

WELL KNOWN VIOLINIST

Traveled Extensively Throughout the Province—Interesting Statements Concerning His Experiences.

STELLATON, N. B.—James R. Murray, a well known violinist of this place, who has traveled extensively throughout the Province, makes this statement: "I was running down to health and my weight fell from 175 to 150 pounds. My stomach was so full of little worms that I was called nervous dyspepsia. I resorted to Hood's Sarsaparilla and after taking five bottles I was greatly benefited. It was as good as ever in my life, and has increased in flesh so that I now weigh 175 pounds. I am well known in this part of the country, having followed my profession, that of a violin musician for the last 26 years. I gladly tell my friends what Hood's Sarsaparilla has done for me. Before I began taking the medicine I did not have any ambition, but now all is changed and my dyspepsia trouble perfectly cured." JAMES R. MURRAY.

N. B. If you decide to take Hood's Sarsaparilla, do not be induced to buy any substitute. Be sure to get Hood's.

OFFICER OF THE DECK

The Captain Carries Many Important and Responsible Duties.

Immediately upon stepping on board of a man-of-war a sternly drilled officer with a sword belt on walking up and down the quarter deck. Officers and sailors come up to him and he is greeted with a salute. He is the captain of the ship. He is the "officer of the deck."

His position is one of extreme responsibility. He is the officer of the deck.

TOLD BY THE EDITOR.

During a Holiday Barbecue He Visits the Old Homestead.

He Found Changes that Astonished Him. One of Which Deserves the Widest Praise for the Benefit It May Prove to Others.

From the Leader and Recorder, Toronto Junction.

The editor of the Leader and Recorder, Toronto Junction, during a recent holiday trip through the counties of York, Peel, Dufferin and Grey, spent a few days at the old parental homestead where he was born and spent many happy years. The old homestead is in the township of Euphrasia, Grey county, about one and a half miles south of the village of Heathcote, and about ten miles from the town of Meaford. It is occupied by the writer's youngest brother, George J. Rawcote. The latter was the picture of health, and remembering that when he came from Meaford, where he had been living for several years, and took possession of the homestead, he was in such feeble health that his home was despaired of, the writer suggested that the bracing climate of the northern region must be the best medicine in the world for a shattered constitution. The reply made contained statements so remarkable that we could not resist the temptation to publish as fully as possible through the columns of the Leader and Recorder. A severe attack of malaria, contracted while in Detroit, brought the writer's brother to the death's door, from which he recovered only to find himself the victim of a complication of troubles which unfitted him for work. He was attended by some of the most eminent physicians in Detroit but he recovered little or no benefit from their treatment. Change of air was finally recommended and he removed with his family to the county of Grey. A slight change for the better was noticeable at first, but soon relapsed into the old condition and again sought help from the leading doctors of the district in turn. Sleeplessness took possession of him and soon he was wasted away to a mere skeleton. The doctors declared they could do nothing more for him and advised him to go to California. During all these weary months, he read in the papers from time to time, and laughed at what he termed the "miracles" wrought by Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. He had no faith in such remedies and it was only when the physicians told him that they could do no more for him that, like the drowning man who catches at a straw, he thought he would try a box of the pills. To his great astonishment, the pills worked better before he had used the pills a week, and he slept like an infant. Gradually his strength returned and his appetite improved, and soon he felt like a new man. A few months after taking the medicine he was as well as ever. For more than two years past he has not taken any medicine whatever, and to-day you will not find a sturdier specimen of mankind in Grey than G. J. Rawcote.

Box 19.

The Late Leonard Chamberlain.

The angel of death has again visited our neighborhood (Chantry) and taken from our midst one of the most respected as well as one of the oldest residents in this township in the person of Mr. Leonard Chamberlain. He was born in the town of Meaford, Ontario, on the 25th, thus being in his seventy-eighth year, and was converted to G. H. when a young man, in a meeting conducted by the Rev. Gordon, and joined the church of the "Christians." He was a member of the Chantry church until his health compelled him to resign the post to younger men. Although in feeble health for some time, he was only confined to his bed about three weeks, during which time he was attended by his pastor, Rev. A. M. Robertson, in a personal way. He leaves behind a devoted wife, two sons—J. L. Chamberlain, Chantry; C. J. Chamberlain, Meaford; and an only daughter, Miss Alberta. A deceased daughter, who was the wife of J. S. Gallagher, who is the only grandchild in spite of the infirmity of her mother, a very large family of six children, and a large number of grandchildren.
