

house. His name, I think, was Kelly. Fox told me the money was for the election. A letter was left at my place with Wm. Blackwell's name on it. I took it to him, and when he opened it he said, "I don't want any money," and I left it there. He voted for Dr. Orton. I think; he might have voted for McKim. I was at McKim's the night before the election with Dr. Orton. Nothing was said about money.

To Mr. Drew—Norton's son who got the money was about 19 years old. His father always voted for a Conservative.

James Grindly—Came from Aurora and voted for Dr. Orton. Wrote to John Beattie asking the prospect of the Dr. election. I did not get any expenses paid not by a long chalk! I got, in all, I believe, $14—long short of my expenses. I got $10 two or three days after I voted. The way I got it was thus: I told Mr. Beattie I would like to come up—and if a stecco image was stuck up I would give it a conservative vote—but would like if any friend of the cause would pay my expenses. I borrowed the money before I got an answer. Then I got a letter from T. A. Gordon, of Fergus. There was something in about expenses, but it was ambiguous—saying that things would be all right, or something of that sort. I got a telegram from Mr. Gordon after this saying "Come—your's wanted." I came up and voted, and after the poll was over, I tried from all my friends to get my expenses. I sent my son down to Greaves's to look for Gordon, and he brought back an envelope containing $10. I understood from Gordon's letter that a friend was to pay my expenses. I met G. W. Thorpe on the street, the next day. After talking to him awhile about the expense I was put to, he gave me $4. I was positively astonished when he gave me the money.

Thomas McManus—An Deputy-reeve of Peel. I worked all I could without "undue zeal." I went with the Dr.—part of one day—canvassing in Peel. I was out of pocket about $20 by the election—spent in treating or for teams. I lent James Connor $1 the night before the election. I never got it back, or asked for it. I met him as he was going home, and he said he needed some to treat with, as he was going to drive a team. I lent him $1. I gave Mrs. Edward Quinn $4 at her house the day before the election. I went to ask Quinn to take out his team, which he did. I told Quinn I was canvassing for Dr. Orton, and he said he was going to vote for him. I then asked him to take out his team. Didn't ask the team for the election, as I knew they would go the way their father went. I gave Mrs. Quinn the money because Quinn, as I thought, wouldn't take it. I didn't tell Mrs. Quinn what it was for. She didn't refuse to take it. Quinn is well-to-do, but I thought if he took out his team he ought to get something. I told him to bring any voters he could. I got $20 from T. A. Gordon, at a meeting on the Owen Sound Road. He didn't say anything, but I supposed it was for election purposes. We never had talk about money before this. I was not surprised to get it. I never gave my father-in-law any money. Didn't promise anybody anything for voting. A man named Sullivan went with me to Luther the day before the polling. He told me he wouldn't vote for McKim—that he would not vote at all. I gave McKim $3.50 for taking another man into Luther to vote for Mr. Drew. Sullivan was not back from Luther in time to vote for Dr. Orton. He said he wanted to get away from the election, because his father wished him to vote for McKim.

Just as the Court was about to be closed at six o'clock, Mr. Drew, respondent's counsel, rose and said that respondent felt that on the strength of Forester's evidence in reference to paying Jamieson—which act, it was believed, could be established—Respondent would consent to the election being voided, although not admitting the personal charges. Mr. Drew proposed that the petitioners' counsel stay further proceedings in order to save the expense of retaining so many witnesses as had been subpoenaed; but if further evidence was desired by the petitioners' counsel they should pay the costs incurred.

His Lordship remarked that bribery by agents had been clearly shown by the evidence taken so far. Although no personal charges were yet proven, enough had been shown to void the election, and he thought it unnecessary to proceed further on the charge of bribery by agents. After consultation, petitioner's Counsel consented to the proposal of Mr. Drew, retaining the right, however, to proceed with evidence in support of the personal charges, the witnesses not required for this being dismissed.

This arrangement was agreed to, and about twenty witnesses were retained to give evidence on the charges of personal bribery. The Court then adjourned till half-past nine on Wednesday.

DR. ORTON UNSEATED.

Dr. Orton has also gone by the board. Before the Court adjourned on Tuesday night his counsel admitted that the giving of money by Forester to Jamieson for his vote was sufficient to void the seat. The Judge also held that it was quite unnecessary to proceed further in proving bribery by agents, as the evidence already given clearly established that fact. Respondent's counsel then proposed, that having made the admission they did, further proceedings should be stayed, that the petitioners should not attempt to prove personal bribery on the part of Dr. Orton. This petitioner's counsel declined to do, and having expressed their determination to take evidence with a view to establish that fact, the Court adjourned till this morning for the purpose of taking such evidence. Looking at the evidence given on Tuesday, we may say that nearly all the witnesses—especially those who might be considered active agents—gave their evidence rather reluctantly, and in some cases it had to be dragged bit by bit out of them. They were invariably very careful and guarded in their admissions; and in some instances—as in the cases of Mrs. Dunlop and Mr. J. Grindly—the evasions and explanations and affected innocence of the parties, were extremely ludicrous and amusing. It was clearly established that a little before and during the day of polling money had been plentiful circulation—that it had been well distributed to active, cautious agents who knew just when and on whom to expend it, who did not trouble themselves about long explanations when they handed over the cash, but acted on the well-worn adage that "a wink is as good as a nod to a blind horse." Several sums were also floating about in envelopes, but they invariably ended their travels at the proper place, and came into the possession of the proper individuals.

