

THE OLD YEAR AND THE NEW.

We have written the diary of Ninety-Seven. Deep in the Book of Time, Some of the pages are torn and uneven, Some of them half-sublime; Not, perhaps, for the deeds set down, But just for the tell and the stuff. To set them straight though the world should frown, And to set them true to the life, But just last night, when the midnight bell

Swung through the star-lit air, The last word settled, the last blot fell, And word and blot were a prayer.

This morning we open a great new book, All garnished with white and gold; But we miss the old familiar look Of oft-coveted pages and bindings old. And we dread to set a single word On the spotless, shimmering leaf, For fear the brightness might be blurred By the tale of a too dimmed grief. But, as well begin at first as last, So, steady the wavering sight, For the Angel of Death keeps the book of the past, And the Angel of Life bids—'Write!'

FALSE FEATHERS.

Ald. Parnell has claimed credit for introducing the present method of collecting taxes. But this is another of his false pretences.

It was he who moved to have the taxes paid into the City Treasurer, and that both the old collectors be dismissed. He had a political spite against Mr. McCoubrey, and wanted to punish him with dismissal, but in order to get at McCoubrey, he was ready to stab that faithful old servant, Mr. Dan. Lester, also. This was why Ald. Parnell moved that both collectors be dismissed and the taxes paid into the City Treasurer. He seemed in his mind attack upon Mr. McCoubrey, to be ignorant of the fact that the taxes could not be paid in to the Treasurer. This would not have been lawful, yet Ald. Parnell either did not know it, or he forgot it in his zeal to punish an official that had offended him by his part in a political campaign.

Ald. Parnell it was who moved to put a five per cent. fine on all unpaid taxes. Ald. Taylor moved to have this five per cent. fine done away with. And out of that motion came the present system of collecting in three payments, with the five cents added only on the last instalment unpaid by a certain date.

Ald. Parnell's taking credit for the present mode of tax collection is on a par with his preposterous claim to having been instrumental in bringing the car shops back to London. The Sixth Ward may justly claim credit for seeing closely after the road work and taking care that people of one way of thinking politically should be given the preference in work, but that is the extent of it. The citizens want a larger minded man with a better municipal record than this, or no record at all, for Mayor.

AMUSEMENTS.

The attraction at the Grand (matinee and night) to-day will be Mr. John Griffith in "Faust." An exchange says: "Cincinnati theatre-goers expected something more than common at the Walnut on Friday night, but they did not expect to see so finished a piece of acting as that presented by John Griffith as Mephisto in Faust. Art in his connection would imply something more than an acquirement, something studied, something practiced for effect, and that which can reach no higher. John Griffith is an artist, but he is much more. He is a genius of the highest histrionic order, and they are born, not made. His elocution is faultless, his attitudes and gestures natural and perfect, while he possesses a magnificent voice and superb stage presence. So mobile his face and so great his control over his features that he could give an acceptable interpretation of any character without uttering a word. It is incomprehensible that a gentleman so gifted as he in all that makes the tragedian has not portrayed the Duke of Gloster or Macbeth. His support is excellent and the scenic effects grand, startling and beautiful beyond conception."

"THE GIRL FROM PARIS." Edward E. Rice's New York Comedy will present "The Girl from Paris" at the Grand Monday, and the goers may look forward to external enjoyment. This merry comedy which Mr. Rice presents scored one of the strongest of present theatricals, and crowded the Duke of York's Theatre, London, England, for more than a thousand nights. The Herald Theatre, in New York City, for 300 nights, and the Chestnut Theatre, Philadelphia, where it had large audiences for fifty-six nights. After following the gay Paris through all of her moods, one leaves the theatre with a heart and most tuneful music in one's ears. She is very of her long record, and it is exciting to her wraith of triumphs during engagement "on the road," she will no doubt become as ever. Mr. Edward E. Rice, when he was compelled to "The Girl from Paris," and effort was made to prolong the moment in Philadelphia. It is a chance that has everything possible to make-up to amuse, besides presentation with a story that is always consistent with the happenings. "McNulty's Visit" was given by the comedians, Ferguson and Emerick, and a very bright and talented company last night at the Grand before a numerous and highly amused audience. It is a lively and clever hot-potch, in which the comedians, and ten other excellent artists, appear in a medley of music, song, dance and imitation, comic roller-skating, etc., with no end of fun. Ferguson and Emerick are the cleverest artists in their line since Barry and Fay.

THE NEW YEAR.

How It Was Ushered in in London the Less.

The Crowds on the Streets Were as Naught Compared With Christmas Eve—Watchnight Services in the Churches.

The new year in London was ushered in with beautiful winter weather, the ringing of the bells in the cathedral and other church towers, and the holding of religious worship in a number of the edifices.

There was the usual stir about the streets during the evening, but the crowds were not to be compared with those of Christmas Eve. The majority of the stores were open, and did a fair business. Numerous parties of young people spent the closing hours of the old year sleigh riding, while in homes many remained up and awaited the coming of 1898.

