Finally, exasperated at such conduct on the part of Crozier, Riel Lieut. A. W. Kippen, who was killed at told Anderson to take a team and convey Batoche, arrived last evening, and the the bodies into Prince Albert and then return to camp. Anderson did as directed, whereupon Riel gave him his liberty, saying that he had done a good thing in church in the following order: return to camp. Anderson did as directed, the cause of humanity.

WINNIPEG, May 28.—A Sun correspon dent tried to interview Riel at Regina He was allowed to see but not to converse with him. He gives the following description of the rebel leader: "Riel was walking to and fro on a small grass plot east of the guard house. Winnipeg, May 28.—Armstrong, the scout who arrested Riel, reports the following incident as having occurred after Riel was brought into the presence of Gen. Middleton. "Here is Riel." Armstrong said. The Indians charged with Frank Smart's murder are in the look up.

Couriers have been sent to Gen. Strange, who is supposed to be near Fort Pitt.

Scouts so far have failed to find Big Bear's trail. It is stated that a hundred of Poundmaker's men have joined Big Bear.

Gen. Middleton has called for non-commissioned officers and privates in the different corps here to volunteer for service in the Northwest for a period of time after matters are settled, and there are likely to be numerous responses.

Gen. Middleton.

Gen. Middleton, it is now stated, will return from Battleford by way of Edmon. Upon the return of the Winnipeg field battery it will be disbanded from active duty and a school of instruction will be formed and suitable barracks will be constructed. One portion of the school will be mounted and that will be conducted in a similar manner to those at Toronto, Fredericton and Quebec.

The remains of Capt. Brown of Peterboro, who was killed and buried at Batoche, are to be exhumed and forwarded to Peterboro for final interment.

This is an ordinary looking building on the southern side of the square. There are over 100 police in the barracks. An addition is being built which will afford 24 more cells for the accommodation of other prisoners who are being brought down. Riel enjoys good health. The police ridicule the idea of his being insane."

The Montreal Garrison Artillery has arrived at Regins on garrison duty.

Riel's family are greatly cast down, but depend upon Archbishop Tache's intercession to get Riel off. The rebel's brother is coming to his assistance.

Private Watson's Funeral.

St. CATHARINES, May 28.—The body of the late Private Watson, 90th battalion, who died from wounds received at the battle of Batcoche, arrived here last evening and were conveyed to his father's residence, at the urgent request of a large number of citizens. His parents have consented to a public funeral, which will take place to merrow afternoon. The 19th battalion, Welland Canal field battery, fire department, and the different organizations of the city will attend.

Adjutant Ponton had a cigar knocked out of his mouth, Col. Williams a lock of hair shaved off and Capt. Lazier a bullet across his mouth that made his lip bleed. There are plenty of boys with bullet holes in their clothes and slight wounds. Harry James and I were posted on the left flank of the company the second day, when he drew my attention to a breed sneaking along the bottom of the ravine and said, "Wait until you see me de him up," which he did to the queen's taste.

From the New York Times.

The attitude of the French Canadian generally questioned regardiag Col. Irvine's conduct in shutting himself up in Prince Albert and making no effort to get out or to help Gen. Middleton. Capt. Young says Col. Irvine is an officer who knows no fear and simply waited, as washis duty, for orders from Gen. Middleton. His was a sacred trust and he could have acted in no other way than he did. The police claim that Col. Irvine first received a message from the general to come to Batoche, and that he set out with his force, but that having gone eighteen miles he was handed a second message countermanding the first, If any subsequent message was sent he never got it, and could not do otherwise than remain at Prince Albert. It was Irvine who rode into Sitting Bull's camp, after the Custer massacre, with only

The Paris (Texas) Tribune prints the story of the murder of Prof. J. W. You-mans at a boarding house in that place. The murder is alleged by the Tribune to be the act of a jealous husband named S. wife and was jealous of Youmans. Homes also stabbed his sister fatally and wounded his wife at the same time. Prof. Youmans was 65 years old and was a native of Toronto, and was a clever musician. For a number of years he lived in Belleville, and Mr. Flint of that city told a reporter

London, May 28.—In an address to the Baptist missionary society Stanley urged the society to be very careful about the kind of men they sent out as missionaries to Africa. Do not, he said, send young men without having first taught them the practical lifenecessary to success, the same as you teach children you wish to live long. Dead missionaries are of no more value than other dead men. Gordon dead is valueless. If he had lived the civilization of the Soudan, which received its death blow in Gordon's murder, would have been dawning and we would have seen the summer of civilization dawning into the interior of Africa.

Stanley said the climate of Africa was not half so dangerous as many parts of the Southern States of America. The little he had done for missionaries in Africa was done in obedience to to the command of King Leopold. The last statement was greeted with cheers.

A Sensational Fire. PRILADELPHIA, Pa., May 28.—Three explosions in rapid succession were heard have so blinded the people who are supporting him that they are apparently incapable of treating in a reasonable manner this or any other subject in connection with which it is possible to make an appeal to their religious prejudices. Riel's followers were not fairly treated, but their treatment did not warrant them in arousing a rebellion in the Northwest that has cost many lives. It is inhuman for these fanatics to support this rufflian whose followers have slain so many of the Canadian youth. It is brutal for them to defend this outlaw who incited to rebellion the savages whose horrible treatment of captured women has made decent people shudder. Riel shares the guilt of the brutes who tortured those women, and this should not be forgotten at his trial.

A Toronto Man Murdered in Texas.

She died two hours later. After the wall fell flames burst from the building, and a man suddenly appeared at the third story window on Market street side, with his clothing and hair on fire. He was recognized as Henry Vehmeyer, son of the proprietor. A ladder was placed against the wall and the half-blinded man commenced to descend the wall imbs caught between the rounds and he was safely lowered. His neck, head and arms were badly burned.
