EGYPTIAN FLAG OVER FASHODA.

That is a Report Which Lacks Official Confirmation—British Ambassador at Paris Assured That the French Government is Ignorant of Marchand's Whereabouts—Paris Papers Talk in Favor of a Diplomatic Settlement.

London, Sept. 21.—It is reported in Government circles that news has been received that the Egyptian flag is flying over Fashoda. The fact, however, has not yet been officially announced. A despatch to The Daily Graphic from Paris says that Sir E. J. Monson, the British Ambassador, in the course of an interview with M. Delcasse, Minister of Foreign Affairs, casually referred to the reports that Major Marchand at the head of a French expedition, was at Fashoda on the Nile. M. Delcasse assured the ambassador in the most friendly manner that the Government was absolutely ignorant of Major Marchand's whereabouts. He added that if the expedition was in the neighborhood of the Nile its object was geographical rather than political, but he begged the ambassador not to regard this as an official communication in behalf of the Government.

The correspondent recalls that M. Delcasse was Minister of Colonies when the Marchand expedition was equipped, and that he made a motion in the Chamber of Deputies that the sum of $400,000 be appropriated for the expenses of the expedition. It is consequently presumable that he is aware of the objects of the expedition.

Paris Papers Talk for Diplomacy.
Paris, Sept. 21.—The Paris press generally holds the opinion that the settlement of the question of occupation of Fashoda ought to be brought about through diplomacy and not by force of arms.

L'Esclair says it is in a position to fully confirm the falsity of the report that Major Marchand has been recalled.

Le Matin believes that the British received timely information of the occupation of Fashoda through secret sources. Le Gaulois does not believe that any trouble will grow out of the Fashoda affair, but feels certain that an amicable agreement will be reached. At the Cabinet Council yesterday M. Delcasse, Minister of Foreign Affairs, explained the foreign situation and communicated to the Council full information in regard to the mission of Major Marchand in Africa.

The Debeche Coloniale, which is a strong national newspaper, comments on the Fashoda matter as a peifigging affair. It says that the possession of the place would be of no practical utility to France and it is ridiculous to suppose that holding it would lead to a settlement of the Egyptian question. The paper appeals to the press to abandon schoolboy tricks, which it says, consist of decrying their neighbors when they think them too strong to be attacked with safety. It feels sure that M. Delcasse, the Foreign Minister, has a higher conception of what ought to be the foreign policy of a great country.

ARMS COMING IN SLOWLY.

Only 1000 Out of 25,000 Rifles Surrendered to the British Admiral by the Mussulmans.

Candia, Sept. 21.—About 1000 fire arms have thus far been surrendered by the Mussulmans in response to the demand of the British admiral. The most credible reports place the number of rifles in possession of the Mussulmans at about 25,000, which is exclusive of 6000 Martini, which are the property of the Turkish Government. Much difficulty in compelling the surrender of all these arms is expected. Sir A. Biliott, the British Consul has visited the Christian Chiefs and informed them that Great Britain had undertaken the protection of the disarmed Moslems and warned the Chiefs that any attack on the Moslems would be regarded as an attack on the British. The Chiefs promised to abstain from attacking the Moslems.

CHAMPLAIN MONUMENT

UNVEILED AT QUEBEC

A Day Which Will Long Be Remembered in the Ancient Capital.

Splendid Spectacle Afforded by the March of the Militia and the Display of the Warships in the Harbor—Grand Illumination at Night.

Quebec, Sept. 21.—The twenty first of September, 1838, will long be remembered by the citizens of Quebec and those visitors who witnessed the imposing ceremonies which marked the unveiling of the artistic monument on Dufferin Terrace, designed by the Parisian sculptors, Messrs. Paul Chevre and Le Carondeau, and erected by the city to the memory of its illustrious founder, Samuel De Champlain, in the 20th year of its age. Apart from the dignity with which the occasion naturally invested the celebration, there were other things, noteworthy in themselves, which joined to add to its eclat. The presence within the city walls of the members of the International Commission designed to remove all causes of greater or less friction that had existed between the Dominion and the United States, and incidentally to strengthen the bond between the English-speaking peoples of the world, the warships from the North American squadron, the spectacle of a United States cruiser that had done good service in the recent Spanish-American war, the celebration of the great national festival of St. Jean Baptiste, and the ball given by the citizens of Quebec in the City Hall, all tended to attract crowds of visitors.

