

TWAIN FAVORS SPELLING REFORM

He Asks Assistance from the Associated Press.

REFORM WITHIN THREE MONTHS

Mark Says Whole World Will Adopt New System by End of That Time.

New York, Sept. 24.—The annual meeting of members of the Associated Press was held in this city last week. The members, who include publishers, editors and other representatives of papers taking the Associated Press service, met with several guests at dinner at the Waldorf-Astoria.

Melville E. Stone, general manager, presided, and with him at the guests' table were Samuel L. Clemens, who discussed "Reform Spelling," Gen. Horace Porter, former ambassador to France, who responded to the toast, "Our Guests"; Henry A. Shute, the author, who talked of "Critics," and Prof. Geo. E. Vincent, of the University of Chicago, who spoke on "Purely Academic."

After the guests and members were seated the evening cup was passed, and each member drank, each in turn, to the Associated Press. The toastmaster then introduced Gen. Horace Porter.

Gen. Porter paid a high and graceful tribute to the work of the Associated Press and of newspaper men in general. In conclusion he said:

"We all criticize the press; we all abuse it, and we all take it. We can't eat our breakfast without it. We have no appetite for our dinners until we have seen its contents. If you wish to know the value of the freedom of the press we have just two examples like a teach it all. This country is the most prosperous in all the annals of history with a free press; that great empire in the east in which the red hand of anarchy is seen throughout its borders has a press muzzled by a censor."

First Club Launched on Jug.

Mr. Stone next introduced Mark Twain, who was greeted with enthusiastic and prolonged applause. Mr. Stone said of Mr. Clemens among other things that he was the "inspiration of the first press club in this country."

"The truth is," replied Mr. Clemens, "the inspiration was due to a jug that someone carried in. That club is still running."

Mr. Clemens spoke in characteristic vein. He said in part:

"I am here to make an appeal to the nations in behalf of the simplified spelling. I have come here because they cannot all be reached except through you. There are only two forces that carry light to all the corners of the globe—the sun and the Associated Press. I may seem to be flattering the sun, but I do not mean it so. I am meaning only to be just and fair all around."

"You speak with a million voices no one can reach so many races—many hearts and intellects as you, except Rudyard Kipling, and he cannot do it without your help. If the Associated Press will accept and use our simplified forms and thus spread them to the ends of the earth, covering the whole spacious planet with them as with a garden of flowers, our difficulties are at an end."

"Every day of the 365 the only pages of the world's countless newspapers that are read by all the human beings and angels and devils that can read, are those pages that are sent out of Associated Press dispatches."

Begs, Beseeches, Implores.

"And so I beg you, I beseech you, oh, I implore you—to spell them in our simplified forms. Do this—daily, constantly, persistently for three months—only three months—it is all I ask. The inflexible result—victory, victory, all down the line."

"For, by that time all eyes here and above and below will have become adjusted to the change in love with it and the present clumsy and ragged forms will be grotesque to the eye and revolting to the soul. And we shall be rid of phthisis and phthisis and pneumonia and pneumonias and diphtheria and peradactyl, and all those other same words which no man addicted to the simple Christian life can try to spell and not lose some of the bloom of

Qualities of the Best Food

Malta-Vita Is Wholesome, Delicious, Pure and Clean.

In all the recent discussions about food and food products, we have heard only the most favorable comment on Malta-Vita, the delicious malted whole-wheat food. Everywhere people are eating Malta-Vita and declaring that nothing could take its place, especially for breakfast.

Anyone who has ever eaten Malta-Vita knows how good it is. Anyone who has eaten it for any length of time knows how healthful it is. Persons who have seen it made know it is pure and clean. These three distinctive qualities make it the most popular food on the market.

Malta-Vita, best whole wheat, mixed with pure barley malt extract, thoroughly steamed and cooked and every flake baked to a crisp, is rich in nutrition and is assimilated readily even by the weakest stomach. Every one of its health-giving, strength-building elements is taken up by the blood to nourish and sustain life. No wonder that Malta-Vita is called "The Perfect Food," and that physicians recommend it for the sick and the well, the weak and the strong.

And Malta-Vita is so good to eat—not at all like the tasteless variety of flaked foods. A perfect breakfast is impossible without it and it's just as good three times a day. Eat it with milk, cream or fruit. You never tasted anything so good.

