Designated List
of Archaeological Artifacts and Ethnographic Material Culture
of
Canadian Origin
Restricted from Importation into the United States of America

For the purposes of this list and in accordance with the United States' Cultural Property Implementation Act and Canada's Cultural Property Export and Import Act:

Definitions

"archaeological artifact" means an object made or worked by a person or persons and associated with historic or prehistoric cultures that is of cultural significance and at least 250 years old and normally discovered as a result of scientific excavation, clandestine or accidental digging, or exploration on land or under water.

"ethnographic material culture" means an object that was made, reworked or adapted for use by a person who is an Aboriginal person of Canada (e.g. the product of a tribal or non-industrial society), is of ethnological interest and is important to the cultural heritage of a people because of its distinctive characteristics, comparative rarity, or its contribution to the knowledge of the origins, development or history of that people. The terms "ethnographic material culture" and "ethnological material" are used interchangeably.

"Aboriginal person of Canada" means a person of Indian or Inuit ancestry, including a Métis person, or a person recognized as being a member of an Indian, Inuit or Métis group by the other members of that group, who at any time ordinarily resided in the territory that is now Canada.

General Restrictions

Pursuant to Canada's Cultural Property Export and Import Act, certain archaeological artifacts and ethnographic material are subject to export control. Export permits are available at designated offices of Canada Customs. Information about export controls is available from Movable Cultural Property, Department of Canadian Heritage, by telephone at 819-997-7761.
