"The second king of Italy is dead. Escaping, thanks to his valor as a soldier, the danger of battle and departing unharmed, thanks to Provizdence, from the risks he confronted so courageously to end public calamities, this good and virtuous king felt a victim to atrocious crime while with easy conscience and without fear of danger he was participating in the joys of his people at their fetes.

"It was not permitted to me to be present at the last breath of my father; but I understand my first duty to be to follow the counsels he left me and to imitate the virtues of the king and first citizen of Italy. "In this moment of profound sadness I have to aid me the strength which comes from the examples of my which comes from the examples of my august father and of that great king who deserves to be called the 'father of his country.' I have also as a support the strength which comes from the love and devotion of the Italian people for the king whom they venerate and weep for.

"There remain to us the institutions which he loyally preserved, and which he attempted to render permanent during the 22 years of his reign. These institutions are given to me as the sacred traditions of my house; and the warm love which Italians have for them, protected with a firm and energetic hand from assault or any violence from whatever source it comes, assures me. I am certain of the prosperity and grandeur of the country. It was the glory of my grandfather to have given Italy its unity and independence. George A. Armes, a retired United States army officer. The defendant has gained some national notoritey in several ways, once by tweaking the nose of Gen. PASTOR'S Why Persia's Ruler was Uncon

Gerald Sifton Told Him He Gave the Doctor $1000

To Stop an Inquest-Signed Notes for That Amount-The Arva

Murder Case London, Aug. 4 .- In the Sifton murder examination case yesterday the most important witness was Rev. Mr.

the Shah a short time before the attempt to assassinate him was made, was as follows.—"I think fit to warn you that an attempt will be made against your life during your stay in Paris. I am a member of an Anarchist association, meeting at No. 5. Piazza di Naples, which has decided upon your death. If I warn you it is because feelings of humanity get the better of my desire for vengeance on sovereigns. I add, in conclusion, that he who is chosen to kill you is a friend of him who killed the King of Italy."

most important witness was Rev. Mr. Cooper, pastor of the Methodist. Church at St. Johns: He it was who was to have married the dead man and Mary Macfarlane.

Some days after the alleged accident on July 9, Gerald and the minister met and spoke about the will. Gerald told Mr. Cooper that he had been informed that another one existed.

"I have been somewhat worried and perplexed," Gerald went on, "because Ed. Morden has been holding a whip over my head. Ed. Morden said that with what he knows and what he could make up, he could have me hanged, and that unless I could put up a pretty good thing he could give me trouble."

Mr. Cooper called such talk as that on the part of Mordan as nonsense, and Gerald said he told Mordan that and Gerald said he told Morden that if he repeated his threat he would make him do it. Morden had told Gerald, according to the latter, that he had a will by which Joseph Sifton's property would go to others, and that unless Gerald gave Morden or the witness to the will fifty acres of land or $2,000 he would give him some trouble.

Mr. Cooper told Gerald he would not give one cent to Morden. He charac-terized the latter's actions as blackmail, and Gerald replied that Morden would yet hang himself up.

Three days before he was arrested, Sifton told Mr. Cooper that he had seen Ed. Morden the previous Wednesday, and that Ed. attempted to bluff him on the will. Sifton invited him to go ahead and do his worst. The same evening, on hearing that Sifton had been arrested, the witness drove over to the prisoner's, to find that the report was untrue. Gerald told him that Ed. Morden was making trouble for him, as the de-tectives were there questioning him.

about the time of the funeral, Gerald was greatly troubled over hearing that Mr. Cooper and John Sifton were wanting an inquest. Dr. McNeil had told Gerald, the accused said (when advance, apart from preliminary measures, has not yet begun.

Tien Tsin despatches, 'dated July 30, tell of an action which is termed a "reconnaissance between the Japanese and Chinese" two miles beyond the Hsiku arsenal, in which the Japanese withdrew after suffering 30 casualties. The Tien Tsin correspondent of the Standard, under date of July 27, declares, that the Americans, and Germans have been ordered to move forward without waiting for the British. Nearly all the correspondents, contold Gerald, the accused said (when the latter was getting the death certificate of his father), that there was money in an inquest for him; that John and Alfred Sifton were suspicious that everything was not all right, and that unless Gerald gave him a thousand dollars he would go ahead and hold the inquest. Mr. Cooper said this was also a blackmail. Gerald said that to stop the funeral would said that to stop the funeral would cause a scandal, which he would not have for $1,000, and rather than have any trouble, he signed notes for that-amount. The notes were drawn by Dr. McNeil, the accused said, one being for $500 and two for $250 each. In consideration of this, Dr. McNeit promised to keep out of the way of all people who wanted an inquest.
