We are pleased to note that Mr. Burman, the general and popular proprietor of the Queen Hotel, is recovering from his recent indisposition although not sufficiently so as to be able to dispose with his able assistant Mr. John A. Edwards. There was a genuine rush at this old and popular hotel Monday, and in fact during the whole summer, the Queen Hotel has been very popular.

We are glad to note that the Queen and its popular landlord increased business.

The Queen Insurance Company, which has been doing business here and in other towns in the Province, has been discontinued all sub-agencies on account of losses sustained, and in future all business transacted by it in New Brunswick will be confined to St. John. We are sorry to note this, as the company is a popular one here, and our regret is deepened from the fact that the withdrawal of the agency from Fredericton will be a pecuniary loss to our young friend Mr. John Black, who, however, yet represents a fine first-class company.

The "Ideal" Comedy Opera Troupe played to good houses in the City Hall, Monday and Tuesday evenings, and left for Calais yesterday morning. Their performance here and at St. John were given under an engagement with the "Ideal" Club of the latter city. The troupe consists of P. A. Marville, the Daily Telegraph, is treasurer. He accompanied the troupe as business manager, and was very successful in his efforts to secure a large audience.

A short time since Capt. McKenzie introduced from England, with the right of manufacturing the incubator, or a machine for hatching eggs. Two professional gentlemen of St. John, a doctor and a lawyer, having of Mr. John A. Edwards, the Capt. McKenzie, and other negotiations a sale was effected, the Captain, however, exacting the promise that the purchases would not manufacture the incubator. This was given, but the Captain was surprised to read in the Saint John Globe of the 10th inst. a paragraph to the effect that the two professional gentlemen would commence to manufacture and sell incubators next season. As explanation is now in order from the professional gentlemen.

The execution train from St. John on Monday ran over and killed at Blenheim Station a man named Patrick McGilligan, a resident of Blenheim.

The man was on a different side of the track from a team which was driving, and in endeavoring to cross the track to reach it he was struck by the train, which was travelling at the rate of 18 miles per hour.

The victim of the accident was terribly mangled, and lived but a short time after the accident. He was of middle age, and leaves a family at Blenheim. On the train, D. G. M. Armstrong, kindly took collection for the family of the deceased, which amounted to $50. No blame can be attached to the train for the accident.
