TYPEWRITER REPAIRING AND RENTING A SPECIALTY

When we say we have the "Best Typewriter" you can believe us, for we try to carry all makes in stock.

It is amusing to read some Typewriter Adds. Each Agent says he has "The World's Best Typewriter," or "The Perfected Typewriter" or some other kind of a Typewriter that has points over all the others. (In one case a firm ore advertising a machine that they have not got.)

Some firms who have only been in the typewriter business three or four months advertise that they will give accurate information concerning the mechanism of typewriters ? ?

STREET CAR LOOP LINE TO REACH THE WHARVES

City Engineer Instructed to See Company to Run Cars Over York-Street Bridge.

The street cars will soon be running to the water front, according to the chairman of the board of works, who at its meeting yesterday brought up the extension across the York-street bridge, with a loop around Harbor-square. Ald. Foster explained that Yonge-street would be practically closed when the bridge construction began, and it would be necessary to have another route to the wharves.

The city engineer will see the street railway officials and report at the next meeting. The loop will be continued up Yonge-street after the completion of the bridge.

Arthur Martin of Binscarth-road was refused a supply of city water, as he is outside the limits. The other residents on the street have the privilege, paying 30 cents per thousand gallons, the main being already laid, but Ald. Sheppard took strong ground against granting any further water services while there was such a shortage inside the city. He was supported by Ald. Stewart, McGhie, Graham and Fleming, while the mayor, Ald. Harrison and Noble were in favor of granting the petition.

Work for Private Property.

H. S. Mara applied for an extension of 125 feet of the six-inch main on Gore Vale-avenue. The cost was estimated at $650. The street is private property, but is not assessed. The mayor objected to granting the application, as if the owners wished city privileges they could dedicate the street to the city. Ald. Noble, Harrison and Stewart supported him, but the application was granted by a vote of 5 to 4, Ald. Graham, Fleming, Crane, McGhie and Sheppard being in favor of it.

The sidewalk on Davenport-road off Yonge-street will be constructed of concrete. The concrete walk recommended for Dundas-street near Rushholme-road was changed to a wooden one on application of the solicitor for Mrs. F. C. Denison, who stated it would cost his client about $600.

Residents opposing and favoring the opening of Hickson-street were heard, and the assessment commissioner was requested to send his report when ready to the interested parties.

Want Tar Macadam.

The city engineer was requested to report on a proposed system of draining hydrants to prevent freezing, which has been adopted in Detroit, and on the purchase of a sand pump. He will also look intt the request of Bleecker-street people for a tar macadam roadway, instead of asphalt as recommended.

Ald. Crane called attention to the condition of Beverley-street from Baldwin to Cecil, where the sidewalk is lower than the curb, and water remains standing on the walk. The engineer and assessment commissioner will report on the best plan of avoiding the trouble and its cost.

The committee recommended the purchase of 1000 letters for inserting the names of streets at the corners of all new concrete sidewalks.

New sewers were ordered for Muir-avenue from Dufferin-street to Sheridan-avenue at a cost of $1350; and for Dufferin-street from Lindsay to Sylvan-avenue to cost $900, on the local improvement plan.

The Toronto Ministerial Association meets in the Y.M.C.A. on Monday at 10.30 a.m., subject, "The Trend of Religious Thought in Christendom," by Rev. G. M. Milligan, D.D.

WHY MR. COPP DREW $500 EXPLAINED IN THE HOUSE

Merely a Business Proposition With Town of Digby and Used to Pay Personal Expenses.

Ottawa, March 18.—(Staff Special.)—Copp of Digby rose to a question of privilege in the house to-day and read a statement that clears him of the unsavory inferences that W. H. Bennett fastened on his conduct. The $500 which Copp drew from the Town of Digby was for services rendered in the promotion of a movement to secure increased dock facilities. A pretentious scheme of increased harbor accommodations was proposed, and Copp declined to make further requests from the government, feeling that the town had already received by way of government grant all that he could reasonably ask for. Several prominent business men and shippers organized for the purpose of making the desired improvements, and at a representative public meeting it was decided that the town should aid.

Copp then made a proposition to the town council that for $500 down, $4500 on the completion of the harbor work and $10,000 when the first transatlantic steamer tied up at Digby wharf, he would ensure the carrying out of the work. He assured the house that the $500 was for personal expenses incurred in visits to Montreal, etc., to induce capitalists to take up the project. It was understood that he was to have no portion of the $4500 or the $10,000. He did not apply for nor did the government contribute one cent for the work.

