SUAKIM PERFECTLY SAFE

PLACED UNDER THE PROTECTION OF BRITISH TROOPS.

Egypt—Gen. Gordon Heard From— The Khedive Afraid of Plots.

London, Feb. 9 .- In a leading article

A dispatch from Suakin, printed this morning in the Daily Standard, says: We do not know how the sufferings of the poor fellows and the thousand women and children at Sinkat affect the English publisher. children at Sinkat affect the English public, but here they excite feelings of pity and humiliation impossible to describe. There is absolutely no hope of recovering the stragglers from the battle of Toker.

London, Feb. 10.—Gen. Gordon has arrived at Berber.

Caro, Feb. 9.—The government feeling discretified with the report of Baker dissatisfied with the report of Baker Pasha in regard to his recent fight with the rebels, in which his forces were badly routed, and his hasty action in fleeing from Trinkitat, has ordered him and Col. Sartorious, with the gendarmerie which formed a portion of his command to report at once at Cairo. Col. Hallam has been ordered to succeed Baker Pasha, been ordered to succeed Baker Pasha, and will proceed at once to Suakin, accompanied by Majs. Piggott and Haggard of the Egyptian army. On their arrival at Suakin they will reorganize the remnant of Baker's command, and, with the assistance of the marines lately landed there, they expect to be able to prevent the city from falling into the hands of the rabels.

The Bosphore Egyptian, a French paper, ublished at Port Said, says that in 1877 Lord Beaconsfield gave his personal pledge that England would interfere to preserve peace and maintain Egyptian control in the Soudan.

the Sondan.

CAIRO, Feb. 10.—The report of Gen. Gordon's arrival at Berber was premature. It arose from the receipt of a telegram here from Berber signed by Gordon which he had forwarded in advance by fast camels. The khedive has appointed the British admiral Hewitt, commander at Suakim. A less gloomy view is taken of the situation at Tokar and Sinkat. It is reported that a convey with provisions has entered Sinkat. The first brigade of Egyptian battalions commanded by English officers will proceed to the first cataract of the Nile as soon as their their quarters are Nile as soon as their their quarters are made ready. This movement is made on account of the threatening attitude of the Bedouins between Keneh and the Egyptian coast of the Red sea.

The Arabs General Gordon met after leaving Korosko were friendly. The ulema of Khartoum sent messengers to welcome leaving Korosko were friendly. The ulema of Khartoum sent messengers to welcome Gordon at Berber and accompany him over the remainder of his journey to show the populace that the moslems are not inimical to his mission. Gordon expects to reach Khartoum by steamer from Berber. The government in advising Gordon of Baker Pasha's recent defeat leaves him full powers to evacuate or retain Khartoum as he thinks fit.

An Eminent Australian Pronounces
Against the Project, and Gives His

London, Feb. 9.—The proposal of A Staveley Hill, member for Staffordshire to admit members to the house of common from the colonies has been considerably disfrom the colonies has been considerably discussed. An eminent Australian says: I think the proposal a mistake. The Australian and Canadian parliaments regulate not only all local and municipal questions, but also the fiscal policy of their respective colonies. The English parliament has little or nothing to do with them, except in cases where the British taxpayer comes in. In questions which have arisen, such as the acquisition of New Guinea and the Pacific islands, we have to deal with the throne as represented by the ministry, and not with represented by the ministry, and not with parliament. I think the proposal a slight on our colonial parliaments, which are more competent to discuss questions of colonial importance than the house of com-prevent Doran from opening a gambling house. It culminated at the time in Doran making a cowardly attempt to assassinate, failing in which he fled from the city. He returned secretly a few nights ago. Flynn was unaware of his presence in the city till the fatal volley was opened on him.

Intense excitement prevails, and there are strong threats of mobbing the prisoners. Seven were arrested and are now in jail. Citizens are loud in condemnation of the murderous and cowardly act. Judge Wood has been telegraphed to by leading citizens requesting him to adjourn the court at Malvern and return here and hold a special session to try the murderers. If he consents the law will probably be allowed to take its course. If he does not, citizens boldly threaten to burn the jail and hang the prisoners. Pheir names are S. A. Doran, David and Robert Pruitt, Harry Lanning, Ed. Howell, J. Lucius, John Allison. The excitement is still intense. Hall is not lead as first reported, though he cannot live, and William Flynn's condition is critical, as well as Hargroves. Craig's wounds are not considered dangerous.