In aid of the Anglican and Methodist Churches, the watch-night services were held, the rectors and pastors respectively having charge. As a rule they were very well attended. In St. Paul's Cathedral, His Lordship, the Bishop of Huron delivered a very appropriate address, which was listened to with intense interest. The Salvation Army had a knee drill until after midnight, and shortly before one o'clock began a parade of the streets, headed by the brass band.

In a number of the public halls, dances were in progress when 1897 passed out of existence.

FIXED AT $500.

Value of the Land Wanted by the Water Commission.

Board of Arbitrators Order Mr. Fulton to Pay the Costs—Money to be Placed in Court—The Water Commission Ahead.

The arbitrators in the dispute between the Water Commissioners and Wm. Fulton, as to the value of four and a-half acres of land on the north side of the river, at Springbank, made their award yesterday afternoon. The board—which comprised Judge Edward Elliott, as umpire; Mr. Edmund Meredith, representing the city, and Mr. J. M. Cousins, representing the owner—placed the value of the land at $500, and ordered Fulton to pay the costs. The money will be paid into court, as there is a difference between James Cummings and Fulton regarding the settlement. This will probably be settled between the parties without legal steps being taken.

The Water Commissioners are ahead $100 as a result of the arbitration. They had offered $600 for the land, but this was refused by Fulton, and acceptable to Cummings.

DRAGGED HEAD DOWNWARD.

Terrible Accident to a Boy While Exercising a Horse.

Toronto, Dec. 31.—A very serious and probably fatal accident happened about six o'clock last evening on George St. Herbert McCann, of 261 Sackville street, a stable boy, 16 years of age, was exercising a valuable horse for Mason Brothers, the liverymen, of Jarvis street, when in some manner the horse threw him, and started down the street at a wild pace. McCann's left foot caught in the stirrup, and before he was free of the horse the unfortunate lad had been dragged nearly two blocks head downward. Then he fell to the roadway, and the horse ran to the stable near-by. One peculiar feature of the accident is that the horse's hind leg was broken, and his tendons being completely severed. When the animal returned in this state a search was made for the boy, who was found terribly injured.

The ambulance was called, and the injured lad removed to St. Michael's Hospital, where it was found that his nose was broken, and he sustained a serious scalp wound, and concussion of the brain. This morning he was resting quietly. The horse had to be shot.

SCIENTISTS SUICIDE.

Crased by Deaths Caused by the Faith Treatment.

Peoria, Ill., Dec. 30.—Mrs. Sarah Cross, a leading Christian Scientist, committed suicide this morning by jumping into a cistern at her home. She was the mother of Mrs. Robert Campbell, who attempted to commit suicide by jumping from the window of the Oakland Hotel in Chicago a few weeks ago, where she had gone to attend the dedication of the Christian Science Temple on Drexel Boulevard. The cause of her act are said to be in the death of Mrs. Campbell's child, about three months ago. Both mother and grandmother being Christian Scientists, no physician was called in, although the child was very ill and in great pain. Mrs. Cross was one of the best known Christian Science advocates in the West, and occupied a high place in the opinions of the believers in that doctrine.

A Convention of "Independents" Passes a Vote of Confidence in Mr. McCaulm.

Watford, Ont., Dec. 31.—A convention of the Independents was held here to-day for the purpose of nominating a candidate for the coming Provincial elections. The music hall was filled and representatives were present from all over the riding. Speeches were made by Peter McCaulm, the present member, and A. T. Gurd, M. P. for the West Riding, and a vote of confidence was given Mr. McCaulm and the meeting unanimously pledged itself to support him in the coming contest.

MURDER OR ACCIDENT?

Mystery Surrounding the Death of Joe Curley at Toronto Junction.

Toronto, Dec. 31.—The mystery surrounding the death of Joseph Curley, the Weston farm laborer, found dead in Keele street subway, Toronto Junction, increases with a fuller investigation into the case. The post-mortem examination performed yesterday afternoon goes to substantiate the murder theory. It goes to show that Curley was killed by a straight blow in the face, delivered by somebody in front of him. The bruises on the left arm might have been sustained in an effort to guard the face. The post-mortem was performed yesterday by Drs. Cotton and Richardson, who found that death had been caused by a blow in the forehead, which fractured the frontal bone and loosened up all the bones of the face, in addition to cracking the jawbone. The man's eyes were blackened, but the exterior indications of the blow are regarded as extraordinarily slight considering its fatal nature. It transpires that Curley's skull was extraordinarily thin on top and rather thinner than the most in parts, and, therefore, more easily broken than the skull of an ordinary man. The theory that he was murdered would probably have stronger support if he had been a person worth robbing. Such, however, was not the case. He was notoriously impecunious. A mysterious feature of the case is yet untouched. A pool of blood as large as a dinner plate was found on the sidewalk yesterday at the northern entrance of the subway about 25 yards from where the body was found. The rain washed out the stain, but if this was Curley's blood, then he was murdered. He could not have fallen from above at that point. It is not necessary to suppose, however, that the assassin dragged the body to the point where it was found; men do not die instantly from an injury to the brain, and Curley could have proceeded and sank down there.