The Weather Was Fine.
The morning rose bright and fine, with a seasonable crispness in the air that was quite refreshing for early risers and was toned down and the chill taken off by the sun for those who rose later, and Quebec prepared itself for more frivolous occupation of the afternoon and evening by attending the very elaborate and magnificent Mass sung before the St. Jean Baptiste Society and its guests in the grand church in the suburbs. Among the invited guests were the Right Hon. Sir Wilfrid Laurier, the Provincial Ministry, the Mayor and City Council, etc., and the different labor organizations and benevolent societies joined with banners and regalia in the procession.

The Monster Procession.
The procession which numbered many sections, was divided in seven divisions, each preceded by band and banner and followed by insignia and badges. The initial preparations for the ceremonial of the day commenced with the landing a detachment from the ships, who formed on the Queen's Wharf, and proceeded by the band of the Ninth Battalion, marched to the terrace to form a guard of honor in conjunction with a squad of Royal Canadian Artillery under command of Major Ruthford.

At 1.45 His Honor the Lieut-Governor and party arrived and took their seats, followed by M. Kleczkowski, Consul-General of France, and officials representing the French Republic.

Their Excellencies, the Earl and Countess of Aberdeen, escorted by Q. O. C. H., arrived and took their seats, the bands playing the National Anthem. Hon. Judge Chauveau, President of the Monument Committee, read an elaborate address in the name of the committee and subscribers at the conclusion of which the monument was unveiled, amidst the cheering of the assembled thousands who had thronged the Terrace, its surroundings and every advantageous point from which a view of the proceedings could be obtained.

At this moment that guns from the Citadel, manned by a detachment of "B" Field Battery, under command of Capt. Benyon, boomed out a royal salute, and as the echoes of the second gun were heard the warships replied with their salvos.

At the conclusion of the salute, the cantata "Laval Champlain" was sung by the scholars of a seminary, who occupied a platform specially prepared for them.

Lord Aberdeen's Speech.
His Excellency the Governor-General then delivered a very happy reply, saying among other things:

"During the past five years I have had the opportunity of being present at many impressive gatherings, but no occasion can surpass in interest the demonstration of which I am a witness to-day the 21st of September, 1838, on the banks of the St. Lawrence, for here, in the midst of these historic surroundings, is met for the honor of a great hero an assembly which in itself represents a future of which Champlain himself could never have dreamed."

His Excellency was succeeded by Mr. Kleczkowski, Lieut-Governor Jettie and Sir Wilfrid Laurier, Hon. Messrs. Marchand, Duffy and Judge Routhier, all of whom delivered eloquent and appropriate addresses.

Brilliant Illumination.
To-night a brilliant illumination took place. The monument, all the principal public and many private buildings were handsomely illuminated, as were also the warships in the harbor, which made a magnificent spectacle and was viewed by thousands of people on both sides of the river.

Notes.
The ball tendered by the citizens to the International Commissioners took place in the new City Hall and was a brilliant affair.

Lieut-Governor Jettie is to receive the grand cross, Premier Marchand will be named officer, and Judge Chauveau, Chevalier of the Legion of Honor, in commemoration of to-day's proceedings.

TAMPING OUT HOG CHOLERA.

Inspector James Says the Pigeries Near Ottawa Were Enclosed.

Ottawa, Sept. 21.—There was an immense crowd at the Central Fair to-day, execution parties having reached the city from all directions. Dr. A. E. James is still engaged stamping out hog cholera in Carleton County. Altogether he has slaughtered 33 hogs, and has quarantined 127. Since the hog cholera was first discovered over 350 hogs have died. The greater number of these are not more than four miles out of the city. All the pigeries under quarantine will be kept so until the diseased hogs are killed off. The pigeries will be disinfected and thoroughly cleaned. The hogs which are being killed will be cremated. The inspector says that the state of these pigeries was most unwholesome, and that such should not be allowed to exist at or near a city.