Malta-Vita is always ready to eat. No cooking. All grocers, etc. etc.

his plot in the demoralizing attempt. Do not doubt it. We are chameleons and our partialities and prejudices change places with an easy and blessed facility, and we are soon used to the change and happy in it. We do not regret our old yellow fangs and snags and tushes after we have worn nice fresh uniform store teeth a while.

Long Words at Seven Cents.

"Do I seem to be seeking the good of the world? That is the idea. It is my public attitude; privately I am merely seeking my own profit. I will do it, but it is sound, and it is virtuous for no public interest is anything other or nobler than a massed accumulation of private interests."

"In 1883 when the simplified spelling movement first tried to make a noise, I was indifferent to it. More, I even irreverently scoffed at it. What I needed was an object lesson, and I got it."

Here the speaker related an anecdote of having once been required to write ten pages of copy for a magazine where words of not less than from ten to twenty letters were employed, at 7 cents a word, thereby suffering great pecuniary loss, and continued:

"From that day to this I have been a devoted and hard-working member of the heaven-born institution, the International Association for the Prevention of Cruelty to Authors, and now I am laboring with Carnegie's simplified committee, and with my heart in the work."

"Simplified spelling can convey any fact you need to convey, and it can pour out emotions like a sewer. I beg you, I beseech you, to adopt our spelling and print all your dispatches in it."

Speaks for Newcomers.

"I have reached a time of life, 70 years, where none of the concerns of this world have much interest in me personally. I think I can speak dispassionately upon this matter, because, in the little while that I have got to remain here, I can get along very well with these old-fashioned forms, and I don't propose to make any trouble about it at all; I shall soon be where they won't care how I spell as long as I keep the Sabbath."

"There are eighty-two millions of people that use this orthography, and it ought to be simplified in our behalf, but it is kept in its present condition to satisfy one million people who like to have their literature in the old form. That looks to me to be rather selfish, and we keep the forms as they are, while we have got a million people coming in here from foreign countries every month, and they have got to struggle with this orthography of ours, and it keeps them back and damages their citizenship for many years until they learn to spell the language, if they ever do learn."

"This is merely sentimental argument."

In conclusion Mark Twain said: "Now you see before you the wreck and ruin of what was once a young person like yourselves. I am exhausted by the heat of the day, I must take what is left of this wreck and ruin out of your presence, and carry it away to my home and spread it out there and sleep the sleep of the righteous. There is nothing much left of me but my age and my righteousness, but I leave with you my love and blessing, and may you always keep your youth."

"The truth is," replied Mr. Clemens, "the inspiration was due to a jug that someone carried in. That club is still running."

Mr. Clemens spoke in characteristic vein. He said in part:

"I am here to make an appeal to the nations in behalf of the simplified spelling. I have come here because they cannot all be reached except through you. There are only two forces that carry light to all the corners of the globe—the sun and the Associated Press. I may seem to be flattering the sun, but I do not mean it so. I am meaning only to be just and fair all around."

"You speak with a million voices no one can reach so many races—many hearts and intellects as you, except Rudyard Kipling, and he cannot do it without your help. If the Associated Press will accept and use our simplified forms and thus spread them to the ends of the earth, covering the whole spacious planet with them as with a garden of flowers, our difficulties are at an end."

"Every day of the 365 the only pages of the world's countless newspapers that are read by all the human beings and angels and devils that can read, are those pages that are sent out of Associated Press dispatches."

Begs, Beseeches, Implores.

"And so I beg you, I beseech you, oh, I implore you—to spell them in our simplified forms. Do this—daily, constantly, persistently for three months—only three months—it is all I ask. The inflexible result—victory, victory, all down the line."

"For, by that time all eyes here and above and below will have become adjusted to the change in love with it and the present clumsy and ragged forms will be grotesque to the eye and revolting to the soul. And we shall be rid of phthisis and phthisis and pneumonia and pneumonias and diphtheria and peradactyl, and all those other same words which no man addicted to the simple Christian life can try to spell and not lose some of the bloom of his plot in the demoralizing attempt. Do not doubt it. We are chameleons and our partialities and prejudices change places with an easy and blessed facility, and we are soon used to the change and happy in it. We do not regret our old yellow fangs and snags and tushes after we have worn nice fresh uniform store teeth a while.

Long Words at Seven Cents.

"Do I seem to be seeking the good of the world? That is the idea. It is my public attitude; privately I am merely seeking my own profit. I will do it, but it is sound, and it is virtuous for no public interest is anything other or nobler than a massed accumulation of private interests."

