We do not want a "star chamber" in the medical profession in this country.

We would like to see an annual report of the Provincial Medical Board's doings, if they have anything to report.

Dr. Tobin is at present visiting friends in Newfoundland.

If next winter passes over and we have no legislation as to the quarantining of diphtheria, we will know that our physicians and law-makers are indifferent to the physical welfare of the people

At a recent meeting of a large number of the city physicians, resolutions were passed condemning the position of the Hospital Medical Board, in their dealings with their fellow practioners.

An iron hand is apparent on the side of the Board of Charities.

Tho " Hospital Medical Board" lacks grip.

The young men of the profession a edemanding a share of the honors and favors in the profession, and they will get them.

The orthodox profession has a powerful hold on this Province. Probably there is no place in the world where we have fewer irregulars. Do not let us keep the door open to them by continually fighting among yourselves.

Will not a sufficient number of the profession with no "axis to grind" attend the next meeting of the N. S. Medical Society, and squelch the tendency to eliquism, and level things both up and down?

We would ask why a star is placed after certain physicians' names on the "Medical Register?" Is it a mark of degradation or superior merit? What does it mean ! Probably Dr. Parker or Dr. Fatroll can explain. One of them is supposed to be the star's godfather. An explanation would refresh us.

The city fathers, city physicians, and Board of Health should receive public thauks for their efforts to prevent the introduction of small-pox into Halifax. Their vigilance in this matter has been remarkable.

The epidemic of Dysentery at Hantsport is apparently neither infectious or contagious, but is probably due to the water supply. Germs of the most virulent diseases often exist in chemically pure water. Science is as yet helpless to detect the germs of the vast majority of diseases.

COMMERCIAL.

There has been quite a trade revival the last few days, although you will hear of hard times and poor trade continually from those who prefer to wait for business instead of going out after it. The days when you could sell mostly in store are fast passing away, and business has to be gone after now or very limited sales will be the result.

Sugans are on the rise again, the advance being from one quarter to one half cent per pound. The Woodside refinery has been closed on account of want of water for some days, and another refinery has been short of stock. There has been a sharp advance in New York which may continue, but we think the chances are that a proportionate decline will take place at no very distant day.

TEAS.—The new crop is continually arriving in small lots, and meets with ready sale when the quality is satisfactory. Old stocks are moving off at reduced figures, and at present the market is not overstocked.

Molasses - The Diamond N. has again made its appearance, and as usual sells well at a large advance over other grades which are also moving off quite rapidly at low figures. There will be a much larger demand for molasses as the cold weether approaches, and it is quite possible figures may

BUTTER. - Canadian is coming in now as the weather is cooler, and prices of our province make are beginning to be governed by the imported stocks. So far only very choice grades have came in, but later on a large quantity of ordinary may be expected, which, on the whole, may be a very good gritcle, and as prices in Montreal are low, considerable will be sold.

HEESE. - The late advance is well sustained, and it is hardly possible from now out that a decline can take place, although stocks are very large all over, and the English market does not take such large quant ties as formerly.

Eggs are scarce and bring very good prices, 15 cents was secured Wedhesday, and they will likely be higher before long.

FLOUR still continues quiet, and prices continue very low. The new WOOL, WOOL SKINS & HIDES. crop is very beavy, and to all appearances we shall have cheap flour for some time to come.

LAND.—Some new make has lately came to market, and is selling well at good prices.

SMOKED HAMS are in good demand, and, as old stocks are rather well cleaned out, full prices are secured for the new.

APPLES are coming in in limited quantities. The crop is not nearly so large as last year, but the quality is better. Although the quantity of fruit to the acre is not so much as formerly, still there is so much more territory under cultivation, that there will not be as small a crop as some people imagino.
