

Commission ; but it is probable that we have seen the last of commissions to inquire of felonies and misdemeanours for some time to come. If another makes its appearance, it is to be hoped it will be met with a resistance of a formidable description.