"In 1883 when the simplified spelling movement first tried to make a noise, I was indifferent to it. More, I even irreverently scoffed at it. What I needed was an object lesson, and I got it."

Here the speaker related an anecdote of having once been required to write ten pages of copy for a magazine where words of not less than from ten to twenty letters were employed, at 7 cents a word, thereby suffering great pecuniary loss, and continued:

"From that day to this I have been a devoted and hard-working member of the heaven-born institution, the International Association for the Prevention of Cruelty to Authors, and now I am laboring with Carnegie's simplified committee, and with my heart in the work."

"Simplified spelling can convey any fact you need to convey, and it can pour out emotions like a sewer. I beg you, I beseech you, to adopt our spelling and print all your dispatches in it."

"There are eighty-two millions of people that use this orthography, and it ought to be simplified in our behalf, but it is kept in its present condition to satisfy one million people who like to have their literature in the old form. That looks to me to be rather selfish, and we keep the forms as they are, while we have got a million people coming in here from foreign countries every month, and they have got to struggle with this orthography of ours, and it keeps them back and damages their citizenship for many years until they learn to spell the language, if they ever do learn."

"This is merely sentimental argument."

In conclusion Mark Twain said: "Now you see before you the wreck and ruin of what was once a young person like yourselves. I am exhausted by the heat of the day, I must take what is left of this wreck and ruin out of your presence, and carry it away to my home and spread it out there and sleep the sleep of the righteous. There is nothing much left of me but my age and my righteousness, but I leave with you my love and blessing, and may you always keep your youth."

"The truth is," replied Mr. Clemens, "the inspiration was due to a jug that someone carried in. That club is still running."

Mr. Clemens spoke in characteristic vein. He said in part:

"I am here to make an appeal to the nations in behalf of the simplified spelling. I have come here because they cannot all be reached except through you. There are only two forces that carry light to all the corners of the globe—the sun and the Associated Press. I may seem to be flattering the sun, but I do not mean it so. I am meaning only to be just and fair all around."

"You speak with a million voices no one can reach so many races—many hearts and intellects as you, except Rudyard Kipling, and he cannot do it without your help. If the Associated Press will accept and use our simplified forms and thus spread them to the ends of the earth, covering the whole spacious planet with them as with a garden of flowers, our difficulties are at an end."

"Every day of the 365 the only pages of the world's countless newspapers that are read by all the human beings and angels and devils that can read, are those pages that are sent out of Associated Press dispatches."

TWO TERRORISMS HARRASS RUSSIA

One Bureaucratic, the Other Revolutionary.

BRUTALITY BEYOND BELIEF

Repression by Courtmartial is a Failure—Revolutionary Spirit Unanimous.

London, Sept. 24.—The story of revolution, day by day, in Russia, is best told at the present stage by a series of incidents. Three peasants, charged with mutilating ikons in a church window were last week courtmartialled and sentenced to death for sacrilege and lese majeste and hanged the same day.

The Times continues its remarkable series of articles from the interior of Russia showing that there is an almost unanimous revolutionary spirit among the peasantry. The following excerpt gives a vivid idea of the latest revelations:

"Two terrorisms are at the present moment striving for mastery in Russia and it is the bureaucratic rather than the revolutionary which strikes uselessly and capriciously and stoops to mean victims. The authors of the Viborg manifesto are at liberty, but those who print and circulate manifestos fill the jails by thousands, and miserable Jews, students and hysterical women are the mean victims of the Government. Even when punishment falls where it is due, it is often administered in a manner that leads to general palliation of the crime, and even sometimes to apotheosis of the criminal."

Making Revolutionists.

"I spent a few days among a household of the younger members at least had been made revolutionaries by having their feelings wrought upon by the sight of men with 'wolf' passports, to which I referred in my last article. Some of these unfortunate 'wolves' often present themselves at a door begging bread. They cannot be given work or shelter for more than a night, and a breach of the law, and thus law-abiding Russian subjects are compelled to become participants in what they feel to be a crime against these men, however heinous their offenses may have been."

"I, myself, have seen another wolf since I last wrote. This one did not cry hands up, but he cried like a child as he showed his feet, which were sore with much travel, and complained that he must still move on. He had been sent to Perm, thence to Odessa, and was now tramping, under orders, to Kasaan, whence he may be sent to Vladivostok or anywhere else in the Russian Empire excepting always Nijni Novgorod, which is his home, where he had eaten the fruit of the forbidden tree of knowledge of political rights, and from which, paradoxically, he had been driven forth, his passport being a flaming sword forbidding him to return."