The hiring of teams was, as in most other election cases, a very common mode employed of judiciously distributing small sums by way of compensation for the use of them. This is a fruitful source of corruption, as the use of a team serves as a most convenient blind for receiving money, which otherwise the party taking it would have no pretext for accepting. Several small loans were also made by agents at this time, who never afterwards asked for the money back, and of course never received it. We all know what these loans meant. That inveterate little Tory, Mr. J. M. Fraser, of Elora, seems to have hit on a new way of securing votes at this election. He disdained in one case the old-fashioned way of direct canvassing, and adopted the somewhat new and ingenious method of employing a lady to do some canvassing, and set her to work with the aid of $4 to obtain two votes. Mrs. Garland, who received this money, gives a different version of it, for she states that Mr. Fraser gave her $5, and asked her to get her husband to vote for Orton. He clapped her on the shoulder, and told her he would be her friend if she would get her husband to vote for Orton. This piece of gallantry on Mr. Fraser's part does not seem to have had the desired effect for Mr. Garland voted for Mr. McKim, and Mrs. Garland, like a thrifty woman, laid out the money on her children. On this point we beg leave to say there is a wonderful discrepancy between her story and that of Mr. Fraser's.

To-day the Court is engaged in examining witnesses to establish personal bribery on the part of Dr. Orton, and no doubt the result will be known to-night whether there are grounds sufficient to disqualify him from running again.

Centre Riding Fencing Match.

The fencing match in connection with the Centre Riding Agricultural Society, was held on a field belonging to Mr. Robert Cunningham, near Ennottville, township of Nichol, on Friday the 30th. The day was rather damp and cold, yet there was a good turn out. There were eleven entries in the first class and nine in the second. The work was pronounced by all to be first-class, and on the whole perhaps the best seen at a Centre Riding match. The plowmen, judges, &c., were handsomely entertained by Mr. Cunningham at Leybourne's Hotel. The Judges were Messrs. A. Walker, M. Jackson, and Fleming, of Peel township. Dr. Orton had given a silver cup to be awarded to the best plowman in the men's class, and Mr. Charles Clarke a silver tankard to the same in the boy's class.

The following is the prize list:—Men's Class, 1st B. Tolton, Ermosa, Stephenson plow; 2nd D. Wilson, Garafra, McInnes plow; 3rd J. D. Wilson, Garafra, McInnes plow; 4th Geo. Robinson, Erin, Milloy plow; 5th Jas. McDonald, Erin, Milloy plow. Boy's Class, 1st James Richardson, Garafra, McInnes plow; 2nd Thomas M. Jackson, Erin, Milloy plow; 3rd G. Beattie, Nichol, McInnes plow; 4th J. Tindale, Nichol, Milloy plow; 5th John Shand, Nichol, Malloy plow.

As will be seen, Mr. B. Tolton takes the silver cup, presented by Dr. Orton, and Jas. Richardson the silver tankard, presented by Charles Clarke, M.P.P.

LEPINE.—A despatch from Fort Garry says that Lepine is very ill. It also states that Nault is to be tried, on the same charge as Lepine, immediately.

ASSEMBLY AND SYNOD MEETINGS.—The General Assembly of the Canada Presbyterian Church, and the Synod of the Church of Scotland opened their adjourned meetings, in Toronto, on Tuesday.

Facts worth Remembering.—Parties purchasing goods always wish to buy them at the cheapest rate. Now the nearer you can get to the Manufacturer, the cheaper are the goods. Mr. Horsman, the popular Hardware merchant of this town, last summer visited the manufacturing districts of Europe, and purchased very largely from the manufacturers there. He has also made special arrangements with manufacturers in the United States and Canada to have their goods at the lowest Cash prices. In consequence of the extraordinary bargains Mr. Horsman offers, his sales this season are largely increased; in fact, there has been a perfect rush at his mammoth establishment during the last two months. Remember, by purchasing Hardware from John Horsman the profits of the wholesale dealer, or middleman, are saved to the customer. Stores and Tinware have been added this season, and on account of the very low prices at which these goods are offered by Mr. Horsman this branch of the business has exceeded his most sanguine expectations.
