

Though the earth is in commotion
And thy foes go hand in hand ;
With the noblest fleet on ocean—
And the bravest men on land ;
Mighty England !
Who can injure ? who withstand !

In the colonîes remotest,—
On our own Canadian shore ;
And in India's climate hottest,
Where a heathen rules no more.
For Great Britain !
Christians pray as heretofore.

Raise we then, this prayer in chorus,
Gladly on thy natal day,—
Blest be thy dominion o'er us,
While with earnestness we pray
For Victoria !
Born, the twenty-fourth of May.
