DOMINION OF CANADA FIRST AID CHAMPIONS

These five young women, members of No. 1 Ladies' First Aid Team, Canadian National Railways, Montreal Office, recently won the Lady Drummond Trophy, emblematic of the Championship of Canada in First Aid and Home Nursing. The Canadian National Railways have more men and women taking instruction in First Aid work than any other organization in Canada. Already more than 4,000 have been enrolled in the classes, and the work is being highly organized from coast to coast. It is the aim of the Company to have employees on every train, in every shop and yard, capable of rendering First Aid efficiently whenever the occasion demands. The names of the winning team from left to right, are: Misses May Neate; Olive Doody; Robina Moodie, captain; Sarah N. James and Isabelle Tardion.

Beauty Flies For Speckled Beauties

There is a beautiful spot in the North of Quebec famous for its scenery. In winter time they use a skis and a body on and use it for fishing and swimming. But almost every mountain of the Laurentians there is a lake. So the plane comes in handy for jumping over the hills to chase the sporting bass and trout to their lair. The plane is a great asset to any party of five, six, or seven, and is a justly proud of the greatest sportsman's equipment.

HEADING FOR THE FINANCIAL ROCKS

The serious decline in the national revenues which began with the announcement of the King Government's fiscal proposals last April was accentuated during August. That is to say the longer these are tried the more unfortunate the results. Returns issued by the Department of Customs and Excise show that during August customs collections were $2,106,199 less than during the corresponding month last year, while the excise taxes brought in $3,966,661 less, making the combined decrease $6,072,860.

It is also announced that during the first five months of the current fiscal year the revenue from these two sources fell off to the extent of $26,112,326 as compared with that for the corresponding period in 1923. In other words Honourable J. A. Robb has lost during five months more revenue than he told Parliament he expected to lose during the whole twelve. In customs revenue alone he has lost $8,652,358; whereas he estimated that the loss would only be $1,225,000.

The situation would not be so bad if expenditure were falling at the same ratio. But instead of doing so, it is mounting. During the first four months of the fiscal year the increase on both current and capital account was $7,700,000. In other words, during the first five months of the fiscal year the Government has gone behind to the extent of approximately $34,000,000. And the end is not yet. At the present rate of going there will be a deficit on this year's operations of $60,000,000.

The notion that good times are just around the corner, and that the corner will be soon turned, is all nonsense. The truth is that conditions will get worse before they get better. On this there is very general agreement. While Honourable J. A. Murdock stoutly defends the Government's tariff policy; some time ago he came to the conclusion that there would be considerable unemployment this winter, and so he called a conference at Ottawa to discuss the situation. Well, he got the surprise of his life. Criticism of the Government's tariff and other policies became so strong that he concluded that he had better head it off by ruling it out of order, and he did so. After having realized his mistake, he allowed a full expression of opinion, and heard some more straight talk. The chief point hammered home was: "How can you expect to have anything but unemployment as long as you permit the cheap goods of other countries to be dumped here thus depriving our own people of work."

Mr. Tom Moore, President of the Trades and Labour Council, whom indeed the Government had made a C.N.R. Director, protested that the unemployment situation in Canada now amounted to a crisis and demanded a special session of Parliament this fall to deal with it. Unemployment and consequent privation are worse far than when the 300,000 who have left Canada were still with us. Does anyone imagine this situation can be taken care of by forcing the erection of Public Works and thus adding further to our deficits. This plan would not give work to 25% of those who must have work.

The fact is that the King Government has simply gambled with the future of the country having launched on a policy the consequences of which it little realized. Worse still, it apparently did not care as long as it secured sufficient support from the Progressives to enable it to carry on. It is carrying the country to a crisis.
