BARKWELL'S BRONCHIAL BALSAM Dear Sir .-- I wish to testify of the merits of that grand preparation known as Barkwell's Vegetable Healing Bronchial Balsam. I was told by a neighbor what a grand Balsam it was. My little girl was SOUTHOUTH & PATTEN very ill with bronchitis, and a very few doses restored her and I believe saved her life. I feel it my duty to let others know that they also can be cured of this terrible affection. MRS. MARGARET LOWTHER,

Just in Time.

At about 9:20 last night Sergeant Maguire received a telephone message from St.

Marys to arrest Alfred J. Guest and Elizabeth Turner, on a charge of larceny.

It was alleged that Guest had robbed his mother of a sum of money, some silver and their valuables and then got out it is supposed with the intention of going to the States. Detectives Ryder and Phair at once went to the G. T. R.

depot, arriving there just as the 9:30 came in. The train drew up, and presently the expected pair came out on the platform. The officers stepped forward with their usual persuasive grace, and in five minutes the prisoners were in durance vile. When searched about $100 was found in their possession, besides a quantity of spoons and silverware. The female prisoner is rather a genteel-looking girl, and unlike the usual class of visitors to the cells. The St. Marys police authorities will take them in charge to-morrow.

A Work of Art.

There is on exhibition in E. N. Hunt's window a large oil painting, the work of Miss Lula B. Stevenson, of Bradford, Pa., late pupil of Hellmuth Ladies' College. The subject is "Still Life," being composed of specimens of armor of the 15th century. The painting reflects great credit on Miss Stevenson, who has studied to make still life painting a success, and she certainly displays considerable talent in that line.

Bootles' Baby.

"Bootles' Baby," ever a favorite play, drew a good house last night and was thoroughly enjoyed by all. Mr. Stevenson as Bootles gave as manly and fine an interpretation of the part as one could wish, and Mr. Garthorne was his inimitable self. Miss Kate Claxton was a little disappointing, the part of Helen Grace being unsuited to her, but at times her acting won the heartiest applause. The little child actresses alternately took the part of Bootles' Baby. Little Annette Leland looked aweet and May Durgan was as winsome a little piece of goods as has been seen on the stage in this city. Fred. Tyler as Saunders was funny in the extreme and irresistible as usual. The whole cast was as perfect as could be desired, with the one exception, and the play one of the most attractive that has visited the city the city this season.

The Twelve Temptations.

Concerning the above attraction, which will be at the Grand Opera House Monday and Tuesday evenings, a Toronto paper says: "The Opera House was literally packed to witness the production of one of the finest spectacular dramas ever given here; in fact, one of the finest that has ever been produced on the American stage. The splendid and beautiful scenery worked better than on the first evening. The company showed confidence, and the points of the story were brought out in a strong manner. While depending largely upon the scenery, costumes and mechanical effects, Mr. Yale has not neglected the dramatic part of the grand entertainment. The beautiful cockatoo ballet, with five live cockatoos, and the ballet march of the nations met with tremendous applause."

NHE "NORMA" CIGAR.

All competent judges of a good cigar are unantmous in pronouncing the "Norma" one of the finest 10-cent cigars made in Canada. This cigar has all the delicate flavor of an imported cigar, without any of its attendant faults. The cigar is the product of H. McKay & Co., of this city, who invariably use the best tobacco leaf, most carefully prepared. The result of this strict attention to quality of raw material is that the "Norma" stands to the front of all 10-cent cigars, and although there is a prevailing idea that a cigar manufactured at home cannot be equal to an imported article, this prejudice is being rapidly overcome by the growing popularity of the "Norma."