"It is said that M. Siplaguine, when minister of the interior, with perverse ingenuity, invented the wolf's passport and that it was for that crime that he was assassinated."

Brutality Beyond Belief.

"Or take the case of Marie Spiridonova. I have never heard of her before the other week when I was in the government of Tambov and there it is difficult to hear of anyone else. If the truth must be told, even I who have learned the wisdom of throwing many grains of salt upon popular tales and who am old-fashioned enough to place assassination from whatever motive in the category of cardinal sins, am strangely wrought upon by all that I hear of this girl who killed the vice-governor of Tambov."

"I am told that Abramoff, a Cossack officer, and Zhetdanoff, a police officer, insulted and tortured her in prison, stripped her naked and branded her body with lighted cigarettes, broke the joints of her fingers and gouged out one of her eyes, so that when her mother saw her in jail she failed to recognize who an old-fashioned enough to place assassination from whatever motive in the category of cardinal sins, am strangely wrought upon by all that I hear of this girl who killed the vice-governor of Tambov."

"I am told that Abramoff, a Cossack officer, and Zhetdanoff, a police officer, insulted and tortured her in prison, stripped her naked and branded her body with lighted cigarettes, broke the joints of her fingers and gouged out one of her eyes, so that when her mother saw her in jail she failed to recognize who an old-fashioned enough to place assassination from whatever motive in the category of cardinal sins, am strangely wrought upon by all that I hear of this girl who killed the vice-governor of Tambov."

"I am told that Abramoff, a Cossack officer, and Zhetdanoff, a police officer, insulted and tortured her in prison, stripped her naked and branded her body with lighted cigarettes, broke the joints of her fingers and gouged out one of her eyes, so that when her mother saw her in jail she failed to recognize who an old-fashioned enough to place assassination from whatever motive in the category of cardinal sins, am strangely wrought upon by all that I hear of this girl who killed the vice-governor of Tambov."

"I am told that Abramoff, a Cossack officer, and Zhetdanoff, a police officer, insulted and tortured her in prison, stripped her naked and branded her body with lighted cigarettes, broke the joints of her fingers and gouged out one of her eyes, so that when her mother saw her in jail she failed to recognize who an old-fashioned enough to place assassination from whatever motive in the category of cardinal sins, am strangely wrought upon by all that I hear of this girl who killed the vice-governor of Tambov."

"I am told that Abramoff, a Cossack officer, and Zhetdanoff, a police officer, insulted and tortured her in prison, stripped her naked and branded her body with lighted cigarettes, broke the joints of her fingers and gouged out one of her eyes, so that when her mother saw her in jail she failed to recognize who an old-fashioned enough to place assassination from whatever motive in the category of cardinal sins, am strangely wrought upon by all that I hear of this girl who killed the vice-governor of Tambov."

"I am told that Abramoff, a Cossack officer, and Zhetdanoff, a police officer, insulted and tortured her in prison, stripped her naked and branded her body with lighted cigarettes, broke the joints of her fingers and gouged out one of her eyes, so that when her mother saw her in jail she failed to recognize who an old-fashioned enough to place assassination from whatever motive in the category of cardinal sins, am strangely wrought upon by all that I hear of this girl who killed the vice-governor of Tambov."

"I am told that Abramoff, a Cossack officer, and Zhetdanoff, a police officer, insulted and tortured her in prison, stripped her naked and branded her body with lighted cigarettes, broke the joints of her fingers and gouged out one of her eyes, so that when her mother saw her in jail she failed to recognize who an old-fashioned enough to place assassination from whatever motive in the category of cardinal sins, am strangely wrought upon by all that I hear of this girl who killed the vice-governor of Tambov."

"I am told that Abramoff, a Cossack officer, and Zhetdanoff, a police officer, insulted and tortured her in prison, stripped her naked and branded her body with lighted cigarettes, broke the joints of her fingers and gouged out one of her eyes, so that when her mother saw her in jail she failed to recognize who an old-fashioned enough to place assassination from whatever motive in the category of cardinal sins, am strangely wrought upon by all that I hear of this girl who killed the vice-governor of Tambov."