The theory on which Chief Royce is working is that some man whom Curley approached in the dark and rainy night killed him unintentionally. There have been many rumors of footpads about the Junction, and Joe Curley was the sort of man to pay a ransom for his freedom. The chief thinks that Curley met some man in the subway who took him for a footpad, and struck him with a loaded stick, afterwards running away and leaving him there.

MONTREAL.

Mrs. Bruchesi Returns from Quebec—Another Bank Agency.

Montreal, Dec. 31.—Archbishop Bruchesi returned this evening from Quebec, and will officiate pontifically at high mass to-morrow. The Archbishop has a letter from Mr. Giovanni Minetti, Roman advocate, who is charged with the proceedings tending to the beatification of Mr. Laval, the first Bishop of Quebec; of the Venerable Mother Marie de l'Incarnation, foundress of the Ursuline convent, Quebec; of the Venerable Marguerite Bourgeois, foundress of the Congregation of Notre Dame, Montreal; and the Venerable Marie Marguerite d'Youville, foundress of the Nuns of the Hotel Dieu. After speaking in the most eulogistic terms of the virtues of the great bishop and the three good women, M. Minetti concludes: "My conviction is that the trials will end in a great success for the glory of God and the church, and for the glory of the faithful."

The Imperial Bank of Canada, the headquarters of which are at Toronto, will open a branch in Montreal, thus adding one more to the many excellent financial institutions of the city. The bank, which will conduct the bank's business have not yet been definitely fixed upon. It is learned that in all probability Mr. Richardson, manager for some years of the bank's branch at Ingersoll, Ont., will be moved to Montreal, where he will conduct the bank's business. The position of accountant at the Montreal branch will be in charge of Mr. G. D. Boulton, of St. Thomas, Ont.

GOLD PRODUCT FOR THE YEAR.

That of Canada Estimated at $7,500,000—An Increase of $1,700,000 Over 1896.

Washington, D. C., Dec. 31.—The director from the mint, from information now at hand, says that there is substantial evidence that the world's product of gold for the calendar year 1897 will approximate, if not exceed, $240,000,000—an increase of nearly 10 per cent. over 1896. The gold product of the United States for 1896 was $23,100,000; for 1897 it will approximate $21,500,000—an increase of $8,400,000. The product of Africa for 1896 was $4,400,000. Returns received up to December 1, 1897, indicate that the gold product of that continent for the year will be $38,000,000—an increase of $13,600,000. Australia for 1896 was $45,200,000; for 1897 the indications are that it will not be less than $51,000,000—an increase of $5,800,000. Mexico for 1896, $8,320,000; for 1897, it is estimated that it will be $10,000,000—an increase of $1,680,000. The Dominion of Canada, for 1896, $2,800,000; it is estimated for 1897 at $7,500,000—an increase of $4,700,000. India's product for 1897 is estimated at $7,500,000, for 1896 at $1,400,000, over 1896. Russia's gold product for 1896 was $21,550,000; for 1897 estimated to approximate $25,000,000, an increase of $3,500,000.

"That was a very inhuman reception he gave the tramp who called there for a bite to eat yesterday, wasn't it?" "I hadn't heard of it. What did he do?" "Got out one of his wife's biscuits and—" "Surely he didn't feed it to the poor fellow?" "No, he hit him with it."

Colic and Kidney Difficulty.—Mr. J. W. Wilder, J. P., Lafargeville, N. Y., writes: "I am subject to severe attacks of Colic and Kidney Difficulty, and find Parley's Pills afford me great relief, while all other remedies have failed. They are the best medicine I have ever used. In fact, I feel great is the power of this medicine to cleanse and purify, that diseases of almost every name and nature are driven from the body."

The new Presbyterian Church at Alvinston will be opened on January 16th. Rev. W. J. Clark, of this city, will conduct the services, morning and evening.

SYLVESTER NEELON DEAD.

The Well-known Contractor Dies Suddenly of Apoplexy in This City Last Night.

Toronto, Dec. 31.—While visiting at the house of a friend in the western part of the city last night, Sylvester Neelon, best known in Toronto as a member of the firm of Elliott & Neelon, contractors for the masonry work at the new municipal buildings, died suddenly of apoplexy. The body was taken to St. Catharines this afternoon for burial.

The deceased was one of St. Catharines' oldest residents, and served several terms as a member of the Town Council. In 1875 he was returned as a member of the Ontario Legislature for Lincoln, but was unsuccessful, only to be returned at the by-election. At the general elections in 1873 and 1883 he was again chosen to represent Lincoln in the Legislative halls of the province. In politics at that period he was a Reformer, but subsequently he joined the Conservative ranks, and in 1891 contested Lincoln and Niagara against William Gibson, being defeated by 48 votes. At a by-election he encountered an adverse majority of over 200 votes.

Mayor Little has shown his faith in the riverside resort by building his summer residence nearly opposite Springbank. He has a deep interest in the Water Works, and if elected as Water Commissioner will devote his ability and experience to that most important department.

The Clinton News-Record says: "Mr. I. R. Read was the guest of his sister, Mrs. Callendar, London, Christmas. He has accepted a position with one of the leading drug houses of Montreal, for which place he leaves to-morrow. I. R. is a general favorite. All regret his departure, and will wish him a prosperous future."
