MASONS ATTEND CHURCH SERVICE

Scotia Lodge, No. 28, A.F. and A.M., held their annual parade and service in the Methodist church Sunday morning, June 21. Past Master, Chaplain Dr. Thomas W. Hodgson, conducting the service, which was largely attended.

Dr. Hodgson chose for his subject Matt. 23:8, "One is your Master, even Christ, and Ye all are Brethren." There speaks the Master, whose heart is filled with love, as he breaks the bread and drinks the wine. In that upper room are all types of temperaments, a unity in diversity. Here is a creation of fellowship in which the atmosphere becomes like Jesus, with its teaching of Fatherly love and Brotherly love which alone can bring the kingdom of Heaven upon earth. God is the Father of all races, who have one need, one nature, one destiny. On this doctrine Jesus rests his religion. His family includes all humanity. Though we have the eloquence of angels, and no brotherly heart, we have nothing. God is out on the rough highways of life, the friend of every man. No man can wander far enough to cease to be the child of God. God rested fraternity on sonship, never losing hope. This friendly power, which is shown in the beauty of flowers and stars and in the spiritual quest, is the everywhere of the Father. Such must be the faith of our fraternities, if they are to mean anything. Men are to be made brothers. In the teachings of Jesus we have a vision equal to the problems of today—that of organizing good will and moral intelligence and ending war. The good of one means the good of all. There is no hope for the spiritual unrest but the progress of practical fraternity and until private and vested interests are vested in the common interest. There is no justice if not for all. Men in every walk of life must join in friendship and truth and do the things needful for the common good. Man's material needs must be supplied. Man cannot live on bread alone but he must have bread. If bread is to be sacramental and beauty consumed, all must be fed. Bread must be Brother bread. Every trade that degrades man and every dogma that degrades God is unbenevolent. Blessed are all organizations that lift men to a closer realization of their close relation of the Father and God is the great Father and that Christ came to form the spirit of fraternal brotherhood. "We're man to one another, as kind as God to All."

Then no man on his brother in vain would ever call.

The choir, leader Mrs. Alfred Ellis, organist Mrs. Charles Sinnett, rendered special music. "Crossing the Bar" sung by Mrs. Ellis and Mrs. Walter Dickie, was very beautiful. In the anthem the solo parts were taken by Charles Sinnett and Rudolph Schallheim. The service closed with "Blest Be the Tie that Binds."

INTERESTING LECTURE ON BERRY CULTURE

Through the courtesy of the D.A.R. an illustrated lecture was given in Slack's Hall, Wednesday evening, June 17, in the interests of strawberry and raspberry raising and community canning. The audience was a large and representative one. Scott Blenkhorn presided. The first speaker was Mr. Kenneth Chipman, of the D.A.R., Halifax, who outlined the object of the meeting.

These pictures said Mr. Chipman are put on by the D.A.R., with a view to increasing production. At the start of the season, we have a good market but it is limited, and our market becomes glutted. A representative of a New York Commission house is confident that good berries, carefully packed, will there find a ready market. The Boston & Yarmouth S.S. Co. are building boats which they hope to have ready for service next year, and in these boats is provided chilled space. The fruit to Yarmouth will be handled in refrigerators.

The next speaker was Professor Blair. It is imperative, said he, to have only the best plants, strong and vigorous, and that the foliage be of the finest. The carbon is only taken in by the leaf and the larger the leaf the better it is able to take nourishment. For good returns give good care this year. Plant strong that because these have good roots runners. The most striking results come from those one year old. The protection of the foliage is essential. Cultivation should be shallow and frequent to keep the weeds under control. A few boughs of straw will give winter protection. They should be set in May. The crown of the plant should be level with the surface of the soil. Loosen the soil to prevent drought. Cultivate frequently during the growing season.

The black raspberry, and how to plant.

1. Bend over top of cane to ground until it takes root.

2. When firmly rooted cut away old cane.

3. Transplant these new plants in the spring.

4. Pick berries direct into boxes.

5. Have best quality and best measure for motto.

6. Careful handling means good market and good price.

The raspberry is profitable from 10-15 years. It must have annual pruning—disease is controlled by reasonable pruning—as it gives the plants the power of resistance. The raspberry should be picked in pint boxes as they cannot resist their own weight.

At stated points through this Valley, we should have small industries for surplus products. In one community in Ontario 80 tons of fruit, done by community canning, was sent to the soldiers overseas by the Women's Institute and Red Cross Societies. We have a country second to none. We should take advantage of what God has given us. The factory opened at Waterville was favorably commented on.

