If it is said that there are numbers of men' who, being insolvent, are unable to go into busisess again and earn a livelihood for their famisess and that they can earn a livelihood without going into business. The ranks of busisess employment are too crowded 'already. It s difficult enough for persons now in business o make a living without being subjected to the ompetition of numbers of new men, who have lready proved their unfitness for ic.
It is to be hoped when the matter is under nal discussion such considerations as these I ave ventured to submit will have weight in arliament.

Municipal Indebtedness, thoroughly endorse what was said in the nk of Montreal with regard to this matter.

ilure of one of the smaller Banks he Dominion—a Bank which was very far from eing prudently managed—the soundness of our urrency law has again been demonstrated. The whole of the note issues of the Bank were edeemed within a few months of the stoppage y the operation of the preferential lien on the ssets of the Bank.

The President having invited remarks from the shareholders present, Mr. John Morrison said that the report for the past year was one of the best that had ever been issued by the bank within his recollection. It now occupied a position which had never been equalled at any previous period in its history.

Mr. John Crawford spoke in favor of half-yearly usectings, which, among other things, would have the advantage of bringing the directors and the shareholders into closer touch. He alluded to the fact that the balance sheet showed the net profits for the past year to have been about $26,000 in advance of 1898, and said that the result of the year's workings had been exceedingly satisfactory. He thought that the directors, ma nagers and shareholders should all be equally gratified at the result, considering the mercantile depression which had prevailed on mercantne depression which had prevahed on both the eastern and western continents. He then went on to speak of the Rest account, and suggested that as it had now reached 50 per cent of the paid up capital ii should stop there, and after the contingent fund had been added to the extent of $500,000, the profits, after an 8 per cent dividend had been paid, should be distributed amongst the Shareholders. To go on enhancing the rest must have one of two results. It must either lead to extravagance, or it must inevitably paralyze the energies of the pest managers in the world. He contended that a 50 per cent. Rest had been generally accepted by the English banks as amply sufficient to meet all contingencies, in conclusion he called attention to the fact that the Dominion Bank paid quarterly dividends, and said that the time was coming when this would be general.

Mr. John Morrison spoke in opposition to semi-annual meetings and quarterly dividends.

The General Manager, in reply to Mr. John Crawford, said: With regard to the matter of quarterly dividends, it is sometimes forgotten by the advocates of them that the stock books would have to be closed four times a year, instead of twice, as at present. As to the Rest account, Mr. Crawford is entirely in error in supposing that the principle of 50 per cent. has been accepted generally by the English banks. I have a list before me of some of the banks in England. It shows that, Parr's bank, which was formerly a Lancashire bank, and amalgamated with the Alliance has a capital of one million and a Rest of one million; while the London & Provincial has a rest of 118 per cent. In the provinces there is the Manchester and County, with a capital of £190,000 and a rest of £780,000; a Bristol bank with a capital of a million and a rest of £1,400,000 and a rest of £780,000; a Bristol bank with a capital of a supplies profits. I shall be very thankful indeed whon we get there, and am quite willing, as he said, "10 have my energies paralyzed by it." With regard to our circulation

I was told by other bankers that it was not the custom.

The General Manager: It must be an entire mistake; it is impossible to carry on a bank without such statements being furnished. With reference to half-yearly meetings it is open for shareholders to meet if they please, but many of the things they did would be invalid, because the Banking act says they shall meet annually, and many of the provisions of the Banking act depend on things occuring annually. They could not be done at a half-yearly meeting, which would be merely a pro forma affair.

Mr. John Crawford moved, seconded by Mr. John Stirling:

The motion was unanimously concurred in, after which Mr. Crawford enquired if the bylaws gave the Directors power to limit the amount of credit to any individual or firm.

The General Manager: No. We have the power to do it, but no such bylaw has ever been passed. passed.

It was moved by Mr. James O'Brien, seconded by Capt. Benyon:

"That Messrs. J. Y. Gilmour and F. Lyman be appointed scrutineers of the election of Directors about to take place; that they proceed to take the votes immediately; that she ballot shall close at 3 o'clock p.m., but if an interval of ten minutes elapse without a vote being tendered, that the ballot shall thereupon be closed immediately."
