fternoon. Dr. Waldo Briggs during the fication of Dr. Waldo Briggs after the Schreiber colt had gotten home in a tight fit with Vox Populi served as the chief incident of the racing yesterday afternoon. Dr. Waldo Briggs during the atretch run was making desperate efforts to retain his lead over the fast coming Vox Populi, and his rider was applying his whip frantically. In the last sixteenth Briggs began boring out and forced Vox Populi towards the outer fence. G. Burns on the former also managed to swipe Vox Populi several cuts near the end, which retarded him and enabled Dr. Waldo Briggs to win by a head. The spectators at once began to clamor for his disqualification. The judges were also of the opinion that the foul was palpable, for they did not wait for the protest from Dennison, the rider of Vox Populi, before setting Dr. Waldo back and awarding the purse to Vox Populi and moving Martin Doyle and Michael Angelo into afternoon. They suspended Jockey G. Burns for six racing days for all but his contract employer, J. McLaughlin, jun.

Yesterday's ordinary card resulted in defeats for most of the favorites. There was a find not have an over-profitable day. Bad riding on the part of G. Burns was responsible for Hyperion's detert by Ida D. and Tremargo in the opener. There was a big plunge on Blags in the race, but whatever chances he might have had were spoiled when the failed to leave the barrier with the others. J. W. Schorr's newly acquired Paul Davis landed the purse in the second race in commanding style from ten others. Burns took him into a long lead after going a quarter and be only had to center during the scheman dear the purse.

So far very little fault has been found with the work of the jockeys at Saratoga. It is said that several riders have been closely watched by the race track detectives since the present meeting opened, and that they have been compelled to steer clear of former associates. There is one big operator at the Spa who has also been under surveillance, it is reported, yet he is continually winning heavy wagers, much to the distress of his fellow layers. This particular individual, it is stated, has been in the limelight on more than one occasion because of the report that he either owns or controls several racing stables and also has an underground connection with the jockeys' room. As the Eastern turf controls several racing stables and also has an underground connection with the jockeys' room. As the Eastern turf governors believe in securing conclusive evidence of sharp practice before resorting to drastic methods, it is not a bit surprising, say many regulars, that a close watch is kept on this person's Percy Sellen did two miles in 10.08 at Scarboro' Beach last night. He is training diligently, although he has no races in sight. Percy wants another crack at Nebrich, the Buffalo man, who beat him at five miles here a couple of weeks ago. The little galloper is out of work at present, and is improving his time in training.

"Long Distance Running" is the title of a comprehensive work on that subject by Alfred Shrubb. The volume is from the Hunter-Rose press, and would be a valuable acquisition to any sporting library.

Shrubb deals with his subject entertainingly, and gives many helpful hints from his long and distinguished career on track, road and cross-country. The work is pleasingly illustrated with half-tones, and is brimful of advice to athletes in all branches of track and field sports.

Newark scored a shut-out and deservel it, with the brand of ball the club's owner served up. In the last seven innings Toronto went out by the onetwo-three route, all the while the locals were sending their six runs across the

It was a fatal second inning for Kelley's men. At that, if one of McCin-ley's fast inshoots had not caught Lilair in the ribs at a critical moment, the teams might have been playing yet. It happened thusly: Manager wolverton led off in the second with a single. Sharpe sacrificed and Myers was there with a safe wallop, but Wolverton was held at third. Then Blair was hit in the ribs, fiking the bases. Crafty Joe McGinnity tried his old trick of crouching low over the plate. McGinley thought to fool him, and shot past a pippin straight over the pan. Like a flash, the Iron Man straight over the pan. Like a flash, the Iron Man straightened up and met the ball square on the nose. It sailed out to the left field bleachers, sending in all three runners, while Joe was left perched on second. He came home a moment later on Kelly's single to left.

That was all in the second, but Kelly punched out another safety in the fifth, and Schaffy's force, Gettman's walk, Wolverton's out from McGinley and a wild pitch netted another for Newark.

The scoring ended in the eighth when the Tigers tallied their sixth run on singles by Wolverton and Myers, followed by Blair's double. Against such form as McGinnity displayed, Toronto had never a chance, but the Maple Leafs are out for revenge to-morrow. Score:

The time stipulated for Brantioru, Aug. 10.—(c)pecial.)—Ine Verity team came within an ace of defeating the windmill aggregation here yesterday, but the latter got the count, just getting enough runs in the last inning to nose out the Plowmakers. Civic Holiday was observed here, and in spite of the counter attraction of lacroses the of the counter attraction of lacrosse the largest crowd of the season turned out to watch the home rivals. The Plowmakers, as usual, put up a stubborn contest against the Windmillers, and, with any kind of luck, would have been returned winners. Veritys outfielded and outhit their opponents, and their pitcher, McCaig, served up a highly commendable assortment of benders, that the steel sluggers could not connect with. The G., S. & M. line-up underwent a change, Simpson being given a rest and Dingwell taking his turn on the slab. Walsh replaced Bardgett at first, the latter having been badly injured at Hamilton on Saturday, when Lanning slid against him. A cry of help arose from Dingwell in the eighth inning, when two hits and a dead ball filled the bases. Simpson went in, but Veritys scored one and went into the lead.

The Windmill went into the ninth one to the bad, and Patterson, first unan out, ozoned. It began to look like a Verity victory, and the Plowmakers' supporters were on their feet. Walsh sneaked in a hit to right and McDonald drew transportation by a dead ball. It was here that a bone-headed play between Garbut and McHugh lost the game. Garbut threw to the latter to catch McDonald off first; the peg was bad, and McHugh lost it. Walsh scoring from second in the meantime.