London, Feb. 9.—In a leading article this morning the Pall Mall Gazette says that England, although opposed to the annexation of Egypt, will be under the necessity of exercising absolute authority over that country for the next five or ten years. The exigencies of the present crisis demand immediate action and further delay on the part of England to assume control would be nothing less than criminal.

Lord Alcaster (Admiral Seymour) reteived a summons after yesterday's cabinet council, and was directed to be ready to set out for Egypt at an hour's notice.

Lord Seymour of a saloon and winchesters, stepped out frem the door of a saloon and opened fire. The Flynns were armed, but the attack was totally unexpected.

The water guards of the first lock above the city are gradually giving way under the pressure of the waters. Should they break loose every vestige of property in that section of the city will be swept away.

CINCINNATI, Feb. 9.—The impression that a large tract of the city is covered by water is erroneous, and the portion submerged, except in the suburbs, is not much used for residences. The main residence and business portion of the city stands on high ground far out of the reach of the highest flood.

Arrangements for preserving the peace and preventing crime are vastly better than when there is no flood. Not only are the police more watchful but they are reinforced by 100 militia who patrol the streets at night.

Wilson said last night that the reasons why the wedding did not take place were of a purely private nature, and had been fully explained. There was not an atom of truth in the rumors circulated in Montreal that he was already married, or was in any financial difficulty whatsoever. A gentleman of high standing in this city, who is a friend of Mr. Wilson of fifteen years' standing, said last night that he was years' standing, said last night that he wa acquainted with all the circumstances in the affair, and that there were no other than private reasons for Mr. Wilson's

WILSON OF SALVATION ARMY FAME IN TORONTO.

He Addresses Large Meetings Vesterday-A Scandal Uncurtained—Mr. Rainsford Tells the True Story of the Dr's Dismis

There was a flutter in religious circles all day yesterday on account of the presence in the city of Rev. Dr. Wilson, known ismissed by his bishop because of his connection with the salvation army there. In the afternoon Dr. Wilson addressed an immense audience at the salvation army barening he addressed a large meeting in Shaftesbury hall, where he made a decid-

Shaftesbury hall, where he made a decidedly favorable impression, and where his audience contained a great number of Wycliffe and Trinity college students and episcopal clergymen.

Dr. Wilson is a type of the church of England parson. He has a tall and graceful figure, slightly inclined forward. He has a feminine cast of features, side whiskers and sloping forehead. In speaking he stands with his hands behind him, only occasionally using his right hand to accentustands with his hands behind him, only oc-casionally using his right hand to accentu-ate a remark. His voice is musical and distinct and his delivery rapid and unhesi-tating, but though earnest, he is never en-thusiastic. His first remarks were char-acteristic. He said, "I am a man—and thusiastic. His first remaind the acteristic. He said, "I am a man—and nothing that is human do I consider foreign to me. I am also a christian and nothing that is christian do I consider foreign to me." He then made a strong appeal to the young men present and impressed upon them the necessity of leading christian lives.

A prayer meeting was held afterwards in library of the hall in which Dr. Wilson and Rev. Prof. Boys, of Trinity college, took part. At its close The World had a short interview with Dr. Wilson. He said that he was on his way to Kingston to bid farewell to his friends there. Afterwards he would go to New York to assist Rev. Mr. Rainsford of St. George's in that city. Prior to that he would bring his children to this city and put them to school.

"You are still in accord with the salvation army?"

Dr. Wilson expressed a disinclination to talk as he said he was anxious to avoid talk as he said he was anxious to avoid notoriety.

While the doctor was in New York recently making arrangements with Rev.Mr. Rainsford, a New York Telegram reporter interviewed the latter, who opened up a new phase in the Kingston controversy.

"The real root of the matter," said Mr. Rainsford, warming with his subject of the championship of his friend, "is that there has been financial mismanagement in the diocese and Dr. Wilson has protested against it again and again.

"The trouble is that there are large sums of money unaccountable for and my friend has fought against that. It was for this reason, and not on account of his affiliation.

reason, and not on account of his affiliation with the salvation army, that his resignation has been so gladly accepted. His superiors were only too happy to be afforded an opportunity to get him out of the way. The bishop could easily have reconciled the salvation army beliefs of Dr. Wilson and arranged matters had he been so minded. In the course which my friend has pursued he has not done anything illegal in his connection with the salvation army, though he may have done some things which were ill advised. He is a thoroughly earnest churchman in every respect. which were ill advised. He is a thoroughly earnest churchman in every respect.

