Vanderbilt's Latest Gobble.

The New York Central has gobbled the West Shore railroad at a price of $60,000,000.

Of the purchase money, represented by long 4 per cent. interest guaranteed by New York Central, $25,000,000 goes to take up the $50,000,000 of West Shore first mortgage bonds.

The stock of West Shore is wiped out, and $10,000,000 of new West Shore stock is issued and handed over to Mr. Vanderbilt or his Central.

This deal, while it may stop the rivalry that has existed, will not be a good one for the Central as the capital stock and the funded debt is $150,000,000, and the latest acquisition will not get that amount up to $200,000,000.

The railroad problem is only hastening toward the inevitable solution—state control—by such gobbles as this last of Vanderbilt.

The native Massie of the better kind is sheering and invigorating. A kog of it is obtained from Essex county, kept in a garret—as was done to the Oliver Madrasa.

where the morning sun could make its influence, for a couple of months, and the result is a tasty liquid of unquestionable bouquet flavor and body.

Here's a health to the county in which, as we now discover—the wine grape is successfully cultivated.

Our party contemporaries are quarrelling as to which faction proposed a nominee in succession to the late lamented Col. Williams.

Col. Stranahan has had the bad taste to publish a letter and an interview in which he, to put it mildly, reflects upon the courage and calmness of the departed hero.

We are sick and tired of these post-mortem reflections and we earnestly desire that they should cease.

We wish to pay all due honor to every man concerned in the suppression of the rebellion, but we realize that the rebellion has been suppressed. Nothing that can be said against the late Col. Williams will or should lower his memory in the estimation of a people who knew and loved him.

Mr. Bright, in the speech of which the Parliament complained so bitterly, said "a little out of the way, nothing, as a matter of fact, equal to many Parliamentariness speeches that are allowed to go unchallenged."

Another liberal, has committed himself to a very grave extent. Mr. Bright charged the Parliament with disloyalty and, by their conduct, with encouraging and aiding the rebellion.

The latter is rather a strong method of expression, perhaps, but it is only another way of declaring the crime as a necessity. That, of course, is a matter of opinion, but it is easy to understand that those who had such views considered those who opposed them were after a fashion encouraging crime, in so far as crime was likely to increase without the act. Mr. Bright was possibly injudicious, but what can be said of Viscount Ebrington charging the tory government in his address to his constituents at Tiverton with "trucking to such a private citizen?"

Such language is not only indecent but is outrageous—is worthy only of that mode of warfare of which in this country the Mail was the originator, and is the fosterer. Against Viscount Ebrington, liberal member for Tiverton, Mr. Parnell's followers have a real grievance.

An illustration of the wrong that we claimed would be done Toronto by the removal of the O. & C. offices to Montreal last when an entirely new time table went into force on the Credit Valley line, the new time tables were not out, and not one per cent. of the travelling public knew anything about the change—until they missed their train.

It was only on Saturday that the changes to take effect on Monday. We shall soon see the rival systems of railway service here on a par, so far as that more studied attention to details, including electric, goes which is dependent on the immediate presence of the head-centre. Officials, however sharp they may be, have not eyes to see 300 miles west, and employees are not slow to take advantage of the limit of human vision.

A Dangerous Dog. Editor World: Please insert the following, as a caution to owners of valuable dogs. There is a large vicious dog on the northwest corner of Grand and St. Lawrence streets, owned by Morgan Kelly. The said dog attacks every dog which passes by. On Friday last he tore a piece completely out of the shoulder of a valuable water spaniel.

An Explanation of C. F. Red Fever. Editor World: As the name of our firm figures somewhat conspicuous as well as suspicious in the bad case re Central prison investigation, we desire in justice to ourselves to submit the following statement: In the first place, we never sold a pound of beef to the Central prison; secondly, we never bought the beef from the warehouse. We were warned about the month of July, 1885, by Mr. Massey, who stated that they had at the prison a sur-
