"German aeroplanes hovered over Rheims while the bombardment was in progress, doubtless to report the success of the can-nonading. They flew very high, and the French soldiers did not trouble to fire at them.'

DESCRIPTION OF RHEIMS. LONDON, Sept. 22.—The Daily Mail's correspondent at Rheims, under date of Sunday, sends this description of the scenes there:

"Following five days of bom-bardment, constantly increasing in intensity, there is streaming along the wet, muddy roads to Epernay a sad procession of refu-gees of all classes from Rheims. They are in every sort of vehicle except the motor car, and have been driven by the destruction of the city to seek shelter elsewhere. "Regarding the damage, there is not much to see on the outside of the cathedral as might have

MONTREAL GRAIN MARKET.

MONTREAL GRAIN MARKET. MONTREAL Sept. 21.—The outside demand for Manitoba spring wheat was better today, and, as the prices bid were 3d to 6d per quarter higher, sales of a few loads of old crop were made to London and Dublin, but there was ne enquiry for coarse grains. The local trade in oats continues quiet, the demand being only for small lots to fill actual wants, and prices show no change. In flour, the feeling is firm, with a fair amount of business doing for local account. A fairly active trade continues to be done in milled.

The butter market is weaker, and the finest creamery at the auction sale today sold at 27%c. There is a fair enquiry for cheese from the cable, but the volume of business doing is small, owing to the uncertainty of making shipments. The exports for the week were 33,273 boxes, as against 50,106 for the corresponding week last year.

Eggs were active and firm.

Optimistic Feeling is Aroused Among Military Experts.

IBy Special Wire to the Courier PARIS, Sept. 22.—The battle of Charleroi lasted three days and the battle of Mons covered six days. To-day is the 7th day of days. To-day is the 7th day of the battle of the Aisne, the most violent of the three, but the limit of human edurance seems to have been reached, as the intensity of the struggle had diminished in front of Rheims.

At Craonne, after a brief lull, the fighting has become fierce again, and the losses of the Germans were increased. Here alone of the whole line, hand to hand fighting occurred yesterday. Everywhere else the invaders left the attack to the "Brummers," as the attack to the "Brummers," as they call the immense mortars. It may well be asked if the re-sult of the last day's struggle has resulted in advantage to either side. The significance of yesterday's official communications to be seen on consulting the maps, is that the allies have advanced at points the allies have advanced at points where the danger to the invaders is greatest. The progress to the west of Noyon threatens the German right, and the advance between Rheims and the Argonne threaten their line of retreat and communications through Stenay.

The deduction of the military apparent here is that the weariness experts here is that the weariness shown more decidedly in the German camp. They are said to be feverishly active in their work on the fortifications along the Sambre from Maubeuge to Na-mur, and even on their lines of defence across the German frondefence across the German frontier.

The Petite Patisian prints a story of a bull which it says killed 18 Germans. It appears that when the peasants in the neighborhood of Sezonns were warned of the approach of the Germanc, they opened the gates of the cattle pens and endeavored to drive the cattle to places of safety. One enormous bull, it is said, became enraged by the sound of the cannon fire, broke away and charged the Germans, who looked on in stupffication, believing it was some trick of the French. At the first dash the bull gored six, throwing them high in the air. Others shot and wounded the animal, which, however, gored a dozen more before succumbing.
