Yellow Fever Record.

New Orleans, La., Aug. 22.—Yellow fever report to 6 p. m. yesterday: New cases, 61; total to date, 1,446; deaths yesterday, 6; total to date, 206; new fever, 16; total fever, 322; cases under a bound forward yesterday in New Orleans, and the situation in the State is far from satisfactory.

HOW PNEUMONIA STARTS.

You catch a little cold to-day, by to-morrow it has reached the lungs, and next day the lungs are affected and you wish you had used Catarrhoxone, which kills cold in five minutes. In the first place Catarrhoxone soothes the irritated membranes and relieves congestion, then it cuts out the poisonous germs, the cause of the disease. These insects contain a large proportion of formal acid. A traveler in Africa says that a meal or two of spiders cured him permanently of an attack of ague.

Spiders as Medicine.

Formic acid has been used for a long time by the Matabele natives in Africa as a cure for malaria and ague.
It is taken by them in the form of spiders.
These insects contain a large
attack of ague.

WHEN YOU GROW OLD.

The body needs patching—wasted tissues must be rebuilt, played-out organs restored—blood needs extra nourishment. Elderly people need Ferrozone, need it because it vitalizes and rejuvenates as no other remedy can. Ferrozone builds up the kind of strength that makes one feel good, keeps back the decay of old age and makes you look young and handsome again. Forget nervous exhaustion, renew your vital energy, again re-enter the life of youth. Your remedy is Ferrozone, only fifty cents per box, at all dealers.

The disposition is to think everyone else the possessor of more peculiarities than we really have.

Mlle. AGAFVA SIMBIRSKI.

Russian Heroine of the Wildest Love Romance on Record.

The Kaluga newspapers report the death and amazing burial of Mlle.
Agafva Simbirski, one of the richest and most eccentric women in Russia.
When only 20 years of age Mlle.
Simbirski, by the death of her father, became possessed of a fortune of nearly three million roubles. Suitors innumerable sought her hand, but the enormously wealthy girl set her affections on an ugly, red-haired gardener, Andrei Vanukhin by name.
Furious at her choice, Mlle. Simbirski's brother ordered Vanukhin to leave the neighborhood. The gardener refused. Within a week he was found lying dead in a paddock reserved for the use of "a half-tame wild boar." Although an evident case of murder, the family hushed things up, alleging that Vanukhin had been killed by the pig, which he well knew to be dangerous.
Contrary to expectation Mlle. Simbirski appeared to accept the explanation.
But the joy of her family was turned to despair when the young lady proclaimed her belief that the spirit of her dead lover had entered into the body of his slayer. From that day forth Mlle. Simbirski consecrated her life to the evil-smelling hog.

To her order a firm of St. Petersburg contractors built a palatial "sty" of granite and snow-white marble.

The demented lady retained the service of an expert cook, who thrice daily prepared a sumptuous repast for the benefit of the grunting porker.
Mlle. Simbirski was accustomed to feed the hog with her own fair hands, and only recently ordered a gorgeous silver trough from a well-known Moscow manufacturer.

A few weeks ago the unfortunate girl became extremely religious, and insisted that Andrei—for so she called the pig—should fast when she fasted.
One night she visited the marble sty.
From that visit she never returned.

Early next morning the steward discovered his mistress's body terribly mutilated in a corner of the pig's "bedroom." Again there were rumors of foul play, but again the family alleged that the pig was the murderer. Color was added to this story by the circumstance that the "fasting" and halffasted boar had mangled one of the arms of his mistress.

In the presence of a vast concourse, Mlle. Simbirski's eldest brother shot Andrei through the heart. Afterwards the body of the boar was buried in a grave beside that of his benefactress.

Peers As Engineers.

The Duke of Sutherland is perhaps the best locomotive engineer in the British peerage, and could earn a living at the work did he so desire.

A private railway, thirty miles long, connects Dunrobin Castle with the main line, and both the Duke and his wife are experts at handling the trains over this stretch of track.

The only other privately owned railway in Great Britain is a three mile circular track in the grounds of Hillsborough Castle, one of the country seats of the Marquis of Downshire.
Here an engine is declared to be one of the most perfect ever built in England, affords the Marquis diversion in plenty, and he is as capable a fireman as he is an engineer.

The Duke of Portland has no private road, but he has his credit as engine driver of regular trains, the paid engine driver riding in the cab and enjoying his novel vacation.

Several other titled persons take an absorbing interest in machinery, and the Viscount Cole, elder son of Lord Emswiler, worked as stoker on board a battle ship from Australia to Gibraltar.

The Duke of Connaught has had practical experience running a locomotive in Egypt, and not long ago the Duke of Devonshire, while on a trip to England, put in an entire morning firing on the locomotive, alighting at the end of the run as dirty and as greasy as the regular fireman whom he replaced, to the great horror of the reception committee.

Voices High and Low.

While the Germans are the softest spoken people as a race, the Tartars possess more powerful vocal organs than any other people.

It is a peculiar thing that different nations have differences in accent so marked that the speech of other nationalities is difficult of understanding to them.

The American accent is quicker and in a higher key than that of the English, and, though speaking the same tongue, the Englishman experiences real difficulty in understanding the American, and the American, accustomed to the quicker speech, finds the English drawl almost irritating at times.

Similarly a Frenchman speaks German with an impetuosity and pitch disagreeable to Teutonic ears, and finds the guttural speech as difficult to understand as is his nasal quality to the German.

