

ROUND UP IS GOOD THING.

More of the Underclass Are Sent Away.

Five Canadians to Fight an Englishman, Says P. M.

A Truancy Case Also on the List This Morning.

The crusade against all varieties of vagrants goes gaily on. Chief Smith displayed wisdom in putting Officers Cameron and Barrett on plain clothes duty as in the past two weeks they have succeeded in sending away a dozen fellows of a bad class to the place where troubles do not enter.

Several of a still worse class, those who indulge in indecent acts, have also been sent to jail. This morning two vags appeared. Alex. Murray, Ancaster, was arrested for vagrancy Saturday night. He said he had been sick and that was why he did not work.

He blamed his sickness to the fact that he had been kept in jail on a charge of vagrancy up to a few days ago. "Try another month; till the warm weather sets in," said Magistrate Jells.

G. Jennings, no address, said he was not altogether guilty of being a vag. Constables Cameron and Barrett swore that he was trying hard to be one. He was always in the company of low characters and was a victim of John Barclay. A man in court said he had worked for the accused as soon as the weather broke.

"Call for him in a month, at the jail," said his Worship. "I'll have work for him in a week." "He looks as if he needs more than a week. The month stands," said the P. M., closing the case.

John Orr was recognized in court on Saturday as being a man who committed an indecent act on Sunday, February 21. He was up on a charge of vagrancy and got three months in jail. A young lady appearing against another prisoner was sure he was the man who had committed the offence at King and Bay streets while she was going to Sunday School. Her sister was with her at the time but was not sure of the man and he was acquitted. A. M. Lewis appeared for Orr. The conviction of three months stands against the prisoner and will hold him till the June brides are blossoming.

Barton Wrenn, 51 Market street, Alex. Solviburg, Rosedale avenue, Crown Point, and James Martin, 1 Columbia avenue, Union Park, were charged by John Jones with assault. They pleaded guilty to fighting him but not to assaulting him.

Jones said they sent two other boys to him with a challenge to fight. He did not want to fight, and replied so, but they went for him and forced it on him. The three boys swore that Jones sent a sweeping challenge to them and that when Wrenn attempted to make good Jones got him down and kicked him. They "let loose" then. The two witnesses who had carried the challenge denied that they had anything to do with the fight, but merely watched it.

"It takes five Canadians to fight one Englishman," said the Magistrate, sarcastically. "He told all the fellows he was a scientific boxer, and could have kicked me, but he didn't want to hurt us," said Wrenn. That didn't work and a fine of $5 each was imposed on the trio. Alex. Josie, Wellington street north, was fined $5 for being drunk and disorderly. Constable Yaxley watched him trying doors yesterday afternoon in the vicinity of Cannon and Wentworth streets. The residents in that section were afraid to go out after watching Josie. He said he was looking for his wife.

James Hall, MacNab street north, sent his wife to answer a charge of neglecting to send his daughter to school. Truancy Officer Hunter explained that the girl's head was not kept as clean as it should be. "Send her to school then," said his Worship, as he laid the case over for results.

It was the first time Charles Healey, Toronto, was ever arrested for drunkenness when he was locked up on Saturday night. His initiation fee was $2. Mrs. L. Lux, 138 Cannon street west, was charged by Saul Applebaum, one of her boarders, with assault. The pair did not appear and the case was allowed to stand over indefinitely.

DODGED BLOW.

Banker's Wife Struck at With Sandbag at North Bay.

North Bay, Ont., March 22.—Mrs. J. R. Moffatt, wife of the local manager of the Bank of Ottawa, was struck at with a sandbag by an unknown man on Saturday night as she was leaving her house, but dodged the blow, and escaped from her assailant. Late last night two men attempted to force their way into the Moffatt house, but were foiled by the housemaid, who notified the police. On a search being made two men were found in a C. P. R. passenger coach, which they had entered by means of skeleton keys; one got away, but the other was arrested.

SMALL FIRES.

Yesterday morning, shortly after 6 o'clock, fire broke out in a frame store house, behind Chadwick Bros.' factory. Spontaneous combustion of damp charcoal, in a small barrel, caused the blaze, which was put out by the fire department. The loss was small. A dump fire on Saturday night, at Ferry and Wellington streets, kept the John street company busy for two hours.

THE PUBLIC CONSCIENCE.

Strong Sermon on Social Conditions of the Day.

