

DEDICATION.

TO those, whose minds have not entirely discarded the loftiest principles of Honor and Magnanimity ; who ardently contemplate the rising glory of this country ;—and, in whose nature, are happily united, Patriotism, Virtue and Sensibility :

To such characters, a notice of the following proceedings is offered, without any formality of introduction.