"Lippincott's Biographical Dictionary, according to the unanimous opinion of distinguished scholars, is the best work of the kind ever published."
—Philadelphia Ledger.

"The most comprehensive and valuable work of the kind that has ever been attempted. . . . An invaluable convenience."—Boston Evening Traveller.

"It is of such a final sort of excellence that it will at once take its place as the Biographical Dictionary of the future."—Philadelphia Evening Bulletin.

"The most valuable contribution to lexicography in the English tongue."—Cincinnati Gazette.

"The most satisfactory work of reference ever issued from the press."
—Philadelphia Evening Telegraph.

"This work presents a very wide range of treatment, great compactness and perspicuity, wonderful accuracy and a typographical execution that is absolutely perfect."—New York Evening Post.

"There is nothing like it in the English language. . . . It may be fairly esteemed a credit to the age and country which have produced it."—Philadelphia Press.

"It is hardly possible to overestimate the detail, comprehensiveness and eclecticism of Dr. Thomas' labors. His field is the world, his epoch all past time."—Philadelphia North American.

"I find that my high expectations of its excellence, founded on my knowledge of the admirable qualifications of its editor, are not disappointed. In the judicious brevity of its articles, the comprehensiveness of its selections of topics, the nice exactness in matters of orthography and pronunciation, as well as for its admirable typography, it promises to take a very high place among our books of reference."—Professor Noah Porter.

"It is universal in facts as in name, doing like justice to men prominent in science, literature, religion, general history, etc. The author knows how to put a large number of facts into a very small compass, and in a manner remarkable for system, fairness, precision and easy diction."—Professor James D. Dana, M.A., LL.D.