The Liberals cheered as Mr. Copp concluded by challenging his assailants to meet him before the committee of privileges and elections.

The veracity of Attorney-General Pugsley of New Brunswick received a rude thrust in a statement made by the prime minister. R. L. Borden called attention to words used by Pugsley in the New Brunswick legislature, in which the latter said he had assurances from Ottawa that there was to be a readjustment of the financial relations of the provinces.

Sir Wilfrid answered that he had merely told Mr. Pugsley that the question of readjusting the subsidies would come up for consideration, but had not indicated along what lines.

SANCTIONS "JIM CROW" BILL,

But Maryland Representative Who Urged It is Under a Boycott.

Baltimore, March 18.—Governor Warfield has approved the two so-called "Jim Crow" bills relating to railroad and steamboat travel in the state. The railway bill requires companies to provide separate coaches for colored passengers except on express trains and trains with Pullman coaches attached. The steamboat measure provides for separate compartments for white and colored passengers, but no discrimination in the quality of the accommodation.

TREASURE FOR WAR.

New York, March 18.—Korkyo Takahashi, the vice-president of the Bank of Japan, has arrived in this city on a trip around the world. The nobles and wealthy merchants in Japan, he says, have been contributing money freely. Lord Habeshina recently brought out of his treasure chest, balls of pure gold measuring in diameter three feet, which had been taken from Korea in the time of Tayco's Korean conquest 300 years ago.

BENEFIT FUND CONSTITUTION

Discussed by A.O.U.W. Grand Lodge at Last Night's Session.

The grand lodge got down to work late Thursday night on the constitution for its newly organized sick and funeral benefit fund. Members of the A.O.U.W. between the ages of 18 and 45 may become members of the fund in question. The routine to be observed in seeking membership, paying dues and the like is analogous to that connected with the work of the order itself. Three dollars a week for the first two weeks, and five dollars a week for the following ten weeks of any one illness, will be paid, and $30 on death, towards funeral expenses.

Thomas A. Hastings presented the report of the organization committee, which was adopted. W. W. Burgess, Toronto, was declared elected grand outside watchman. A. G. F. Lawrence was re-elected grand solicitor. George Clay, Toronto, and Chas. G. Knott, Toronto, were re-elected auditors.

It was resolved to communicate with other grand lodges in the Dominion, with a view to possible union.

The following were elected deputy grand masters: St. Clair district, W. Shippy, Highgate; Erie district, R. B. Cowan, London, A. Carruthers, London; Brant, T. G. Lamniman, Currie's Crossing; Hamilton, W. H. Ebrahart; Niagara, D. E. Evans; Guelph, Graham Hammond; Huron, A. Yates, Strafford; Bruce, James M. Ewing; Dufferin, H. H. Burgess, Owen Sound; Peel, S. Nixon, Kirbride; Toronto, T. Riley, Toronto; York, W. T. Story; Simcoe, D. Williams, Tottenham; Ontario, George Brown, Saintfield; Durham, F. H. Lazier, Brighton; Quinte, J. N. Simmons, M.D., Frankford; Kingston, R. W. Longman, Camden East; St. Lawrence, James Ross; Stormont, W. H. Casselman, Chesterville; Ottawa, A. A. Weagant, Ottawa; Lanark, R. W. Haydon, Almonte; Georgian Bay, Superior, Nipissing, A. D. McGinnis.

Harry Harris was elected to the office of grand inside watchman. The report of the committee on appeals, after an animated debate on several matters, was adopted. It was decided to present the grand recorder, M. D. Carder, with an honorarium of $500. In connection with the revision of the constitution, it was agreed that all bonds for officers of the order shall be secured from a guarantee company, at the expense of the grand lodge, those for subordinate lodges are to be held in the custody of the grand recorder. Regarding the reserve fund, which is for the protection of the order in such exigencies as might arise from epidemics, etc., it was provided that if in unforeseen circumstances the assessments in any year become oppressive, the advisory board may direct such sum to be transferred from the reserve fund as they may consider necessary. A special committee was constituted the reserve board.

In the discussion that took place over the proposed advance in rates, very forceful speeches in favor were made by Past Grand Master Workmen Joseph Gibson, George P. Graham, M.L.A., F. G. Inwood, the new grand master workman, J. M. Peregrine, and G. B. Morris of the executive committee. Capt. T. M. Cornett, P.G.M.W., equally strongly opposed the advance. The grand lodge decided emphatically against the proposed increase.
