remains doubtful, for there is nothing o commemorate this year. The only solution to this problem seems to be that the new stamps are meant to bring to the notice of the people of Newfoundland, and the world at large, the passage through the House of the Humber Contract. This would seem to be proved by the fact that several heauty spots on the Humber River are depicted an stamps of the new issue. What one cannot understand is why portraits of the not also appear. The one point in favor of the new issue is that the stamps are of small size and are convenient for use on cheques. There are twelve values, and each value bears a different design. The one cent green, according to the label at the bottom of the central design, bears a picture of the Twin Hills, Tor's Cove. At first glance the stamp looks like nothing on earth, but after careful inspection some-thing faintly resembling the famous beauty spot of the Southern Shore he-

The two cent stamp is a brilliant cherry red. The stamp looks like a small piece of paper which has been painted over with a lip stick, and impressed in this is a seascape, purporting to rpresent the South West Wedding Bells.

CRANFORD-FEEHAN.

A very pretty wedding took place at the R. C. Cathedral when Mr. Geo. Cranford, son of the late Wm. and Mary Ann Cranford, was united in the bonds of matrimony to Miss Bride Feehan, daughter of Patrick and Mary Feehan. The officiating clergyman was the Rev. Dr. Carter. The bride wore a dress of blue crepe de chene, with hat to match, and was attended by her sister Gertie, while the groom was supported by Mr. Rebert Feehan, brother of the bride. After the ceremony supper was served at the residence of the bride's parents. Th numerous friends of the bride and groom wish them many years of has piness.