Orchard problems of the present were also discussed by Mr. J. F. Hockey, re the profit of the gathering. The grass should be clipped if possible to save moisture. Cultivation should cease July 1st to prevent further growing—for the development of the bud. If there are too many apples formed, remove about two out of a cluster of five. Care and attention in handling, which ensures good fruit, was dwelt on.

An expression of appreciation was extended to Professor Blair, Mr. K. Chipman and Mr. J. F. Hockey for an evening of more than ordinary interest and profit.

CELEBRATED 83rd BIRTHDAY

Mrs. Agnes Moffatt, Glace Bay, nee Agnes Ellis, daughter of the late Joshua Ellis, of Canning, was the guest of honor at a reception held by the Women's Missionary Society of Glace Bay, upon the anniversary of her 83rd birthday. The reception was held at the home of her daughter, Mrs. William McKinnon, where a large number gathered to wish their loved member and friend many years of happiness. Mrs. Moffatt was presented with two beautiful shower bouquets of carnations and roses, which were accompanied by a beautiful book filled with expressions of appreciation in verse, signed by nearly 100 friends. Mrs. Moffatt, who was taken entirely by surprise, expressed her appreciation very feelingly, after which a social hour was enjoyed, during which tea was served.

Mrs. Moffatt is the oldest living graduate of the class of Acadia Seminary, Wolfville, to which she belonged, and has greatly endeared herself to many. The ACADIAN joins in wishing Mrs. Moffatt and her daughter, Mrs. McKinnon, every blessing.

UPPER CANARD

Mrs. (Rev.) L. P. Archibald received for the first time since coming to the Presbyterian manse, Upper Canard, on Wednesday afternoon, June 17, the rooms being filled with guests. Mrs. Archibald was assisted in receiving by Mrs. A. H. Dickie, Mrs. Sherman Belcher, Mrs. Charles Maggee and Mrs. A. D. Ellis presided at the tea table, where lilies of the valley and pansies were in profusion. Those assisting were Mrs. William Burgess, Miss Jessie Harris, Miss Vivian Cox, Miss Belle Belcher, Miss Ruth Sheffield, Helen Archibald. In the evening Rev. L. P. Archibald and Mrs. Archibald were "At Home," when they were assisted by Miss Hazel Newcombe, Miss Adeline McCubbin, Miss Janet Walker, Miss Jean Miller, Miss Lorna Ellis. Mrs. John Burgess rendered delightful music during the evening.

WICKED TO DISTURB THE DEAD

It is wicked to dig up graves and disturb the dead.

It is almost as wicked to go into the place of a business firm that does not advertise in the home town paper—for that also is equivalent to disturbance of the dead.

Why wish to disturb the dead?

There are plenty of five people in this old world without trying to resurrect those who have gone to rest, both spiritually and physically.

A non-advertising man is a dead one. Some folks may tell you that this statement is prompted by selfishness on the part of publishers of newspapers. That is not true.

You point out a firm of any kind—little or big—that goes on a non-advertising policy—and we will show you one that is dead in the shell every time. Its policies being wrong in this respect is pretty conclusive evidence that in time it will go down in failure. Not alone because of failure to advertise, but because of false standards and unsuccessful policies.

MURINE FOR YOUR EYES

Wholesome Cleansing Refreshing

When a business firm is right in one great fundamental, it is generally correct in all of its policies—and that is what wins success. When it is wrong in one, it is usually found to be equally as far off in all others.

We have yet to see this rule fail.

There have been some apparent successes by disregard of this rule, but the rare exceptions only prove the rule. Sometimes unusual conditions prevail which sweep them along to success in spite of their policies. If you fall into a swift current you are sure to be carried down stream whether you can swim or not. But it takes a swimmer to go up stream in either still water or swift current.—Ferne Free Press.

The secret of the Figure Grooming

MODART CORSETS

FIGURE GROOMING SERVICE is just this, the study of figures and their true proportions,—a trained corps of corsetiers backed by a designing organization has won and kept a reputation for figure grooming.

It isn't so much a matter of how much you weigh, as where that surplus weight is placed. It is not altogether pounds, but proportion. The answer is not in quick methods, it is in "Figure Grooming." It is not a matter of restriction of figure, or loss of comfort, it is a matter of moulding and holding your figure to its true proportion.

Wear a Modart Corset

Mrs. Haag representing these corsets from their New York office will give a three (3) days demonstration at our store beginning Thursday, June 25th.

This should be regarded as a rare opportunity, where Mrs. Haag has had over fifteen years experience in fitting corsets.