As far as I know he has not received any further letters from Bishop Lewis. He has not retracted his belief in encouraging the salvation army in its methods, nor has he any idea of doing so. His former congregation, and in fact the whole community of Kingston are endeavoring to have him reinstated. He was the assistant at the Kingston cathedral and had charge of the mission at Cataraqui. In case the effort is unsuccessful, as is probable, he will nevertheless conduct religious work in Canada. During the coming Lent he will be with me here for six weeks."

MONTREAL, Feb. 9.-Hon. M. Taillon was re-elected by acclamation as membe for the east division of the city to-day for a seat in the local house. DR. WILD DENOUNCES PREMIER GLADSTONE'S POLICY.

And Says England Will Never Own the Soudan—The Development of the Sou-dan Trouble—Egypt's Future—Britain's Dr. Wild returned to the subject of Egypt last evening. The text was taken from the 3rd verse of the 31st their horses flesh, and not spirit, when the Lord shall stretch out his hand, both he that helpeth shall fall, and he that is holpen shall fall down, and they all shall fall of the nations that have joined with Egypt in the past—Babylon, Assyria, Macedonia, Turkey and others—was alluded to. The same prophecy is con-tained in the 6th verse of the 30th chap. of Ezekiel: "They also that uphold Egypt shall fall, and the pride of her power shall come down." No intelligent man, he afprophecy had come true. The prophet also said that "Egypt and her people were to be desolate in the midst of desolate coun-said that "Egypt and her people were to be desolate in the midst of desolate countries." Is there anything more desolate than the regions around about Egypt today? he asked. "Her city is in the midst of cities that are wasted," and is it not a fact also that with but one exception all the cities of the present day are erected upon the sites of former ones?

A graphic picture was given of the temples and monuments of ancient Thebestemples and palaces in one room of which St. Peter's could be placed. The existence of the massive granite monument to the memory of Rameses the Great, weighing 1200 tons, proved that they had an idea of the immortality of the soul, while their earthly houses were allowed to decay and disappear. The engineering skill and the workmanship displayed by these the most ancient people we know of also prove man's scriptural origin and that at that time the Egyptians were endowed with adamic power and intelligence, contrary to the evolutionists.

Another of Ezekiel's prophetic utterances regarding Egypt, the 12th verse of the thirtieth chapter: "And I will make the rivers dry, and sell the land into the hand of the wicked; and I will make the land waste, and all that is therein, by the hand of strangers"—was also declared to have been literally fulfilled.

The preacher charged the English government with having been the cause o much disaster in Egypt during the last few years. Their policy has been impotent and weak. Gladstone had to go to war there in spite of the three notes sent to the powers asserting he would not. Since then he has stood halting, and instead of crushing the Soudan rebellion at its inception, has allowed it to assume monster proportions which will require the sacrifice of thousands of lives to quell. They will not do the will of God until they are forced. England, how-

Sacrince of thousand process. Sacrince of the will of God until they are forced. England, however, will not now possess the Soudan. It is beyond the limits of Egypt, and she is only to possess the latter country. The Soudan is the "Lybia" that will form one of the opposing forces in the coming battle of Armegeddon, and not till then will England and her allies subdue and possess that country.

England and her alrest stated that country.

In closing his discourse the doctor drew the lesson that the bible is literally true; that its prophecies have been fulfilled and are being fulfilled to-day, and that a conversion to the God who inspired it is essential to eternal life in heaven.

"A wonderful unfinished monument," will be the subject for next Sunday evening.

A Sunday Murder.
Norwich, Conn., Feb. 10.—This afternoon, after driving around the city, F. V. Conant asked one of his companions, Alfred McClellan, to go to a shed and see a pony. Presently two shots were heard. McClellan ran from the shed crying murder. Conant followed and fired a third shot. McClellan ran across the street and fell dead. Conant was subsequently arrested at his home.

THE FIRST SPRING POEM. He came in from Beaverburg on Friday with some poems in a bran bag slung over his shoulder. He shook the following out as a words that were never spoken,

Thoughts that were never said,
Deep in the bosom burning,
By the purest passion fed;
Charm of the sweetest flowers,
That bloom in the morning bright,
And all the radiant splendor
Of the golden orbs of night.
Warm from the womb of nature
And nestling close to her breast,
Lifte were a blank without thee,
And death with thee were blest;
It cheers the giant condor,
It charms the turtls dove;
It divells in the depth of ocean,
And gladdens the world above,
And all this subtle sweetness,
We mortals call it love!