"I am told that Abramoff, a Cossack officer, and Zhetdanoff, a police officer, insulted and tortured her in prison, stripped her naked and branded her body with lighted cigarettes, broke the joints of her fingers and gouged out one of her eyes, so that when her mother saw her in jail she failed to recognize who an old-fashioned enough to place assassination from whatever motive in the category of cardinal sins, am strangely wrought upon by all that I hear of this girl who killed the vice-governor of Tambov."

"I am told that Abramoff, a Cossack officer, and Zhetdanoff, a police officer, insulted and tortured her in prison, stripped her naked and branded her body with lighted cigarettes, broke the joints of her fingers and gouged out one of her eyes, so that when her mother saw her in jail she failed to recognize who an old-fashioned enough to place assassination from whatever motive in the category of cardinal sins, am strangely wrought upon by all that I hear of this girl who killed the vice-governor of Tambov."

"I am told that Abramoff, a Cossack officer, and Zhetdanoff, a police officer, insulted and tortured her in prison, stripped her naked and branded her body with lighted cigarettes, broke the joints of her fingers and gouged out one of her eyes, so that when her mother saw her in jail she failed to recognize who an old-fashioned enough to place assassination from whatever motive in the category of cardinal sins, am strangely wrought upon by all that I hear of this girl who killed the vice-governor of Tambov."

"I am told that Abramoff, a Cossack officer, and Zhetdanoff, a police officer, insulted and tortured her in prison, stripped her naked and branded her body with lighted cigarettes, broke the joints of her fingers and gouged out one of her eyes, so that when her mother saw her in jail she failed to recognize who an old-fashioned enough to place assassination from whatever motive in the category of cardinal sins, am strangely wrought upon by all that I hear of this girl who killed the vice-governor of Tambov."

"I am told that Abramoff, a Cossack officer, and Zhetdanoff, a police officer, insulted and tortured her in prison, stripped her naked and branded her body with lighted cigarettes, broke the joints of her fingers and gouged out one of her eyes, so that when her mother saw her in jail she failed to recognize who an old-fashioned enough to place assassination from whatever motive in the category of cardinal sins, am strangely wrought upon by all that I hear of this girl who killed the vice-governor of Tambov."

"I am told that Abramoff, a Cossack officer, and Zhetdanoff, a police officer, insulted and tortured her in prison, stripped her naked and branded her body with lighted cigarettes, broke the joints of her fingers and gouged out one of her eyes, so that when her mother saw her in jail she failed to recognize who an old-fashioned enough to place assassination from whatever motive in the category of cardinal sins, am strangely wrought upon by all that I hear of this girl who killed the vice-governor of Tambov."

"I am told that Abramoff, a Cossack officer, and Zhetdanoff, a police officer, insulted and tortured her in prison, stripped her naked and branded her body with lighted cigarettes, broke the joints of her fingers and gouged out one of her eyes, so that when her mother saw her in jail she failed to recognize who an old-fashioned enough to place assassination from whatever motive in the category of cardinal sins, am strangely wrought upon by all that I hear of this girl who killed the vice-governor of Tambov."

"I am told that Abramoff, a Cossack officer, and Zhetdanoff, a police officer, insulted and tortured her in prison, stripped her naked and branded her body with lighted cigarettes, broke the joints of her fingers and gouged out one of her eyes, so that when her mother saw her in jail she failed to recognize who an old-fashioned enough to place assassination from whatever motive in the category of cardinal sins, am strangely wrought upon by all that I hear of this girl who killed the vice-governor of Tambov."

Type-talk never does half justice to high-grade goods. The test of Seal Brand Coffee is in the cup.

ALL GROCERS

CHASE AND SANBORN

76

The Pandora Thermometer

The thermometer on the Pandora range oven means precisely in accuracy to the cook what the square and compass mean to the draftsman. Without the square and compass the draftsman would have to work entirely by guess, just as you do without an accurate and reliable thermometer on your oven.

The Pandora thermometer reduces cooking to an exact science. You know precisely how much heat you have and what it will do in a given time. It is one of the small things which makes the Pandora so much different and better than common ranges.

McClary's Pandora Range

Warehouses and Factories:
London, Toronto, Montreal,
Winnipeg, Vancouver,
St. John, N.B., Hamilton

J. R. BROWNLEE, 585 Talbot Street. J. C. PARKS, 663 Dundas Street.
WM. STEVELY & SON, 362 Richmond Street.

I Use Richards Pure Soap

BECAUSE

- It is a solid bar of pure, fresh, dirt-removing ingredients, containing not a single atom of harmful adulterants.
- When washing colored goods they will not run or fade.
- Woolens or flannels will not shrink, as no boiling or rubbing is necessary.
- Easy on the hands and clothes.
- No experimenting—in use for 40 years.