OLD SCOTLAND YARD MAN

Detective Holland, Who Did Clever Work in Trenton, Ont.

Holland of the Canadian Detective Agency left Toronto for Trenton to work up the Glen Miller arson case. This case involved the burning of the Glen Miller Paper Mills last month, and at the time there were many stories rife as to the origin of the blaze. Detective Holland was put on the case, and he has succeeded in convicting a man on four charges of theft, and it is alleged that the prisoner was the head of a gang that set fire to the mill. On the day after the fire was laid out in the woods in the vicinity of the mill, which they followed until a barb-wire fence was reached. Here the party was lost, but the men found valuable information in a small piece of rubber stuck to the wire, which subsequently led to the discovery of a large quantity of stolen property.

QUEBEC AND THE PLEBISCITE.

Mayor of Montreal Says the Province Will Go Anti-Prohibition—Father Chiquiquy is a Prohibitionist and Wears the Pope's Medal, but Feels That the Clergy Will Take a Neutral Stand—Anglican Synod on Divorce—Montreal News.

Montreal, Sept. 21.—(Special)—As the day of voting approaches, interest in the plebiscite shows some signs of revival. The most important statement yet made in this province regarding prohibition was uttered here to-day by Mayor Prefontaine, M.P. for Maisonneuve. Mr. Lawrence Wilson gave a banquet in his new wine cellar, many political and civic dignitaries being present. His Worship was called upon to speak. Mr. Prefontaine stated that he had approved of the Government's course in submitting the question of prohibition to the electorate, but he added with emphasis, "I know that this province would give a large majority against the measure, and this being the case I know the Government would not dare put such a measure in practice in the face of the hostile vote of the Province of Quebec." The Mayor said that he might be criticised for taking part in the opening of the wine cellar, but as the Lord Mayor of London had been present at a similar function and was afterwards knighted by the Queen, His Worship of Montreal considered himself in good company.

Rev. Charles Chiquiquy, who is now 70 years of age, says he is in favor of prohibition. He told The World that the French-Canadians drank more to-day than they did when he was instrumental in having all the saloons closed.

"How will they vote?" the reverend gentleman was asked. "I hardly know. If the clergy should pronounce for prohibition, I believe it would be all right, but I am afraid they will be neutral."

Father Chiquiquy, who is hale and hearty, wears on his breast the medal given him by the Pope half a century ago in recognition of his temperance work in French Canada.

Anglicans and Divorce.
Some startling statements were made by Rev. Dr. Langtry of St. Luke's Church, Toronto, in the Church of England Provincial Synod this morning. In moving a resolution with regard to the re-marriages of divorced persons. He ridiculed the idea that such marriages should be allowed as a matter of justice to the innocent parties, declaring that there was very seldom an innocent party. On the authority of Judge MacDonald, a well known County Court Judge of Ontario, and a member of the Synod, Dr. Langtry asserted that very often the divorces obtained in Canada were got by collusion between the two parties, in order to free themselves of the marriage bonds. Rich men not infrequently suborned witnesses to prove their wives guilty, and then masqueraded as the innocent ones.

In other cases the husband forgot his vows, and when the wife became impatient and deserted, the wife broke her, he sued for a divorce. In his own eyes and the eyes of his friends, he might be the innocent and aggrieved party, but at the last judgment it would not be so decided. Dr. Langtry foresaw a trail of evils following from easy and general divorces, which far outweighed any which might be compensated by forbidding really innocent persons from marrying again. On behalf of the clergy, too, he asked that they should be protected from the importunities of those who wished such marriages formed and from the temptation of large fees, such as he was once offered.

The question was warmly discussed, the debate occupying the whole day, many Anglicans strongly opposing Dr. Langtry's proposal that the marriage of either party to the divorce should not be allowed, and claiming that the innocent party should be allowed to re-marry.

