DETHRONE TURKEY MANY REFORMS TO WHAT DYSPEPTICS SHOULD FAT

Forty-Five Cents a Pound.

JANITOR'S SACRIFICE

Gave His Thanksgiving Tip to Help Along Young People's Work

[Canadian Press.]

New York, Nov. 27. - Thanksgivingfeasting began in New York as early as 1 o'clock this morning with the opening of the Bowery Mission's bread line with food enough on hand to satisfy the needs of 3,000 hungry vagrants. The work of the various organizations continued throughout the day very close to the program carried out in previous years, notwithstanding that high prices for foodstuffs made the work more expensive than ever. At least half a dozen dinners. at each of which from to 3,000 persons were to be served, were provided, and in addition to this work of the regular philanthropic organizations it appeared that an unusually large number of private benefactors had arranged to help the unfortunate in some way or another.

Turkey Was Scarce. In many ordinary households the dread sceptre of the high cost of living dethroned the traditional turkey, the retail price of which had risen on the eve of Thanksgiving to 45 cents a pound for the best grades, and from 25 to 30 cents a pound for cold storage fowl. Although it had been predicted that the arrivals of poultry, which were larger than for several years, would show that the turkey was holding its own, the total receipts are said to show about twenty-five tons less in turkey arrivals than in other years. According to retail dealers, the shortage is due to the fact that storage warehouses are holding the birds already killed for the Christmas and New Year trade, and the farmers are keeping their stock for another month so that the turkeys will be fatter and command higher prices.

RAISED $4,000,000. [Canadian Press,]

New York, Nov. 27.-This was true Thanksgiving Day for the Young Men's and Young Women's Christian Associations of this city, jubilant as they were of having established world's record in fund-raising by obtaining over $4,000,000 within fifteen The announcement as reported last night that the total of $4,-062,501 had been raised, was followed today by some interesting details of ne unique campaign.

The gift of the odd dollar of the over-subscribed amount came at the last moment from the janifor of a downtown building who sent it with the following simple and earnest, if ungrammatical, note:

Gave Up His Turkey.

"I see by the paper this morning that you have not got your four million dollars, and so there is nothing else for me to do than help you. This morning a lady gave me one dollar for a turkey: then I thought that I have to be without turkey, and send that one dollar for your fund. I am a janitor that loves the lost. God bless

It is shown that 17,244 separate contributions were made to the fund, and that five of these gave so generously that their gifts alone totalled $1,175,-000. John D. Rockefeller was the chief contributor, having given half a million dollars. Cleveland H. Dodge was a close second, with gifts of $375,000. A number of rich persons clothed their philanthropy with modesty, and the total of anonymous gifts was over

[Canadian Press.]

Nov. 27.-Leonida Bissolati-Bergamaschi, leader of the Reform Socialists; Professor Enrico Ferria, Independent Socialist, and Carlo Dell'acqua, Republican, today took the oath in the presence of the King, a proceeding unprecedented in the Italian Parliament, where Socialists and Republicans hitherto

The King's speech from the throne was greeted for the first time by representa-tives of all classes of the nation, made possible by the introduction in Italy of universal suffrage.

Praise for Army.

His Majesty recapitulated the events at times."

of the conquest of Libya by the Italian Mr. Q army and navy, to whom he gave unstinted praise, at the same time expressing a touching tribute to those who had fallen in the fighting and the sacrifice of whose lives had rendered the Libyan land sacred. He said the conquest had given litaly a civilizing mission, which it would accomplish. It would also open a field for Italian emigration in the neighbor. for Italian emigration in the neighborhood of the mother country, and so pre-vent Italian subjects from wandering speech. It was a wonderful speech, too. away to distant foreign lands.

Many Reforms. The King announced that many reforms were to be introduced in Italy, and alluded to the intention of the Government give Italian women their rightful place. Concerning the church, his majesty said that the most ample religious liberty would be given to it, but that it would prevented from interfering in state affairs, as the Government regarded itself as the only representative of Italian subets and could not admit any limitation its sovereignty.

Prevented Trouble.
Speaking of the Balkans, the King said he accord between Italy and the other European powers had prevented graver conflicts arising than those which had ccurred. Italy, he said, desired the Balkans to enjoy peace and prosperity, and experience had demonstrated that the roups of powers forming the Triple Alliance and the Triple Entente had created an equilibrium of forces which was the est guarantee of peace.

His Majesty urged the strengthening of the army and the navy and the placing of Italian finances on a more solid footing, and appealed to the wealthier classes to show their patriotism by acceding cheerfully to the making of greater contributions to the national exchequer.

A PHYSICIAN'S ADVICE.

"Indigestion and practically all forms of stomach trouble are, nine times out of ten, due to acidity; therefore stomach sufferers should, whenever possible, avoid sufferers should, whenever possible, avoid eating food that is acid in its nature, or which by chemical action in the stomach develops acidity. Unfortunately, such a rule eliminates most foods which are pleasant to the taste as well as those which are rich in blood, flesh and nerve building properties. This is the reason why dyspeptics and stomach sufferers are usually so thin, emaciated and lacking in that vital energy which can only come from a well-fed body. For the benefit of those sufferers who have been obliged to exclude from their-diet all starchy, sweet or fatty food, and are trying to keep up a miserable existence on gluten products, I would suggest that you should try a meal in moderate amount, taking immediately afterwards a teaspoonful of bisurated But Church Must Not Interfere

Mr. Q Chartrand, of the Argyle Land Company, another Londoner ended the banquet, was also enthusiastic, "It was one of the largest gaththe men finished the banquet in order For fully two hours Sir Wilfrid held his audience enthralled. During his speech not one person left the hall, and when he finished he looked as fresh as when he started. A special song written for the occasion was sung, and when it was finished the applause was deafening Sir Wilfrid's speech was a marvel, Full of practical things as it was, it was not in the least tiring, and I for one would have been willing to have spent an hour more in listening to it. I think the rest of the audience felt the same way."

These lectures will naevery pupil, no matter of what age, warned of the dread results of consumption and how to combat it. Lessons of cleanliness, proper living and care of the body will

The work of the school nurses in the anti-tubercular fight is of inestimable value. The nurses visit the children in their homes, and their health hints and lectures to the parents has done much to stamp out the disease in its incipient stages. The new preventorium at the Byron Sanatorium will be one of the greatest possible aids in fighting the battle of tuberculosis on behalf of the young, according to the school authorities. The preventorium has been equipped with an open air school, and the youngsters who are either slightly affected or threatened with the disease will have an opportunity to continue their proper studies while they are fighting to throw off the effects of the