Write for our handsome illustrated catalogue of Premiums, given free for Richards Pure Soap wrappers.

FREE—Mail us five Richards Pure Soap wrappers and ten Richards Pure Soap advertisements on any paper, and we will send you a beautiful souvenir.

The RICHARDS PURE SOAP CO., Limited
WOODSTOCK, ONTARIO
CUT THIS AD. OUT—IT IS VALUABLE.

Please mention London Advertiser when answering this advertisement.

GOOD AS GOLD

95% to Policy-Holders.

The "London Life" was the first Insurance Company in Canada to guarantee 95% of the profits to policy-holders.

You can exchange your earnings for a "London Life" insurance policy in any quantity and know that you are getting value as "Good as Gold" for every dollar.

Investigate "London Life" Policies before taking any other.

London Life Insurance Company

DEMAND FOR NORTHWEST LAND, veying in the western provinces giving to the tremendous demands for land. There are 60 parties, mostly working in the new provinces.

Prepared, ready for use

COWAN'S CAKE ICINGS

CHOCOLATE, PEARL PINK, ORANGE, LEMON, WHITE, MAPLE AND COCOA-NUT CREAM.

The latter is entirely new and very much prized by ladies.

The Cowan Co., Limited, Toronto

Ocean Steamship Tickets

White Star Line—New York, Boston and Mediterranean services.

Atlantic Transport Line—New York-London.

De La Hooke, Sole Agent

American Line—New York and Philadelphia services.

Atlantic Transport Line—New York-London.

Dominion Line Royal Mail Steamers—Portland-Liverpool in winter; Montreal-Quebec-Liverpool in summer.

Red Star Line—New York-Dover-Antwerp.

Sailing lists, rate sheets etc., on application.

E. De La Hooke or W. Fulton,

LOCAL AGENTS.

A GUIDE FOR TRAVELERS

GRAND TRUNK RAILWAY.

(Corrected to date.)

MAIN LINE—SARNIA TUNNEL TO SUSPENSION BRIDGE AND TORONTO.

Arrive from the east—4 a.m., 10:45 a.m., 11 a.m., 11:20 a.m., 6:25 p.m., 7:41 p.m., 10 p.m.

Arrive from the west—12:15 a.m., 3:20 a.m., 11:20 a.m., 1:25 p.m., 4:10 p.m., 6:25 p.m.

Depart for the east—12:20 a.m., 3:25 a.m., 8:10 a.m., 11:20 a.m., 2:35 p.m., 4:25 p.m., 6:55 p.m. (Eastern Flyer.)

The trains leaving at 8:10 a.m. and 2:05 p.m. stop at all stations. The 8:10 a.m. local, and the 11:20 a.m. and 4:25 p.m. expresses have through coaches for Toronto. The Eastern Flyer at 6:55 p.m. stops only at Ingersoll, Woodstock, Brantford and Hamilton, and goes to Toronto and Montreal.

Depart for the west—4:15 a.m., 7:40 a.m., 11:10 a.m., 11:32 a.m., 1:55 p.m., 8:01 p.m.

The 7:40 a.m. and the 1:55 p.m. trains stop at all stations. The 4:15 a.m., 11:32 a.m., and 8:01 p.m. express run through to Chicago without change.

LONDON AND WINDSOR.

Arrive—10:40 a.m., 4 p.m., 6:50 p.m. (Eastern Flyer, stops only at Chatham and Glencoe), 11 p.m.

Depart—6:35 a.m., 11:25 a.m., 2:20 p.m., 7:54 p.m. (International Limited stops only at Glencoe and Chatham.)

STRATFORD BRANCH.

Arrive—10:40 a.m., 10:55 a.m., 1:25 p.m., 6:35 p.m., 10:55 p.m.

Depart—6:20 a.m., 10:45 a.m., 2:50 p.m., 5 p.m.

LONDON, HURON AND BRUCE.

Arrive—9:45 a.m., 6:10 p.m.

Depart—8:15 a.m., 4:50 p.m.

Trains marked thus * run daily. Those not so marked run daily except Sunday.

MICHIGAN CENTRAL RAILWAY.

Arrive—6:55 a.m., 11:10 a.m., 5:1