Why Tea Quality Varies

YOU know how the quality of strawberries from the same patch will sometimes vary from one day to another.

One day sweet, compact, well ripened, well colored. richly flavored-next day it rains, is cloudy,-following picking is soggy, sour, green, coarsely-flavored, poor.

Tea, also, on account of its volatility of flavor, after picking and during the curing process is very susceptible to weather changes. A few hours of sunshine or bad weather after picking may make the difference between good and poor tea.

So that while one picking may be first class, the next from the same garden may be very poor.

I select only the pickings which come up to the Red Rose standards of richness and strength in Indian, and delicacy and fragrance in Ceylon teas, and thus that "rich, fruity flavor" of Red Rose Tea is produced and

This poet very aptly expresses the influence of music—drawing the soul sweetly away. Have you ever noticed the extent to which you have been drawn away, as it were? Whatever difference there has been has been due to the refinement of the music. Music such as is produced

Present Agrarian Disorders Which Can Be Expected to Steadily Grow Worse, Are Due Largely to the Necessity of Peasants Seizing Food and Forage to Save Themselves and Animals From Starvation.
