haggertstown, a well-to-do farmer, named Robert Dooley, at-tended the wedding of a relative. At the wedding supper he took a prominent part, but whilst engaged in carving for the guests he suddenly laid down his knife and fork the area and he the knife and fork, rose and left the room, and without speaking a word to anyone, died in a few minutes. Deceased was a married man, and leaves a widow and two children.

ANTRIM.

An old woman named Eliza Bell was All ohr woman handed Linka bert was found in Leftan Village, on November 24th in an exhausted condition, and was taken to the workhouse, Belfast, by the constable on duty. She was searched, and concealed about her clothes an Ulster bank deposit receipt, in her own name, for $\pounds 150$ was found. This was handed to the Master, who retains possession of it n the meantime. On Nov. 24th, while the 9.30 train from Belfast to Bangor was crossing Conn-water Bridge, it knocked a woman named Mary Colville, aged 55, killing her instan-taneously. A little girl of five years was with the woman at the time, and strange by drowing near the village of warings-town, county Down. It appears that the deceased, who was in a state of intoxica-tion, procedeed homewards from Warings-town with his son on that night. When they had gone part of the way his son left him and went to a place where he was engaged as a farm laborer. The deceased then returned to Waringstown,got some drink, and on his way home fell into a shallow drain, where he was found by his son next morning quite dead.

tion of the lungs, caused by cold and want of proper nourishment. It appears that there was no fire in the miserable hut in which she was found, other than that derived from a little heather, forming at best a miserable substitute for fuel, and especially so in damp weather. Of food or nourishment of any sort there was none, other than a handful or so of Indian meal. It is right to say that 25 per cent, reducother than a handful or so of indian meal. It is right to say that 25 per cent, reduc-tion in rents prevails on the estates in the district, but obviously there is distress that any partial abatement cannot reach or help. The charity of some people has come in to save the poor woman's fam-ily from her fate. The husband is alive, but he has no means of bettering his position. Extreme destinution is not merely position. Extreme destitution is notmerely impending, but actually exists in many

GALWAY.

An outrage of an agrarian character has een committed in the vicinity of Shrule. he heads have been cut off four sheep The and the tails off three heifers, and a milch cow, all the property of a man named Moran, who recently took a farm from Mr. Hugh McGrath, at the rate of £40, and higher rent than what his pred had been paying for it. At Annaghdawn, on 26th, the haggard of a tenant who paid his rent contrary to the wish of his neigh-bors was set fire to and completely demol-ished. A police hut has been erected there, and the force of the neighboring stations considerably augmented. A temporary hut or barrock has been erected at Ratesh, in the parish of Kilconly, and four of the extra police force station-ed at the Tuam Workhouse have been sent to occupy it. The erection of two more is in contemplation—one at Birmore is in contemplation—one at Bir-mingham, the other midway between Tuam and Castlegrove. A military de-tachment are expected to take up their quarters in the workhouse in room of the police reserve force, who have now been all distributed among the outlying stations. A memorial from the landed providers and tanont-farmers of the proprietors and tenant-farmers of the parish of Kilkconly has been forwarded to the Lord-Lieutenant showing that the inintroduction of police to Ratesh is un-necessary and unjust, inasmuch as there could not be found in Ireland a quieter or more law-abiding people.

MAYO.

Colonel Cuff, Deal Castle, Ballina, has through his agent, R. C. Baxter, Esq., given a reduction of 25 per cent. to all his tenantry. The colonel has at all times been considered an excellent landlord, and his lands have always been let at the valuation.

An organized demonstration of unem-ployed laboring men was held at Ballina, on Nov. 28th. Large numbers of laborers paraded the streets of the town carrying two large white banners. On the first was painted in black letters. "Our wives and children are starving;" and on the second, "We ask our rulers for immedi-ate employment." At seven o'clock an immense crowd assembled at Mr. Arthur Maffarit's here en mill word where the Muffeny's large saw-mill yard, where the proprietor addressed them. He said he deeply sympathised with their distress, for the scenes of poverty and wrethedness which he had writnessed, and which he could prove were most heartrending. For the last eight months labor had been growing last eight months labor had been growing scarcer every day, and many of the labor-ers of Ballina had been striving to exist on one or two day's labor in the week, sending even their bed-clothes to the pawnshop to assist in getting food for their wives and children. But now almost the worst had come, and for mang weeks he had howen stout laboring men now has he had known stout laboring men now be increased at night. On Nov. 23d about thirty men were observed in the field ad-joining the magazine. They were warned off, and after some time dispersed. At the meeting of the Kanturk Board of Guardians, on Nov. 26th, a resolution second of guardians, on Nov. 26th, a resolution of Guardians, on Nov. 26th, a resolution vide labor for the unemployed, and Ballina was one of these. He had drawn up a petition to be presented to the guardians, signed by the Catholic Bishop, and he councilled the unemployed laborers to present their petition respect-fully and moderately, and they would consider it favorably, and either give immediate labor or relief and save them from starvation. The meeting was very orderly.