In a sweeping review of the political, municipal and moral conscience of the city, Rev. W. F. Hollinrake, Zion Tabernacle, preached a strong sermon from his pulpit last night, heading it with the query: "Is the public conscience dead, or is it only sleeping?" He referred to the drink traffic and all kinds of graft, handling his subject clearly and with a careful display of the arguments in favor of the yea and nay of his topic. He took up the conscience of the home, school, press, pulpit and the personality of the individual and blamed lax administration upon the general public. If the public did not rise above the police force they were not doing their duty, he stated. The police force and the magistrate were not higher than the individual, and it was the individual who was at fault in incomplete administration of the law, and in the low moral standard that seemed to prevail among a certain large class of the city. Money is the root of all crime, he said, and he went on to remark that in some places, notably the States, but even in this country, the man with $25,000 went free when the poor man was sent down for a similar or lesser offence.

Mr. Hollinrake blamed the drink traffic for much crime, but blamed the drink traffic, not on the hotel keepers, but on the public who had the remedy in its own hands.

The congregation was very large and special singing was rendered by the choir.

SAID TO BE ALIVE.

Search for Michigan Banker Who "Died" 15 Years Ago.

New York, March 21.—Police Inspector McCafferty, according to an announcement published here, has detailed detectives to search for Latorza S. Baker, formerly cashier of the Northern National Bank, of Big Rapids, Mich., a man who has been legally dead for fifteen years.

The search, it is stated, has been made at the instance of Frank Chickering, of Big Rapids, who has extensive lumber interests in Michigan. Chickering says Baker is alive and for several months has been associated with a firm of Wall Street brokers under the alias, Kabor La Torres, his real name, with the letters transposed. Chickering told Inspector McCafferty that it was necessary for him to find Baker in order to clear up the title to timber lands valued at $3,000,000.

After Baker's bank failed he came to New York. In February, 1894, after he had been here but a few days, word was sent to his family that he had died in Bellevue Hospital as the result of injuries received in an encounter with highwaymen. A body was sent to Big Rapids, and this, it is stated, was identified as that of Baker by his wife and children.

SHE MUST DIE.

Albany, N. Y., March 22.—Governor Hedges announced today that he had denied the application for executive clemency in the case of Mrs. Mary Farmer, who is under sentence of death at Auburn prison for the murder of Mrs. Sarah Brennan at Brownville, near Watertown. Mrs. Farmer will be executed some time next week.

Paris Doctors May Wear Badges.

The Paris Medical Society is considering asking physicians to wear badges in the streets and public places so that they can be easily found in case of accidents. It is not infrequent for a person in need of medical aid or acting as a rescuer for some one who has to run for blocks before encountering a doctor's sign, and at any time he might unknowingly pass a physician.—From Popular Mechanic.

FINE OFFER BY CATARACT.

Cheap Power For Private Users is Now Assured.

City Engineer Recommends High Pressure Fire System.

Ward Foremen Kerr and McAdams Notified to Quit.

A confirmation in writing of the offer made by the directors last week to a civic deputation that the company would supply power users with power at ten per cent, less than the Hydro-Electric price in any municipality was received this morning by Mayor McLaren from General Manager Hawkins, of the Cataract. The Mayor declares that this is the most advantageous concession the city has yet been able to secure from the company for the benefit and protection of the private power users. The general opinion is that this will have the effect of settling the power controversy without further delay.

Mr. Hawkins' letter, dated March 20, reads as follows:

Dear Sir,—In re matter of the clause in the contract of the Western Counties Electric Company with the city of Hamilton spoken of at our interview yesterday. The clause is as follows: "No. 23. The company further covenants and agrees with the city that it will, during the continuance of this contract, supply for their own use private users of power in the city of Hamilton with electric power at prices which shall be ten per cent, less than shall be regularly charged to private users for said purpose, by any municipality using power supplied by or contracted for by the Hydro-Electric Power Commission, provided said municipality is not supplying power to customers at a less than cost, such allowance being made for differences in the cost of transmission."

By the authority of the Executive Committee of this company I can say that we will undertake to make this clause above quoted applicable to and apply the same to our business in Hamilton. Yours truly,

W. C. Hawkins, General Manager.

To the above communication the Mayor sent this reply to Mr. Hawkins: Dear Sir,—I thank you for yours of the 20th, which I can assure you will be carefully considered, as I am sure that what the majority of the public want, and have a right to have, is to be sure of the best value for the money they pay for electric power. I do not think the council, or the people generally, have any disposition to injure your company, but feel that you have not given sufficient attention to the interests of the city and its citizens. We will welcome a disposition to turn in and help us, which I feel sure will well repay you.

City Engineer Barrow, acting under instructions, has notified Ward Foremen Kerr and McAdams that their services as ward foremen will not be required after March 31. This is done in connection with the scheme approved by the Council to reduce the number of ward foremen to five, and to organize the five into a committee to make no further improvements or additions to the waterworks system after the new pumps are installed for at least five or six years. He thinks the city should make all the money it can get out of the waterworks in that time and then install a high pressure pumping system in the centre of the city for fire purposes. The pressure at present ranges from seventy to eighty pounds. Mr. Barrow thinks the city will grow sufficiently in another six years to require a pressure of 300 pounds for fire purposes. His idea is to install a small pumping plant at Simcoe street and pump direct from the bay.