It is not always the loudest voice that is the most penetrating, and while the German has the lowest voice of all the civilized races he is able to make himself heard when a Frenchman's voice could not reach.

Milk Melons.

One of the latest French agricultural fads is being agitated by a farmer near Marseilles, who declares that watermelons sown with milk freely poured about the roots will grow twice their normal size, and offers proof in the shape of prizes from many fairs which, he asserts, he was enabled to win through this practice.

According to his theory the melon is provided with the proper combination of foods in exactly the right proportions and is enabled to throw all of its energy into its growth instead of sending forth long roots in order to draw from the soil what it requires as food.

The process is said not only to increase the size of the melon, but to insure firm red pulp of delicious flavor.

A One Dollar Job.

A man and his bride by the parson were tied,
And when the performance was done "Alas," exclaimed he, examining his fee,
"I add one and one and make one!"

August 22.—Miss Gladys Maw, who has been the guest of the Misses Stewart, Carlyle avenue, for the past week, left yesterday for her home in Essex.

Mrs. John Gilby and daughter Marjory, of Battle Creek, Mich., are the guests of Mrs. D. Smith, at Willow Beach.

Mrs. John Wall, who has been visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs.
James Stewart, returned yesterday to her home in Cleveland.

St. Andrew's Anglican church was the scene of a very pretty wedding yesterday afternoon, when the rector, Rev. T. Dobson, united in marriage Miss Sadie E. Campbell, daughter of Mrs. Campbell, Prospect street, and Mr. Herbert E. Burnett, of London, England, foreign buyer for Simpson's, of Toronto. The church was beautifully decorated in a color scheme of green and white. Messrs.
Burleigh Campbell, H. Dennis and W.
Piggott acted as ushers. Shortly after five o'clock the rector, the groom, and the bridesman, Mr.
Allen, of Toronto, took their places at the chancel steps. To the strains of Lohengrin's wedding march played by Mr. Frank Phelps, of Chatham, the bride entered on the arm of W.
C. Crawford, preceded by Dick Crawford and Ray Wilson as pages, and Misses Aileen Campbell and Minnie Jackson (nieces of the bride) as flower girls, who were daintily gowned in white silk and carried baskets of asters. The bride, who was attended by her sister, Miss Annie and Mrs. Crawford as matron of honor, wore white net over white taffeta, with trimming of white satin baby ribbon and white meline hat. The bridesmaid's dress was of white accordion plaited silk, with white me-line hat. Mrs. Crawford wore mauve velvet de sole over taffeta with hat to match. Mrs. Campbell, mother of the bride, wore a handsome gown of black lace over black silk, and mauve velvet bonnet. The bridal party left the church to the strains of Mendelssohn's wedding march, and repaired to the home of the bride's mother, which was tastefully decorated in green and white, where a dainty repast was served. The groom's present to the bride was a ring set with five pearls. Among those present from a distance were Mr. Burnett and daughter, of Brantford, father and sister of the groom; Mr. and Mrs. Burnett, of Toronto; Mrs. James Campbell and daughter, of Brantford; Mrs. Jackson, of Toronto; Miss Greenhill, of Leamington; Miss Owens, of Youngstown, Ohio, and W. Piggott, of Chatham. The bride and groom left on the eight o'clock train on a short trip to Detroit, after which they return here, and leave for New York, from where they sail on the 25th inst. for a honeymoon trip to Paris, France, after which they take up their residence in London, Eng. The bride is one of Tilbury's most popular and highly esteemed young ladies, and will be followed by the good wishes of hosts of friends.

A WARNING TO MOTHERS.

Too much care cannot be used with small children during the hot weather of the summer months to guard against bowel troubles. As a rule it is only necessary to give the child a dose of castor oil to correct any disorder of the bowels. Do not use any substitute, but give the old-fashioned castor oil, and see that it is fresh, as rancid oil nauseates and has a tendency to gripe. If this does not check the bowels give Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy and then a dose of castor oil, and the disease may be checked in its incipiency and all danger avoided. The castor oil and this remedy should be secured at once and kept ready for instant use as soon as the first indication of any bowel trouble appears.
This is the most successful treatment known and may be relied upon with implicit confidence even in cases of cholera infantum. For sale by all druggists.

To be entirely tolerant we must tolerate those who are intolerant.

NINETY-EIGHT PER CENT.

There is a fascination about big profits to a business man. But the conservative and cautious trader prefers to have the lesser per cent. of interest and the larger per cent. of safety in his investments. There is no business man who would not consider it a sound proposition to invest in an enterprise in which absolute loss was impossible and which offered ninety-eight chances in a hundred of a rich profit. The statistics of cures effected by Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery show that ninety-eight per cent. of cases of "weak lungs," if not all, forms of physical weakness may be traced to starvation. Starvation saps the strength. The body is just as much starved when the stomach cannot extract nutrition from the food it receives as when there is no food. "Weak lungs," bronchial affections, obstinate coughs, call for nourishment. "Golden Medical Discovery" supplies that nourishment in its most condensed and assimilable form.
It makes "weak lungs" strong, by strengthening the stomach and organs of digestion which digest and distribute the food, and by increasing the supply of pure blood.

Table Novelties in Silver.

Very appropriate for the season are the pretty sets of lemonade spoons which have perforated bowls and convenient strawlike handles, through which the lemonade may be drawn.
Grapefruit glasses come in cut glass.
To hold the shredded grapefruit there is a flat bottomed tumbler furnished with a short stem to imbed in the ice.
For wedding gifts these, with rock crystal dishes in fruit, flower and choice berry designs, are popular.