of refuge for the fishermen when over-taken by storm whilst engaged in their perilous vocations along the dangerous and unprotected coast; the drainage and reclamation of lands, and such remunera tive and reproductive works as shall be recommended at such meeting, for the purpose of giving employment and assis-tance so urgently required by the small farmers and laborers of the barony, dur-ing the present dismal and distressing crisis. It was also resolved—"That a harbor in a convenient place on the Tire-ragh coast is most urgently required to save life, encourage and develop the trade of this large barony, as well as to give employment to the laborers and small farmers, who are already on the eve of dire distress; that a fair proportion of the money to be expended on public works be given to the distressed land occupiers to enable them to crop their lands in the spring, under the guidance of local com-mittees in their respective localities, and for draining and reclaiming their lands for their own use only."

KERRY.

Rev. Father O'Connor, of Ballybunion, county Kerry, has arranged to deliver a series of lectures in England on the subject of the prevailing distress, its cause, and the remedy against a recurrence of similar calamities in the future.

On Nov. 28th, at Derreen, Clanrig, Kerry, Myles Brennan, a bailiff, while executing a decree on a farmer named Shea was pursued and attacked by the latter's wife, who had an infant child in her arms. She threw a stone at Brennan, which, striking him on the head, killed him on the spot. She was immediately arrested.

DOWN.

On Nov. 25th, before Edward Orme, Esq. R.M., a man named Jas. Magee was brough, up, charged with being concerned in the death of Mary Shannon, an elderly woman. It appears that very late on Nov. 22d the deceased left her home for Castlewellan to make some purchases. As she did not return for some time her daughter went in sear ch of her. About half a mile from the house the girl heard a woman shouting, as if engaged in a struggle, and shortly afterwards she found her mother insensible on the road. Magee was close at hand, and thought at first, it is said, to run away. He afterwards re-turned and carried the woman to the house of a neighbor, where she died. Magee, who is charged with having assaulted the deceased, was then taken into custody. The accused was remanded.

CAVAN.

On Nov. 19th an attack was made by some twelve or fifteen men, some of whom were evidently armed with revolvers, on the house of a respectable farmer named Hugh Brady, who lives about a mile outside Virginia, on the road leading to Kells. Several shots were discharged through a window opening into Brady's bedroom, but fortunately for him he was not there. The cause of the outrage, which is at prevent unknown, is supposed to be of a personal character, but not in any way

ROSCOMMON.

On Nov. 23rd, at Moor, a village about a mile from Castlerea, a child named Covne, eight years old, was sent out to bring in a cow, and not having returned within a reasonable time, suspicion was aroused and a search at once made, but no trace of him could be found till next morning, when his body was discovered in a bog-hole two or three hundred yards from his father's house. How he got there seems to be a mystery, but it is stated that the deaths of two others are tracted to this same bog-hole within the last two years.

SLIGO.

On Nov. 22nd, three prisoners were brought into the Sligo county jail in charge of Constable Connelly and three other constables from Ballymote. They other constables from Bailymote. They are charged with forming a portion of a mob of men who with blackened faces attacked the house of a farmer named Lavan, at a place called Knockbrack, be-tween the town of Ballymote and the mountain of Keash. It appears that at midlight Lavan's house was surrounded; some gained an entrance. He was pulled out and beaten with sticks, and his head was left covered with cuts. The police were early at the place next morning, and were early at the place next morning, and from the description given. Constable Toole, of the Knockbrack police-station, succeeded in arresting three men, named John Boylan, Michael Harte and Paul Langton. All of them are voung men of the laboring class, who live in the immediate neighborhood. The cause of the attack is supposed to be some suspicion that Layan void bis rent suspicion that Lavan paid his rent recently. Lavan at first identified the accused, but when before the magistrate he refused to prosecute. However, the prisoners were remanded.

This Sarsaparilla is a combination of vegetable alteratives — Stillingia, Man-drake, Yellow Dock — with the Iodides of Potassium and Iron, and is the most efficacious medicine yet known for the diseases it is intended to cure. Its ingredients are so skilfully com-

Its mgreedents are so skiltuily com-bined, that the full alterative effect of each is assured, and while it is so mild as to be harmless even to children, it is still so effectual as to purge out from the system those impurities and corruptions which there has be a barrent discrete size.

which develop into loathsome disease. The reputation it enjoys is derived from its cures, and the confidence which prominent physicians all over the country repose in it, prove their experience f its usefulness. Certificates attesting its virtues have accumulated, and are constantly being received, and as many of these cases are publicly known, they furnish convincing evidence of the superiority of this Sarsaparilla over every other alterative medicine. So generally is its superiority to any other medicine known, that we need do no more than to assure the public that the best qualities it has ever possessed are strictly maintained.