Mr. Barrow this morning announced that he would advise the Fire and Water Committee to install the air pressure system for pumping water to the top of the mountain without going on the incline company's property. He wrote the company three weeks ago, but has received no reply. The way he proposes to install it now will effect a big saving in time, and he says the pipe which will be out of the ground can be covered to protect it against the frost in cold weather. Mr. Barrow says the mountain people will have a water supply before the end of June.

The City of Duluth is tangled up in litigation over tar and asphalt pavement and the city solicitor of that place has written to City Engineer Barrow for information that will be used as evidence.

Mr. Barrow is making a valuation of the waterworks property and equipment for the Mayor. He estimates the total value at about $2,500,000.

Permits have been issued to James Bryers for three brick houses at the corner of King street and Fairview avenue for A. Stewart, to cost $6,000, and to E. B. Patterson for a frame house on Gibson avenue, between Barton street and Princess street, to cost $1,200.

This afternoon the special committee appointed by the Council to name the terms on which the city will annex a portion of Barton, east of Sherman avenue, is having a conference with the township people.

WILL PROMENADE.

To the Editor of the Times: Dear Sir,—Since the letters of Mr. Hoodless, Mr. Steele and others have appeared in the Times, I have been besieged with telephone messages asking if we intended to give a series of promenades concerts. I have consulted Mr. Stears and we have decided to follow the suggestions of these gentlemen. The gallery will be seated for those not wishing to promenade, leaving the whole of the floor space for promenading. Yours truly,

G. R. Robinson.

Mrs. Whitehouse, wife of Mr. Frank Whitehouse, 83 Wood street east, met with a very severe and painful accident on Sunday night, at her home. Mrs. Whitehouse was going upstairs. Her husband had preceded her with a hand lamp, and when he reached the top, he turned around to wait for her. Just as he did so the lamp broke at the handle, and as the bowl fell the oil ignited. The burning stuff fell all over Mrs. Whitehouse, burning her hand, arm, shoulder, neck and face. Mr. Whitehouse hurried to her assistance, and soon had the fire out, but his wife was terribly burned. Dr. Balfe was quickly summoned. Today the unfortunate woman is progressing favorably, although suffering greatly.

"Tired Feeling" Has an Antidote. For "that tired feeling" take chemicals. Prof. Angelo Mosso, of Turin, found in his experiments that the illness caused by over-fatigue was due to the absorption of certain compounds into the blood, and that these substances when injected into other animals produced the same symptoms. The presence of such toxins is thought to be the explanation of the illness sometimes caused by eating the flesh of over-laden game or of overdriven cattle.

Liebig mentions a case in which the flesh of a roebuck which had struggled violently after being caught in a snare gave rise to symptoms of poisoning. Similar cases are recorded by Gautier, including one in which pigs were fatally poisoned through being fed upon the flesh of a horse that had died during its struggles when being broken in.

At first these poisonous products of fatigue were regarded as animal alkaloids similar to plant poisons like strychnine and bromine. But Dr. Weichart succeeded in isolating from the muscles of wearied animals a specific toxin, which when injected in small doses into animals gradually produced, immunitary and formed an antitoxin. In large doses the toxin produced the symptoms of fatigue, followed by death. A simple method of producing an antitoxin has been described in a recent German patent.

When albumen is gently heated for about ten hours with a chemical agent like dilute nitric acid it is broken down into various products, one of which yields all the physiological effects of fatigue. In continuing the heating for a long period or on heating the mass among the products of its decomposition is one that neutralizes its action. This new substance may be separated from the other products of decomposition and from the accompanying mineral salts. When injected into the body it is stated to act as an antidote to the toxin of fatigue, preventing its injurious effects.

No Fault of His. "See here," exclaimed the angry man as he entered the walking stick emporium. "I bought this cane here last week."

"Yes, I believe you did," rejoined the proprietor, calmly. "What's wrong with it?"

"You said the handle was genuine ivory and I find it is artificial," said the irate party.

"That may be true," replied the dealer, "but it is no fault of mine. I support all my ivory from Africa and the only explanation I can give is that the elephant may have had false tusks."—Chicago News.

His Burst of Generosity. "Your boy's injury is not as severe as I had anticipated," the surgeon assured him. "I shall not have to amputate his leg."

"I am glad to hear you say so," said Mr. Tyle-Hist, with emotion. "Still if it had been necessary in order to save his life, I—I was willing to bear the expense of it!"