The Synod to-night rejected the motion requesting that the clergy in its jurisdiction be ordered to abstain from marrying divorced persons.

Beauregard Says He Isn't Crazy.
An action for $25,000 damages was commenced in the Civil Courts to-day, which promises to be a case of considerable interest. Beauregard is suing the Longue Pointe Asylum authorities for the above-named amount, on the ground of illegal detention. A jury of leading citizens has been empanelled to try the case, and it is likely to be fought to the bitter end. Beauregard claims that he was detained at the request of his wife after he was perfectly sane, and that the asylum people connived in his detention.

Discussed the Question of Divorce With Considerable Warmth—Dr. Langtry to the Front.
Montreal, Sept. 21.—(G.N.W. Report).—At this morning's session of the Anglican Synod, the report favoring the creation of three new bishoprics, two in Ontario and one in Nova Scotia, was considered. No decision has yet been reached as to the issue so involved that a solution seems distant. Any disposition on the part of the Americans to admit Ontario lumber free of duty would meet with clamorous protest from the lumbermen of Maine and the Southern States. Premier Hardy does not hide the anxiety he feels lest his Liberal allies should jeopardize his Government by insisting upon the repeal of the legislation without adequate compensation.

Offered to Reciprocity.
Messrs. Aaron Jones of South Bend, Indiana, Wholesale Master of the National Grandery of Patrons of Husbandry, and John F. Smith, Washington, D.C., the secretary-treasurer, have been conferring with the American Commissioners. They are strongly opposed to reciprocity in natural products. There seems a desire on the part of several of the Canadian Commissioners to abolish the duty on corn in return for the privilege of securing the same treatment for Canadian barley.

Muller Pays Their Salaries.
Perhaps there is no other store on King-street, outside of the big dry goods houses, which contributes so largely to Canadian revenues as does G. W. Muller, the cigar importer. He pays sufficient duties every month to abate the salaries of the staff at the Toronto customs port. The tax on imported cigars is a little heavier than the inland revenue tax collected from domestic cigars. The latter have a black label, while imported cigars always have a blue customs label on the box.

Warm Weather Continues.
Meteorological Office, Toronto, Ont., Sept. 21.—High pressure still continues over the lake and eastern districts, but it is slowly giving way. The low area over the Northwest, mentioned yesterday, is now central near the Lake of the Woods. The general tendency is for higher temperature from the lakes to the Atlantic.

Minimum and maximum temperatures: Victoria, 54-62; Barkerville, 49-52; Kamloops, 56-64; Battleford, 40-48; Qu'Appelle, 44-54; Winnipeg, 52-78; Port Arthur, 48-78; Pelly Sound, 36-68; Toronto, 42-65; Ottawa, 34-64; Montreal, 40-62; Quebec, 38-50; Halifax, 38-56.

Probabilities—Lower Lakes and Georgian Bay—Freshening east to south winds, fair, warmer weather; some local rains to-night or on Friday.

Ottawa Valley—Fair with rising temperatures; some local rains to-night or on Friday.

Lake Superior—Turning cooler by night, with west to north winds, fair, with some local showers.

Manitoba—Fair and a little cooler.

Ont. Hall, the popular King-street east clothiers, are showing men's suits and overcoats of a marked degree of excellence in quality and style, ranging in price from five to fifteen dollars.

On the Lumber Question.
The United States commissioners, as a result of the representations of American lumbermen, are steadfast in demanding the repeal of the Ontario legislation concerning logs. Americans own the limits in the eastern part of the Michigan lumber mills. They do not disguise their dissatisfaction with the Ontario legislation.

Premier Hardy and Hon. Mr. Ross are equally determined that it shall be enforced as long as the United States impose duty on sawn lumber. They have established a lobby at the Chamber of Commerce and purpose remaining there until the question is arranged on an equitable basis. They realize that it involves their political future in a province where public opinion is so highly organized. Unhappily, Mr. John Charlton, M.P., one of the Canadian commissioners, entertains views on the lumber question not dissimilar to those possessed by the American delegates. His private interests are identical with those of the American lumbermen. The
